RUSHING THE SEASON?

The Ontario Food Council reports that the next few weeks will see Ontario home canners in good supply.

A welcome fore-runner of the garden-grown canners yet to come the hothead crop side canners, "cool" eating to March meals.

Silly thins they make appetizing sandwiches for lunch boxes and afternoon teas. Combined with sour cream dressing, flavoured to taste with chopped chives, they produce a salad that's "tops" in the family's books.

N.B. For the colour content, a serving of sliced cucumber prepared in vinegar, with pepper and salt, costs only about two calories.

AT ITS PEAK!

Delicious in flavour, juicy, tender, ruby red Ontario "forced" rhubarb is now in plentiful supply.

At peak production this fresh fruit offers many refreshing spin-like touches for the winter-in-spring period still ahead of us.

Rhubarb Custard Pie and two of our rhubarb pies are the rhubarb of the future which may be obtained from the Ontario Food Council, Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

Glove Stretching

If the fingers of gloves are too tight for comfort, insert a dough, cold cooking fat into each finger, opening this slightly to stretch the fingers, pulling the foot out slowly at the same time to avoid "fanning" the fingers of the gloves out of shape.

Discolored Aluminum

Discoloration on aluminum pans, caused by food or water containing iron, are easily removed by rubbing with steel wool and then rinsing and drying.

Fat Fire

A fat fire in a skillet or broiler can be extinguished by dumping baking soda right on the base of the blaze. The soda creates carbon dioxide gas, which smothers the fire.

Reader asks—Why worry?

Dear Sir,
All my life, it seems, I have harped on that old string of "why worry?" it never does any good.

Well someone has phrased much better than I. I thought it may be seen for good.

WHY WORRY?
You are either successful or you are not successful.

If you are successful you have nothing to worry about.

If you are not successful you have two things to worry about.

You are either in good health or you are ill.

If you are in good health you have nothing to worry about.

If you are ill, Glad Jeffries

The "Quiet Sreet" can be dangerous: stay alert warns Police Chief Hunter

The quiet residential street that lack control devices which is actually more dangerous to motorists must fight for right of way.

Blind corners, densely packed cars, children darting from between parked cars and narrow streets make driving more dangerous on quiet streets than on main ones. On high speed expressways many road high speed drivers have been engineered out of the streets.

Side streets paralleling busy ones are especially dangerous to the chief warned. Motorists use them to escape the congested main arteries and high accident rate may result. Sometimes said the Chief. "Drive slowly when children are present and watch out for children behind your car if you back up."

Always use a major street in preference to a side street. Although more crowded, they are designed for greater safety.

STOP!... killing yourself

HAVE YOUR EYESIGHT CHECKED NOW FOR YOUR OWN AND OTHERS' SAFETY

I consider myself a careful driver, yet through procrastination and carelessness, I nearly got into an accident while driving home after a hockey game the other night. My windshield was dirty and I made a left turn against a "no left turn" sign. I saw the motorcycle policemen stopped me and waved me back into the mainstream of traffic. I barely missed a head-on collision with a car speeding my way without its lights on. At the very next gas station I stopped to take on gas and have my windshield cleaned.

In considering the near-miss, I thought of the thousands of people who have more vision obstruction than simple windshield dirt. Something much more serious, yet they don't stop at the very next "eye specialist station" to get things cleaned up. Not having had their eyes inspected for many years, they drive (and walk and run and work with eyes whose vision is much low far, their windshields may be clear but their vision isn't clear. They may be suffering from uncorrected glaucoma (increased tension within the eyes) which is the forerunner of blindness; or from cataract (which is a clouding of the lens of the eye). These are the most common afflictions which disturb the clarity of the human windshield.

Therefore, I suggest that for your own safety and that of others, you make the resolution to have an eye check-up as soon as you can, especially if you are over 40. Consider me as a traffic officer in this instance, putting you on the right road.

Dear Mrs. Y.: I know of no medicine which will dissolve cataracts. Operation these days is always successful, but with few exceptions. Vision is restored after the removal of "eye specialist station" to get things cleaned up. Not having had their eyes inspected for many years, they drive (and walk and run and work with eyes whose vision is much

VACCINE FOR MEASLES Dear Mr. U.: Yes, it is true that measles is usually a self-limited disease without complications. But sometimes, and we can't foresee, when there may be serious disorders which follow in the brain, lungs, eyes and other part of the body.

At last, after many years of being helpless about it, we have a vaccine which is effective. Your doctor will decide whether to use a live virus vaccine for protection; an inactivated or "killed" virus vaccine, or a combination of both. Sometimes gamma globulin is given at the time of the live virus vaccine to countervail any severe reactions. Many physicians think that the combination type is best.

Don't underestimate the measles virus. It is true that most cases of measles cause no serious trouble. But why take chances with your child? Call your doctor for early immunization.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: How about the new operation for asthma? Mrs. P.

Mr. Moore preached a fine sermon on Faith at Dalrymple United Church on February 21st. The community was shocked to learn of the sudden death of Mr. Geo. Harris, who spent the summer months in Dalrymple for a great number of years. Mr. and Mrs. Harris took a full part in all church and community activities, and an interest in all the people with whom they came in contact. Mr. Harris will be remembered as a friendly Christian gentleman, and it is hoped that Mrs. Harris will continue to spend summers at the lake. Sincere sympathy is expressed to Mrs. Harris in her sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Day, Mrs. A. Gilbert and Mrs. E. Thompson spent a day in Toronto in order to attend Mr. Harris' funeral and express the community sympathy. Mr. E. Leveck and Mr. C. Townes also drove to Toronto to express sympathy to Mrs. Harris.

Mrs. J. McLaughlin and Mrs. J. McLaughlin were hosts to a group on Wednesday when a Pot Luck Supper was held at their home. The ladies quilted in the afternoon. Proceeds of the affair were gratifying and are to be used for the Swin Programme.

OFF-THE-CUFF INFORMATION

Mr. J. is the last analysis a consultation is primarily for the benefit of the patient and his family. The doctor's feelings in the matter take second place to the welfare of his patient. Therefore, I don't understand your hesitation in asking your doctor for a consultation to come in and see your husband.

You say you are afraid you hurt his feelings? Then by all means make him feel that you are afraid. Any physician who refuses consultation (because he thinks he knows it all, or because he feels insulted in your lack of confidence) is suspect. It's all the more reason why you need a consultation.

I think most physicians, who deserve the name, are willing to make it easy for the patient and his family to have another medical opinion. They know that with few exceptions, it isn't because of lack of confidence, but because the anxious family members want to see what they've done everything possible.

Pick up the phone, tell your doctor you'd like a consultation.

tion (not as a command but as a request) and its dollars to doughnuts will sweeten your cur.

Mr. L.: It's true that there are ulcer-givers as well as ulcer-getters. Nevertheless, it's easy for the ulcer patient to be blaming someone else for his ulcer. Your boss may be the devil you say he is, but how about yourself? Are you making any contributions to creating the lining of your stomach?

The important thing is to develop some kind of practical philosophy which enables us to cope with disagreeable persons—whether at work or in our social life.

Otherwise word will fly if isn't your boss who's giving you the pains, it will be someone else. Ulcer patients will be better off if they stop blaming the ulcer-givers and take an impartial estimate of themselves. I know I'm being blunt, but as the father said when he took his boy out to the woods: "I'm whipping you for your own good."

THYROID COMPLICATIONS
Mr. J.: I'm all for the consideration of "dermatohar-planing of the skin) for deep scars by acne if you engage an expert dermatologist or plastic surgeon. Making the decision to do the job is as important as the ability to do it.

Mr. O.: Yes, I think most husbands are unappreciative of their wives' attempts to keep them healthy and alive. All that many wives get for their interest is the name "nagger."

Mr. H.: A person can live without a spleen. This organ is often the seat of trouble with the blood cells. Splenectomy (its removal by operation) is often a life-saving measure.

To know a good thing on rock it in a hurry, forget the rock and the thing.

Nestleton

Tommy Lawrence was unfortunate in his while playing hockey at Fort Perry. He required stitches above his eye, but was able to return to High School at Fort Perry on Monday.

Mrs. George Bowers had a woman's dress hanging at her home this past week. Mr. Bruce Heaslip was able to return home from Fort Perry Hospital on Sunday. Others confined to hospital are progressing steadily. Mrs. Herman Simola, Mrs. Wesley Campbell and Mrs. George Heaslip.

Friends will be sorry to learn that Howard Lee suffered an accident to his hand at work at General Motors. Several fingers from his left hand had to be removed by operation. Elmer Nestbit, also in Oshawa Hospital is not so well.

Mrs. Jessie Dick, long time resident of Nestleton passed away in Oshawa General Hospital on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fudge now live in the Dickey house. Mrs. Dickey has spent the past several years in a Bowmanville nursing home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Oliver and Mr. Robert Halloran, Toronto, were Sunday callers with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Heaslip.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Rohrer and family spent the weekend at Mitchell with their parents and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lyons and Lori of Exeter, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rodman, Karen and Wilson of Little Britain were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wilson. It was the occasion of Karen's third birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Williams and family and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Falls and family Bowmanville spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Williams. Mrs. Nelson Marlow was a guest for Doris Marlow. She is coming to Hollywood as designated costumes for Judy Garland, Shirley Maclaine, Dinah Shore, Leslie Caron, Jane Paule and scores of others.

Mrs. Day, however, remains one of his favorites. She is the subject of the well-dressed American woman looks like.

"When I design her wardrobe I work very closely with her ideas. Nobody knows her better than she does what is best of her. Most women have an idealistic image of what they look like, and more often than they are wrong."

Aghavan devoted two months to turning out the wardrobe, one of the most expensive ever prepared for a single star in a two-hour picture. Some of the outfits will be seen for 20 seconds or less, just long enough to let the audience know there has been a change of time and scene.

"The average number of changes for a feminine star in a picture is nine," Aghavan said. "But Doris looks exceptionally well in her clothes and audiences expect to see her well dressed."

Aghavan is a darkly intense man, small in stature, and a native of Tehran, Iran. He gained fame as a clothes designer at the age of 15 by making outfits for Queen Fawzi. Since coming to Hollywood he has designed costumes for Judy Garland, Shirley Maclaine, Dinah Shore, Leslie Caron, Jane Paule and scores of others.

HOLLYWOOD (By United Press International)

Hollywood (UPI) — The wardrobe designed for Doris Day's new picture is so superb that the clothes are starting in a move of their own.

Twentieth Century-Fox is so pleased with the glitz that wardrobe whippersnapper by designer Fay Athavan that a short subject is being filmed as a promotion for the picture, "Do Not Disturb."

Mrs. Day's wardrobe, all 58 changes, cost a tidy $100,000 which is more than most women pay for clothes in a lifetime.

And best of all from Doris' point of view, she gets to keep them.

HEADACHE PERSISTENT?

SEE YOUR DOCTOR. A man with a splitting headache isn't interested in statistics. Yet, in his quieter, pain-free moments, it might be a good idea for him to be aware of certain significant facts about this common complaint. If you are the victim of only a few headaches a year, easily relieved by aspirin or some thing similar, you can drop this and turn to the comics. However, if you have suffered from frequently recurring headaches for months or years, the few facts you find here may be of some value to you.

For example, I know that as a headache sufferer you have lots of company. As many millions get headaches as catch colds. The trick is to do something about them as aspirin is only a palliative. Remember that headache is not a disease; it is a symptom. And as I have often noted here, symptoms are for your M.D. (medical detective) to track down, and not to anxiously bungle yourself.

You visit your doctor. You say, "I have been having these headaches on both sides, with or without comes the job of running down the cause and the diagnosis. What kind of headache is it? Perhaps the most common tension headaches? Or next in line, migraine?

In the first instance, the headaches are mainly caused by the tensions of modern living and stress. The muscles of the neck, for example, tighten up so hard that soon the pain impulse is transferred into the head itself.

Migraine? Still a misdiagnosis almost in which pain is caused by temporary widening of the blood vessels inside the skull. In some cases the tendency is hereditary. The exact cause is unknown. Drugs like ergotamine tartrate help about the attacks.

During the past few years a new drug called metylergoline has helped to prevent attacks.

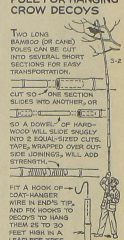

LEAVE DIAGNOSIS TO PHYSICIAN

Some readers tell me they have made their own diagnosis. They can tell it's migraine because the pain is only on one side, they say. This is not always true. Migraine may be bilateral on both sides, with or without eye symptoms, and no nausea or vomiting. Sometimes there is dizziness, excessive sweating, abdominal pain, changes in mood, chills. Leave the diagnosis to your family physician. And the treatment too. If your headache is due to tension, he will try to give you a diagram for a new way of life, which will decrease your daily stresses. It takes more than aspirin and tranquilizers to manage tension headaches. Also remember that migraine and tension are not the only causes of headache. Occasionally eye strain & sinus trouble are the cause (but not commonly). Headache is no more common in high blood pressure patients than others. Therefore, if you get a headache, don't say "I guess my blood pressure must have climbed. Too much smoking and drinking often leave one with the headache lingering. Forgetting about statistics, remember that chances are your headaches are either due to tension or migraine. However, keep remembering they deserve study if they recur, to make sure they are not due to one of scores of other ailments

By Peter J. Steinerich, M.D., F.A.C.P.

THAT BODISIE MANNER SHOWS 'EMPATHY FOR THE PATIENT'

A colleague and I were having a discussion. He thought that bedside manner was outdated. But there is more. Call it bedside manner or what you will. It is the art of medicine. And it should never be allowed to wither and die. When the art of medicine falls too far behind its sister, science, it will be time for the robots I've mentioned to take over.

All good bedside manner means is that the doctor is kind, sympathetic, optimistic, tactful, unobtrusive and understanding. You can sum it all up with "empathy for his patient."

ULCER TREATMENT

Dear Dr. Steinerich: If your doctor just told you that your indigestion is due to an ulcer, which would you choose to be operated on, or be willing to undergo a long, protracted medical treatment for the condition?—Mr. H.

Comment: I know how you feel. You wish Dr. Steinerich with what your doctor's probably told you: give medical management a good try.

one drug. Has the colchicine terminated your gouty attacks quickly? Have you been taking it between attacks to prevent subsequent ones from recurring often?

There are drugs to take during the attack and between attacks. Sometimes colchicine alone will do the job, often other medicines are necessary to reinforce its action.

"THE POST" LINDSAY, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, MARCH 5TH, 1966

WOMAN'S VIEW

By Gay Pauley

New York (UPI) — The Frig is a rude dance step which represents a "great symptom of our time-unhappiness". Agnes de Mille speaking Miss de Mille is the dancer turned choreographer whose sequences for the great 1940's show, "Oklahoma," set a whole new pattern of dance in the Broadway musical stage.

She used equally harsh words on the watusi, the wob, the waltz, the modern ballroom or discotheque dance steps in which if the partner could not follow the other's a sheer accident. "The Frug won't last," said Miss de Mille. "It's uninvolved, a fragmented thing. Fragmented because partners don't dance to each other. The individual is on his own. Alone, alone, alone."

Miss de Mille recalled that when she was a girl, "I went to dancing school and there were cotillions. My son (Jonathan, 19) hasn't been to one since."

"I think it is a wonderful thing for a boy to be able to dance and put his arms around a girl. Better on the dance floor than in the back seat of the car."

Consider the beauty of the waltz alongside the unwhimsical frug, she said. Or look at American folk dancing. It teaches people courtesy. They are gallant and charming, as partners are changed and at the end writing the autobiographical books, "Dance to top executive with Impresario the Piper" and "Promenade" Sol. S. Huron.

Currently, she's at the world's largest show, she said, but only if she can direct it as well.

In private life, Miss de Mille is as choreographer, a wish which is the wife of Walter Prude, a poses a problem.

For as she said, "I never had any trouble being a woman in the theatre as a choreographer, only a director. When it comes to directing, you're in the big time of money and politics."

Why go to Church? topic of UCW meet

Zion Pentecost (PNS) — Zion U.C.W. met at the home of Mrs. Wilbert Worsley for the February meeting. Twelve members and one visitor were present. The meeting was called to order by the President with a call to worship. A hymn was sung and prayer was offered followed by the Lord's Prayer.

The topic was taken from The Observer on "Why go to Church?" The Scripture text was read by Mrs. Worsley from Psalm No. 4. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. McNab in the absence of the secretary. Correspondence contained several "thankyou" cards from members and friends for cheer sent them by the Association. Roll Call was answered with a verse on love.

Plans were laid for the annual 17th of March Supper when it is hoped that the weather will cooperate. Members were asked to bring an article for the sale. They were also asked to save their old nyons for the sale.

A card was signed by all present, to be sent to a sick member.

The Study Book chapter from the "Word and Way" was given by Mrs. R. Wessell.

The programme consisted of contests both written and oral. Mrs. McNab won the written contest on animals.

The meeting closed with a verse, a hymn and the benediction. Table grace was sung and lunch was served.

Winners must work at next euchre

Valencia (PNS) — A Euchre Party was held at the school house with a fair attendance, although the weather was not very favourable and the crowd was not too large.

The score cards were sold and each lady and gent found their partners for the first round as held on the card, there being five tables. After they had enjoyed several rounds the cards were collected up to secure the prize winners.

The women prepared lunch and a friendly time was spent by all as they partook of the lunch served.

The following winners were: Women's high card was played by David Swain and a pyrex cake dish was donated as first prize. The men's high card was held by Mr. Dennis Williamson and was awarded a pair of men's gloves. Mrs. Jack Hood and Mr. Clifford Mark were presented with the Consolation Prize a lovely box of Baskin note paper to Mrs. Hood and a screw driver to Clifford Mark.

It was decided that the winners each night would be responsible for the next euchre. Mrs. Clifford Mark, Mrs. Art Hicks, Mrs. Ross Swain and David Swain were in charge of the evening, after washing up the dishes and placing things back to order, those present left for home enjoying the evening together.

Friends give gifts to moving couple

Glenora (PNS) — Mr. and Mrs. Fred Webster were pleased and surprised with a party when they were invited to the home of former neighbours Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nesbitt to spend the evening since moving to Lindsay. They were surprised when some thirty friends arrived, a short time later.

Tables were set up and some ten games of Euchre were enjoyed and after the cards were tallied up it was found that the honored guest, Mrs. Webster held the high score for the ladies and Will Nesbitt high for the men while Mrs. May Wilson of Toronto got the consolation for the ladies and Bryce Kelly for the men.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster were invited to occupy chairs in the living room and Win. Hoyle mentioned the loss in the community of their removal, but not too far distant, but that they could return often and the best wishes extended to them in their new home in Lindsay after which the presentation of a full length mirror, tray of water glasses, and a clothes hamper by Mrs. M. M. Murchison, Dan Riley and Joe E. Nesbitt was presented to them.

They both extended their sincere thanks for the gifts and would always remember their Glenora friends and invited all to visit them whenever convenient, also those who were responsible for the presentation.

Happy also to be present were son and wife Mr. and Mrs. Greenville Webster and father Mr. John Webster of Lindsay who arrived with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nesbitt of Lindsay.

Lunch was served and a social time enjoyed which brought the evening to its close.

HOLLYWOOD

(By United Press International)

Hollywood (UPI) — "Stagecoach," the classic 1937 western that made a star of John Wayne, will be remade as a movie with some of the most controversial casting in Hollywood history.

Marty Racin, former Paramount production chief, will produce the new version for his own Martin Racin production.

But get this: Bing Crosby will play the bearded doctor in the picture, the role that was the late Thomas Mitchell an Oscar for best supporting actor.

Crosby may appear without his toupee for the first time in his career.

And are you ready for this: Ann-Margret will play the wagon prostitute that established Claire Trevor as a top actress.

Here's another: Robert Cummings, the television comedian, will portray the crooked banker. Van Heflin has landed the old George Bancroft part of Sheriff Curley.

The starring role, that of the Ringo Kid, has not been cast. But Racin will go a long way before he tops John Wayne as close friend in the part of the avenging westerner.

"People ask me why I'm attempting to make a picture that once stirred a cast of giants," Racin said. "They forget that Wayne and Trevor were nobodies back in 1937. The biggest star in the cast was Bancroft and he was the highest paid."

"Wayne's contract called for only $300 a week and a four-week guarantee. And Claire had only appeared in 'B' pictures."

"Of course John Ford's direction was wonderful. He won an Oscar for it. So I'm not going to try to top Ford's location shots in Monument Valley. Ford's back yard. Here's a master at shooting pictures: there is, I heard, will shoot up in Montana and Wyoming, giving the picture a green, mountain trail to follow instead of the desert."

"We'll leave the great parts in the story, and we'll try to improve on some of the things we feel could use improvement. There are more technical possibilities today, and we'll be spending five times as much money. Then, of course, there's color which should improve any outdoor action picture."

Gordon Douglas will direct "Stagecoach" 1965, with 20th Century-Fox releasing the film that was originally made for United Artists.

Producer Racin spent a sizeable fortune buying world rights to the property which were sold separately in each country.

"The story, however, is essentially the same. It's 'grand hotel' on a stagecoach, or 'The Maupassant's Ball of Fat.' It's about the microcosm of a group of people confined in a small area and how they resolve their lives."

Racin concluded that he's not afraid of comparison with the original "Stagecoach". Racin concluded that he's not afraid of comparison with the original "Stagecoach". Racin concluded that he's not afraid of comparison with the original "Stagecoach".

The great cathedral of Norwich rises victoriously over the town when seen from the opposite bank of the river Wensum. Storms, fires, and floods devastated the cathedral throughout its long history, involving repeated reconstruction in various styles. Today it represents many aspects of medieval building styles. Seen from afar, the spire and flying buttresses are most impressive. —British Travel Association photo.

News releases

We had some words to say last week about the manner in which some people attempt to manipulate news releases to suit their own ends or to favour certain media. An attempt by a weekly newspaper to have a press release of the Academy Theatre Foundation withheld to give them the edge over their competitors, backfired when reporters at "The Post" unearthed the story and published it Tuesday.

The story wasn't of great consequence but a principle is at stake. Because of the manner in which the Academy Theatre Foundation was created, to save the theatre for the town, this newspaper, the local radio station and even out of town newspapers have done their utmost to publicize the activities of the theatre. News stories and pictures have been printed that would have possibly been considered paid advertising if the theatre was being run by a private concern.

We wanted to be fair and we are glad we did. With news, pictures and a company contribution. This is why we are sorry to see Academy Theatre Foundation publicity director Richard Gorvill playing favourites with releases, however unimportant.

The Academy Theatre Foundation needed the goodwill of the press and radio if it is to be a continued success. We are happy to help, but we like to be treated fairly.

Singer's
Sing is blessed with a good memory. Luckily I've got one. I visualise page by page of a score of sheet music. I can even see my own pencil lines along the side of my music. When I'm learning something new I always try to picture the actual note as well as the word. —Australian soprano Joan Hammond.

Judgement
Forbear to judge, for we are sinners all —Shakespeare.

FATHER REMEMBERS WHEN

This Day 25 Years Ago

MARCH 10, 1940
Nationals held Minden meet
The first political meeting during this campaign to be held in Minden was in the town hall last night and was in the interests of C.D.H. MacAlpine, the National Government candidate.

Mr. George Dyson acted as chairman and called on the first speaker, who was Mr. Stan Pitts of Barrie, formerly of Lindsay. Mr. Pitts stated that in the last election he supported Mr. McEwen, but now he felt that he should urge National Government. He spoke of dissolving parliament and also mentioned the building being done at Camp Borden where he claimed money was being wasted.

Alderman Speaks
Mr. Lorne Jordan of Lindsay, who summers at Mountain Lake, was the next speaker. He said, in part that Mr. King was afraid to have figures given, and that he should have been prepared for war. He mentioned Dr. Manion as winning distinction in the last Great War. He closed by saying, "A vote for Manion is a vote for National Government."

New rink
CAVAN—The first hockey game of the season was held on the new Cavan rink last night when the Cavan hockey team played Fairmount. The Fairmount boys put up a good game but were minus a few of their good players, the Cavan boys having too much power and weight. The score was 4 to 1 with the Cavan boys coasting in the last period.

Crushed by cars
Norman Miller of Essex, was taken to the Rose Memorial Hospital Sunday morning, suffering from injuries caused when he was crushed between two cars.

7-3 win at Bradford Arena gives Merchants series lead

Lindsay Merchants dumped the homeless Aurora Tigers 7-3 in a Bradford last night. The Merchants won the seventh goal final series. Coach Gus Bodnar had the boys roll over the Tigers last night, as they took advantage of two Aurora penalties for two of their seven goals, and scored twice in the first period.

George Babcock purred the Merchants with three unassisted goals, every one a picture goal. Babcock opened the scoring at 12:25 of the first period and added two in the second period when Lindsay was four to one.

Doug Broad was robbed of forty-nine minutes of shut hockey by a hole in the net permitting the first Aurora goal at 8:35 of the first period as he rose with the rest of the Merchants to meet the best goals of the season. Len Bray was given credit for the goal, which was scored in the net which was allowed by the referees despite the fact they called out a rink attack right twice to repair holes in that end of the net before continuing play.

SCHOOL SPIRIT WEEK

Last week was School Spirit Week at LCVI. The Student Council planned the special week because they felt that school spirit at LCVI left a great deal to be desired. They felt that in order to have a good fundraising campaign, school spirit would have to be at its best. These are some of the reasons the School Spirit Week was planned.

Monday of course was the Peller Repelle Day. Each girl was given a badge in the morning and in order to keep it she was not to speak to a boy all day. Now this proved too much of a chore for most of LCVI's female population but a few did manage to resist the temptation of speaking to a boy. Some of the fellows, by the way, mentioned that Monday was a very dull day. They suggested that the weather must have affected the girls because they just weren't talking. The boy who collected the most badges was David Strain while the lucky girl was Isabel Parliament.

Tuesday featured the assembly for giving the sale of "CIDER HOP" the chocolate bars. Mr. Findlay of Pet Milk Company told the girls that the school had managed to make up approximately $2,000 and for the purpose of them is to advertise the LCVI campaign should not make $2,000. The prizes for the high sellers were then displayed and the conditions for the campaign were laid out. That day at 1:30 p.m. the chocolate bars were distributed to the students.

Wednesday was Colour Day at LCVI. Each student was required to wear the LCVI colours for school. A prize was to be awarded for the student who fulfilled this best in his selection of clothing. We had some very sharp comments. Colin Campbell was awarded the prize for the best-dressed student at LCVI.

Thursday at 3:30 saw the big slave auction in the cafeteria. Bidding was slow at first but as time went on it increased. The idea was to buy a slave and have her do whatever you desired on Friday, as long as it was in reason. Friday was Slave Day. It cost only 10 cents to have your girls polished, and some people were making quite a business as a few of the female slaves made the shoes glister. Usually one sees the boy laid down with books and the girl walking slowly beside him but on Friday it was different. The girls were showered with candy and everywhere someone was complaining of aching shoulders and arms. One couldn't feel feeling sorry for the unfortunate girls.

Everything taken into consideration, last week at LCVI was really great. School Spirit seemed to have improved and nearly everyone was willing to sell the chocolate bars. Congratulations to the Student Council for sponsoring and supervising last week's activities.

ASSEMBLY

On Tuesday, March 9, there was a special assembly for the senior students of LCVI. The topic of the assembly was the disease TB and vaccination against it. Mr. Staples introduced Dr. Armp who enlightened the student body on the subject. He stated that they hope to vaccinate every student in grades 11, 12 and 14 this year with BCG (Bacille Calmette-Guérin) in order to build up a resistance to tuberculosis. Questions were asked by the students at the conclusion of the assembly.

Every student who received a form is requested to hand it in to his form-room teacher on or before Friday.

Everyone has been asking what the green signs posted on the walls are. Well, actually, they are green nothings. The purpose of them is to advertise the "Cider Hop" being sponsored by the Drama Club of LCVI. The idea is a little green fellow, a leprechaun, is going to put a little information on these signs in the dead of night so no one will be able to catch him and steal his coppers. But on Friday, March 10 everyone in attendance will have a chance to win the coppers. Whoever guesses the correct weight of the little fellow will win the leprechaun's weight in coppers.

It is to be a ladies' choice dance so girls get yourself a date real early or you won't be disappointed by not seeing the little fellow dressed in green. The prizes are 75 cents a couple and 50 cents a girl. A shirt and tie are compulsory for the boys.

Perhaps you're wondering why the dance is being called the "Cider Hop". The Drama Club has come up with a novel idea of selling cider instead of soft-drinks.

The LCVI Drama Society plan to use the money they made to finance a trip to the O'Keefe Centre in Toronto. This they believe will prove very interesting to them all. Support your Drama Club girls and ask your favourite guy to the "Cider Hop".

Children's Aid deficit covered by county grant

Victoria County Council standing committee on finance voted in favour of concurring with the board of directors' recommendation for a $5,000 grant to the Children's Aid Society to clear up the 1964 deficit of the society.

Clerk Frank Weldon told the members the deficit did not amount to the full amount of the grant.

The grant was recommended by the finance committee after meeting with the Children's Aid director Alan Blewett and the society treasurer C.E. Ferguson.

Should chairman vote—council couldn't agree

Reeve John Campbell of Woodville, has contended for some time past in county council that the chairman of the committee should always vote, the same as other members.

Reeve J. Murray of Bobcaygeon, chairman of finance, who was in the chair at Wednesday morning's session contended that neither he nor any chairman had a vote unless the committee became deadlocked.

Clerk Frank Weldon said that in the case of a tie vote it is generally considered that the chairman should have the vote negative to break the vote.

Deputy Reeve Barney Rogers of Ope Township said the chairman should vote, and should not have to vote in the negative, a contention which was supported by Reeve Roy Morrison of Markham.

Councillor Rogers further contended that the chairman had just as much right to be put "on the spot" as any councillor.

It was suggested that Clerk Frank Weldon should provide the council with the solution by bringing in an authority on the point to be found in books on the rules of procedure.

The controversy arose when a vote took place to increase Assessor Hall's salary with Lindsay casting four votes, the count running 14 for and 12 against the motion with chairman Reeve Murphy abstaining from voting.

Academy Women's Guild to discuss Sullivan telegram

Members of the Academy Women's Guild and officials of the Academy Theatre Foundation will meet tonight at 7:30 p.m. to discuss their reply to Ed Sullivan's agents over "Amor, Our Sovereign" last week to be presented at the Academy March 20th.

As reported in "The Post" on Tuesday Ed Sullivan's agent H.B. Cranston sent a telegram to show director Gloria Barlett saying he was interested in the show and asked for details concerning airport facilities and conducting airport facilities.

In addition the Billy O'Connell Talent Agency in Toronto is expected to send talent scouts to the show.

Mrs. Barlett said today that she had been deluged by phone calls from local and out-of-town residents wanting to take part in the show. She said many also asked whether the scouts would hold auditions at the theatre.

Mrs. Barlett said tickets available in all smoke shops are now moving rapidly.

Outcome of proposed new Tri-County jail depends on Durham-Northumberland counties

The standing committee on County Property was brought today to date by the Area Jail situation by clerk Frank Weldon said at the Tuesday afternoon session.

Clerk-treasurer Frank Weldon said he had been appointed to prepare a report on the Area Jail Committee consisting of three members each from Victoria County and Haliburton County and three members each from the City of Durham and Northumberland Counties and Haliburton Counties.

The present outcome of a proposed Tri-County area jail now depends on the decision of the Durham-Northumberland counties the meeting yesterday was told. Should the southern counties decide not to join the county and city of Peterborough, and the

Clerk Weldon reports on Private Bill

Victoria County Clerk Frank Weldon told county council members, meeting in common session of the whole in finance, Tuesday, the private bill sponsored by the Town of Lindsay asking for increased votes for Lindsay representatives was amended to read in meetings of council and committee of the whole.

He said the bill was turned down almost unanimously when Municipal Affairs Committee Sponsor told the combined delegation that the representation situation had been under study for six or seven months.

He said the commission indicated attempts were made to segregate the counties as a geographical, agricultural, urban, and rural, and adding that an amendment to the act should be made so it would apply to all counties, not just those by private bill.

Mrs. Weldon stated the aim was to close the rural area in closer relation to the responsibility which counties have in providing services and enable the portable to be left in the office for use when needed.

Mrs. Lightbody said this would lower the cost of batteries for the portable set and said trucks would not have to be kept running to keep the set in operation.

ADMINISTRATOR SPEAKS ON COUNTY WELFARE SYSTEM

Members of Victoria County were addressed Wednesday evening by Mr. J. Pearce, welfare administrator for Lindsay, who appeared on the subject of the 1967 World Ice Hockey Championships.

The Australians received 35 votes on a second ballot of international Federation of ice hockey against Canada's 20.

In the first ballot, Austria got 21 votes, Canada 19 and Switzerland 15.

The Swiss, who wanted to stage the tournament at Innsbruck and Geneva, were eliminated and the second ballot took place.

Gordon Juckes, Secretary-Manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said "the Russian and the Swedish bids, which were not a lot of votes among the Canadian counties, beat out the Czechs vote for 20 to 15."

Mr. Pearce pointed out that in Wentworth County the number of welfare recipients had increased and more applicants for welfare had been given employment.

He also said Ontario County was not interested in the adoption of the county health unit plan.

He said that the meeting, held last night, would have been held in the county health unit plan.

He said that the meeting, held last night, would have been held in the county health unit plan.

"The commission's cash position has continued to deteriorate, and it is quite apparent that the county must be financed by debenture issues," Lindsay Hydro manager, Jack Lightbody told hydro commission members at their Tuesday evening meeting.

A revision of the method of costing power is under review by the Ontario Hydro Commission, he said, although the cost of power is a beneficial factor for Lindsay, he added he was hesitant to estimate the benefits to be derived.

The manager, quoting from the 1964 annual report, indicated that out of a total revenue of $607,810.70, operating expense and plant depreciation amounted to $22,005.06, or a 3.6% return.

Hydro approve purchase of new radio set

The cost of a new radio to be installed in one of the hydro trucks will be $825, Lindsay Hydro Manager Jack Lightbody told board members on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Lightbody said the radio would replace a portable one in production and enable the portable to be left in the office for use when needed.

Mrs. Lightbody said this would lower the cost of batteries for the portable set and said trucks would not have to be kept running to keep the set in operation.

40 SCOUTS ATTEND WEEKEND CAMP

The skills of about 40 Boyover were told a space-craft was down in the woods and were sent out with three sealed envelopes, containing instructions for the exercise.

In the first stage they were given the directions they should travel by compass bearing and the time the second envelope should be opened.

The second set of instructions told them to build a fire and using a survival kit, make tea for the observer. The scouts carried no equipment except for their survival kits which contained two tea-bags and two lumps of sugar wrapped in aluminum foil. They were to mould the foil into the shape of a cup and make the tea using snow for water.

In the third stage they were to identify a stranger at the south edge of the woods who could be an occupant of the space-craft.

By this time most of the younger scouts were thoroughly soaked — some of the older ones were too — so they returned to camp to dry out and eat. Many of the scouts, and leaders, seemed exhausted by the time the camp was bedded down by 9:30 p.m. in theory at least, but two leaders quickly dressed and rushed from their tent at 11 p.m. after the quart's er-master's tent went crashing to the ground. The leaders' it was found that there were seven boys in camp whose name was Bob.

Routine starts

Columns of blue smoke began to rise from the campfires about 11 a.m. Saturday as the scouts began preparing their noon meal. The lunch, mostly stew, was a welcome sight after tracking through the bush and deep snow.

The leaders, who had been running around organizing the camp and distributing food to the patrols quickly devoured a pot of stew accompanied by the big thick slices of homemade bread, liberally covered with butter, which was followed by coffee and desert. The reason the bread was liberally covered with butter was because of the low temperatures the butter would not spread, so it was put on in hard chunks. The homemade bread was given to the camp by Mrs. Thomas Curtin of Lindsay.

Survival exercise

Later in the afternoon a patrol leader, John Vallanovort of the 2nd Lindsay troop was slowed up in his search for a downed space-craft after he crashed through the ice in the creek into about four feet of water. The mishap occurred during the wide game which followed lunch.

The patrols, each with an ob-

Films on Crippled
shown to W.I.

Blackstock (PNS) — There were twenty four women in attendance at the March meeting of Blackstock W.I. Wednesday night.

The meeting opened with singing the Ode and the Mary Stewart "Coldest" song by Mrs. W. Archer, following the reading of the minutes. It was decided not to send a message to the officers conference at Guelph. There was discussion and plans for the "copper tooling" course, also more suggestions for the congenial project. The W.I. directors will be the nominating committee.

Mr. G. Hughes and Mr. Thibierge, Bowmanville, representing the interest of the crippled children showed good films of the crippled children camps in Ontario. Society depends on funds from the Eastern. Seal letters to provide summer camps for these children. Group leader Mrs. W. Van Camp called on Mrs. Roy Taylor to reply to the motto "The more you use your talents, the more talents you have". Roy called was answered by displaying something green in honour of St. Patrick. Mrs. Archer read an account of an honourary anniversary in 1947 celebrating 50 years since the organizing of the first W.I. at Stony Creek.

After the "Queen" lunch was served by group in charge.

Spring blooms

Spring appears to be well on the way "down south" in Janesville, according to a report received by "The Post" Monday.

Mrs. William Sanderson, of Janesville, called Monday to report crocuses in bloom for over a week in their flower bed on the east side of the house. Mrs. Sanderson said her husband planted numerous bulbs last fall; many of which have sprouted, but the crocuses were blooming wonderfully. Can spring be far behind, we wonder?

Quibell-Anthony Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Quibell

Yellow and white mums decorated The Church of the Immaculate Conception in Peterborough on February 20, 1968 when Joan Mary Anthony of Peterborough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melville W. Anthony was united in marriage to Thomas Ivan Quibell of Lindsay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Quibell of Lindsay.

The clergyman officiating at the ceremony was Rev. W. C. McCarney and the soloist was Anthony De Noble of Peterborough. He sang "On This Day" and "Ave Marie" accompanied by Mrs. Agnes O'Donnell of Peterborough. Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor length gown of gardenia white silk tulle with appliques of alencon lace forming the scoop neckline and the bodice detailed with lace motifs. The sleeves were elbow length and the bouffant skirt fell into a chapel train that was trimmed with small self bows. Her headress was a wreath of orange blossoms and held a waist length veil of tulle illusion. Her flowers were a cascade of red roses.

The maid of honour was Miss Sylvia Walsh of Peterborough, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Shirley Steele, sister of the groom, of Lindsay and Miss Irene Anthony, sister of the bride, of Peterborough. They were identically dressed in red velvet with bouffant skirts, three-quarter length sleeves, and the waist trimmed with red satin. Their headresses were Tom-Jones bows in red velvet and they carried white baby mums.

The flower girls were Darlene and Lorraine Anthony, sisters of the bride, of Peterborough who were gowned in red velvet with white lace. Their upswait hair was caught with red velvet bows and they carried white baby mums.

The best man was Clarence Cormier of Lindsay and the ushers were Eric Quibell of Lindsay and Raymond Anthony of Peterborough.

For the reception at the home of the bride the bride's mother received in an acre dress, matching lace jacket with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother was in a blue sheath with black accessories and had a corsage of pink carnations.

For their honeymoon to the U.S.A. the bride wore a pink boucle dress, short brocade jacket with black accessories and a white gardenia completed the ensemble.

The irate customer set out to demand why the delivery man hadn't arrived — and he found the answer. The delivery man had been trapped in an elevator for 30 minutes.

But all ended well. The delivery man was rescued — and the customer received his milk.

WARDEN'S ADDRESS FORECASTS A BUSY SESSION FOR VICTORIA COUNTY COUNCIL

Estimates have been prepared for expenditures for the General County Council for the year 1966. The Home for the Aged, account, the Road System account and the High School Debenture account, during the year, have been presented to the Council. The estimates to be given to the estimates so that the various rates can be levied and the necessary bylaws introduced to confirm your decisions, said Victoria County Warden Robert Gamack in his address at the opening of the county council sessions today.

"Your finance committee have already scrutinized these estimates very carefully," said Gamack.

The Warden Gamack said work on the drawings in connection with the expansion for bed patients care at the Home for the Aged will be presented during the session and he said these drawings had already been approved in principle. "You are asked to examine these drawings in detail and if possible confirm them," he said.

The warden said a report will be presented regarding the progress made towards the establishment of an Area Jail. There will, he said, also be presented to the councillors the various documents which were referred to in connection with the establishment of a County Commissioners form of Assessment.

"Each year," said the warden, "for the past number of years, arrangements have been made for the holding of a meeting of local clerks, treasurers and assessors at the Court House. I feel this matter should again be considered for 1966."

"You will realize from the documents that will be presented to you this morning that a number of very important topics will require your consideration and if possible your decision."

Council may reconsider fluoridation following address, signed petition

The controversial question of fluoridation and possible discussion on the repeal of the bylaw authorizing the fluoridation of Lindsay water was put off until a future meeting of the Council by motion of Councilor Dr. Peter Gill following a long and well delivered address to council on the dangers of fluoridation by Mrs. Anne Burton, president of the Citizens' Rights Association and the presentation of a petition by Stan Henry signed by 492 residents.

"I can't recall the date of the petition," said Burton, "but I am sure it was presented to the Council on the day of the meeting."

beneficial for children to prevent tooth decay. She said all manner of other ways can be used to medicate the children, such as by the use of fluoride tablets at a cost of about 11c per child per year instead of wholesale medication through a water system. "It is like taking a truck to deliver one sip of water," she said.

The Citizens' Rights Association president claimed that over 170 communities in the United States that had once fluoridated their water supplies had now rejected it.

"No council would order citizens in the community to take fluoride pills," said Burton, "you are wanting to do at the back door what you wouldn't dare do at the front door."

Lindsay, kick out your council," said Mrs. Burton. At the conclusion of Mrs. Burton's talk and the presentation of a petition against fluoridation by Stan Henry on behalf of 42 citizens of Lindsay, Councilor Russell Taylor said: "I was most impressed by Mrs. Burton's comments and would like her to leave literature for us to go through."

Councilor John Ekins asked why council was allowed by the government to fluoridate water if it is harmful. "I wish I knew the answer," replied Mrs. Burton. "It is a political thing."

Victoria County Council, meeting in standing committee on Appointments to office Tuesday morning considered a request of the Provincial of E.A. of A.R.D.A. that Victoria County Council endorse the naming of committees in the local A.R.D.A. set up.

Committees involved consist of the Community Facilities Committee, and Water Conservation Committee, the Land Capabilities Committee, and the Goose Lake Development Committee.

County council members deferred their study on the request fearing the endorsement might involve the County in financial matters.

A motion was passed forwarding the names of the chairman of the committees to the Provincial.

Clerk Frank Weldon suggested if the members of the committees were not to be remunerated by County Council, the County may be expected to pay the members of the committees.

Mr. Milburn Hutchinson, reeve of Oso Township, said most of the A.R.D.A. committees in the province had been set up by the Counties. He said Victoria County was an exception.

Addition to Home for Aged discussed by county council

Working drawings for the proposed two storey addition to the County Home for the Aged to provide bed patients were discussed by the standing committee for the Home for the Aged Tuesday morning.

Clerk Frank Weldon stated that the working drawings had been approved in principle by the Provincial Department of Welfare.

The clerk went over the plans for each floor level by room and answered questions of committee members concerning various phases of the project. He said the new building would be south and a little east of the existing structure and connected to it by closed passages.

The main floor, Mr. Weldon said, would be made sectional in function with all, one, two, and four bed wards.

The second floor would be made sectional in function with all, one, two, and four bed wards.

The third floor would be made sectional in function with all, one, two, and four bed wards.

The fourth floor would be made sectional in function with all, one, two, and four bed wards.

Also included will be a lounge and small dining room where residents might entertain guests for a party.

The lounge, he said, would permit visiting there rather than in the main hall.

When asked about the estimated per bed cost, clerk Weldon explained that many services would be provided for and available to all residents and a per bed rate would be unfair in this mind.

He said the overall estimated cost for the new building was $265,000. He said the half-million reserve fund by the County would be used in 1967, would amount to approximately $60,000 and a further $205,000 would be taken care of by the County.

The Home-Town story

Speakers for Canada's hard hit magazine industry could find an argument in the column of a weekly newspaper editor on the eve of his paper's demise. The editor is Bill Toole of Brampton's Conservator.

Brampton and nearby Brantford have 30,000 people and are the largest cities in the "Chiniquistan" between the north and east of Toronto township. At the same time, they are the poorest. The city is served by three powerful dailies, all of them to some degree distributed in the Conservator's territory.

The position of Canada, close to the U.S. with its powerful consumer magazines, better a few than none. The position of Brampton, close to Toronto. Both need their own interpreters if they are to maintain their own character and avoid being swallowed by their neighbour.

Mr. Toole says that "none but the newspaper can provide the coverage in depth of the local community — the consolidation, day-to-day chronicle of The Story of Your Community."

This is the same argument advanced in the Ottawa Review, which said that "only a truly Canadian printing press, one with the 'feel' of Canada, can give us the critical analysis, the informed discourse and dialogue which are indispensable in a sovereign society."

At this point the newspaper's problems of Canada's magazine press company. Presumably the paper as a daily will be able to make itself off on the territory of Toronto papers without help because it will have income derived from local advertising. Also a letter of thanks from Mr. Howard Ross for a gift sent. The financial position of the paper is good, says Davidson. It was agreed to pay for a new electric door but at the same time plan to build a new type, to have and make sale on my list, with Mrs. T. Jennings and the Canadian magazine as drivers.

The Canadian magazine on the other hand cannot fend without help the unfair competition of the U.S. magazine with their special Canadian editions. The Canadian government should raise special pleading for the special editions and enact legislation to help Canadian magazines to compete. The Canadian government should raise special pleading for the special editions and enact legislation to help Canadian magazines to compete. Did India drift 3,600 miles?

United Nations, S.V. (UPI)—U.N. alien fleet of the Indian Navy has discovered rich fishing grounds in the Arabian Sea that may help solve food problems for the 600-million people who live on its shores.

The 24-nation international Indian Ocean expedition, which began in 1959, is now in its final stages. One of its preliminary findings are being made public by the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO).

Scientists from the United States and other nations used a total of 150 miles of plane wire, and underwater explorations to chart the floor of the Indian Ocean and study the current and sea life.

The 40 research ships brought back discoveries including support for the theory of the existence of India "drifted" about 3,600 miles to its present position in prehistoric times.

The expedition also found round mountains and traced mountain ranges for thousands of miles under the surface. They checked out the distance between the state of the sea and the weather.

One of the most important findings for the immediate benefit of the African and Asian nations on the Indian Ocean was the discovery of the new fish-fishing grounds.

The Arabian Sea is bounded by Somalia, Saudi Arabia, Iran, West Pakistan and India. All of these nations have problems in feeding their population. In particular the latter two, with a combined population of about 450 million.

All of course, have been fishing their offshore waters for centuries. But modern fishing techniques tried by the U.S. research ship Anton Brown—the former presidential yacht—Williamburg in the Indian Ocean and its twin arms, the Arabian Sea, and the Bay of Bengal.

In the Bay of Bengal, the U.S. biologist at the Woods Hole (Mass.) Oceanographic Institution, recently described the results.

In one haul along the coast of Oman in the Arabian Sea, he said, three tons of fish were caught in 45 minutes, a record for the area.

The Anton Brown used bottom trawling and the long line fishing brought back a haul of 100 miles of line and hooks are reeled out.

"There is no such thing, gear in progress and the other countries in this fishing area," said Capt. "They can take advantage of these techniques at the present time."

Always Room For Small Operators In Tourist Industry Group Told

Recreation Commission seeks room for Senior Citizens club to meet

The Lindsay Recreation Commission will approach the proprietors of the Bowdway Lanes on William Street to rent the vacant part of the bowling alley facing Russell Street for the use of the senior citizens' group being formed in Lindsay.

A meeting of the Recreation Commission Thursday it was decided this vacant area could be fixed up to accommodate the senior citizens for daily activities and some nights when the senior citizens were not using the facilities, other recreation activities, such as millinery classes, could be held there. The commission said much of the work could be done by the senior citizens themselves.

The Lindsay Kinsmen Club has indicated to the Recreation Commission that they would help with furnishing a room for the senior citizens club.

RECORD MOWER DOWN
Gravelly Iowa (UPI)—Motorists travelling on Iowa 92 yesterday may have thought they were driving on a road that was being washed away, for they were seeing things—lawnmowers.

A truck driven by Chester V. Pendowski, 43, Allegan, Mich., had broken in half when it struck a bridge and its cargo, the lawnmowers, spilled out on the snowy countryside. No one was hurt but Pendowski's 25-year-old driving record was mowed down.

Mr. Cole Locke, manager of the Ontario Hotel Association, took his concept of hospitality from the Bible, quoting "Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."

Mr. Locke suggested the operators should make sure there is a welcome symbol in every room, and also assure that staff members were aware of attractions and road directions in the area.

Dealing with fire service, the speaker said it could be overcome. He claimed, though, to cheapen the establishment.

He did suggest little thoughtful items he had discovered in his travels which could be a deciding factor in bringing the visitor back, such as strips of flannel with the establishment name stamped on them for shoe-shining purposes, larger cloths for the female traveller to use on make-up, or male travellers could use to clean windshields. This he said was a good low level.

Mr. Locke said he did not favour "no vacancy" signs. He said such signs would frighten away and they very likely would not return. Far better, he suggested, to have the sign greet the customer and if filled up, by the telephone to locate him at nearby accommodations. "If you can't accommodate him," he predicted will return to Mr. Locke basing his remarks.

FILMS BY Mary de Woodward

Many of the students were unable to attend school because of the bad weather but those who did attend were shown for about 45 minutes. The first film was about New France and the situation they were in because of the war. It showed how well New France was progressing and especially in their agriculture.

The second one was the story of a young man, a student, said was the most enjoyable was about a famous artist, Mr. Thompson. Many of his works were shown and where he got his ideas for them. Both films were worthwhile and interesting.

Where can I find the answer?

Comments by Rev. R. D. Ellis, Calvary Pentecostal Church, Lindsay.

This is a question that night and unburdened his heart to the Master. He recognized that Jesus had something here and seeking to find the answer, they have searched in vain. Here are a few places they have looked.

Social Circles. Everyone looks for and enjoys a good time. We enjoy skating, ice hockey, baseball, swimming and other sports. Some like to dance, go to the theatre and other places of amusement. In Hollywood, to illustrate, stars of movie to burn three big parties drive the finest of automobiles, live in luxurious homes, eat the best food, wear the latest and most expensive clothes and have, what many describe, the most popular people for friends. Yet with all these things, deep down there is something that yearns we know not and just cannot find.

Religion. As a Clergyman I have heard people say that religion is the only one who has the answers to all our problems.

Disappointments on earth. I agree with them. It has been said that there are 200 million in the world today all claiming to have the answer. Have you tried the way outlined by a number of these and still remain in the dark with a heart aching for reality.

In Africa, children have been offered in sacrifice to their gods. In India, children have been thrown into the Ganges River alive and fed to crocodiles by parents, hoping in some way to please the gods they serve. In America, people by the thousands have turned to religions of many descriptions only to discover that the peace and joy they hoped for is still missing. No, I do not believe that the answer is to be found in a religion.

This is not a problem that has just come to light in these last few years. It is as old as the history of mankind. Nicodemus, a religious leader who lived during the time of Christ, a Pharisee, a ruler of the Jews, came to Jesus by

DOES SHUR-GAIN FERTILIZER SPREAD BETTER?

At a quick glance SHUR-GAIN Sulfated-Granulated Fertilizer may look very much like most other kinds of granular fertilizers—but there is an important difference. Most ordinary fertilizers and practically all custom blended ones consist of a dry mixture of fertilizer materials either in powder or granular form.

As a result the different ingredients vary in size and weight. You can compare it to a handful of ping-pong balls, mixed with marbles. If you throw out a handful of these, the heavier marbles will travel farther than the ping-pong balls—and that is exactly what happens with ordinary fertilizers.

When you spread your fertilizer, with a drill or even more important, with any broadcast-type spreader you can be sure that every particle (from the most to the largest) of free-running SHUR-GAIN Sulfated-Granulated Fertilizer is nutritionally balanced no matter where it lies—assuring you of complete and even intake of all the plant food by your crops. There are no excesses in one area and starvation in another with SHUR-GAIN.

Another good reason why you can be confident of top returns from SHUR-GAIN—the finest fertilizer for your good earth!

RESIDENT'S SNEEZE

HEAD ABOUT WORLD
Dear Dr. Steiner: Our President is our responsibility. The trouble is we can't shout after him. Don't forget to wear your rubbers. Be sure to sit on your heavy coat. That's really Mrs. Johnson's job. And I'll bet he has quite a time getting him to take care of him. Otherwise why would a sensible man with all of his responsibilities, stand out in freezing water without a coat and still during his inauguration? Can you figure it? Mrs. B.

Comment: Mr. Johnson is President. He can't separate the office from the human being. Presidents have similar weaknesses and quirks at the rest of us. As I watched him, restless and restless, I tried to discover his motivation. What would make a man (with a history of heart disease and lung trouble) act like that? I heard later that he was wearing thermal protection. But why give his constituents the shivers watching him, apparently completely exposed to the machine-like barometer and thermometer?

It is a sign of weakness in a leader to protect himself, a sign of strength in a leader to stand up for the elements like the rest of us? He must know (at least) some hospitalization for his cold that every sneeze of his is heard around the world. Why worry needlessly in an already overcast nation — concerned with Cuba, Vietnam and scores of other uncertainties? Take away the father figure — if only temporarily behind hospital screens — and one starts national panic.

I can't figure it, Mrs. B. Call it bravado, carelessness, or neglect perhaps he was asked to wear hat and coat. Forgetting for a moment about personal quirks, let's all do something about taking future inauguration ceremonies in the robes. Why outdoors at all?

Dear Dr. Steiner: How important is a blow on the eye in causing detachment of the retina? Mr. I.
Comment: Severe trauma to the eye might be the direct cause of retinal detachment in even a healthy eye. However when the injury is a minor incident — like a mild blow or sneezing — there are usually already present eye changes in the retina back of eye predisposing to the detachment. In most cases, the retinal detachment is not the direct result of injury.

NEEDS THAT VACATION

Dear Dr. Steiner: "I'd appreciate your opinion, but realize you can't make a diagnosis sight unseen. My husband, just at the halfway point in life, as an executive, puts in 12 to 14 hours five days a week and about eight hours on the sixth day. He has had perhaps one month to six weeks vacation in 27 years, he's entitled to that amount annually. He has never taken a day off for illness or any other reason; does not smoke or drink and is not overweight. He has not had a physical checkup for many years. How claims he fine.

At the end of the day after dinner he's so fatigued he can't collapse. He has a cough and his left leg goes limp after sitting. In fact he limps quite a bit. How much longer do you think he can go at this pace? We plan to retire in five years since we have no family. He reads your column. Perhaps a word from you may help. My thanks to you, Mrs. X.

Comment: I don't think he'll make it if he continues to play the iron man. One at a blunt guess. Meanwhile, perhaps we can knock some sense into him. Perhaps it's not too late to turn him around in the right direction.

STOP!... killing yourself.

By Peter J. Steinhorn, M.D., F.A.C.P.

THERE IS DANGER IN OVERWEIGHT BUT TAKE POUNDS OFF GRADUALLY

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: I feel as if I'm not just a fat person, but there has been too much talk about the dangers of being overweight. I'm 202 and a foot 7, and feel just fine at the age of 42. What's all the shouting about—Mr. D.

(Comment: I begin my shouting in this way. "Disease has a strong affection for fat people. If you are thin, any doctor or statistician will tell you that you will live longer than if you are fat," etc. If you believe there's been too much emphasis on the dangers of obesity, then I guess you've committed yourself to slow suicide, and no one can help you.)

But let me warn you. If you do become a convert to the need for being lean instead of fat, please do not go overboard. Don't go in for crash dieting. Some people become so imbued with this new resolution to reduce, they just can't wait for the excess fat to melt away. They just take the time out on the brakes. There's no need to keep your foot on the accelerator. It's not good policy or common sense dietetics to take a pound off a bottle, to rely on the quick action of limiting yourself to bananas and pickle diet or something as ridiculous and harmful.

FAT LOSS NOT PERMANENT

You may lose a dozen pounds rapidly, but they'll pile on again. They'll pile on to your former well-rounded diet. The only excuse for bananas and pickles (which I have just made up as a ridiculous combination, so please don't try it) when you are pregnant?

When dieting go slow. There'll be less chance of your going up and down the elevator of poundage—a common experience in those who go in for rapid weight loss. You'll lose 10 pounds in a week but begin to gain in a month. Your metabolism will be a gain rather than a loss. (The bugaboo of most dieters.)

In any sensible diet you should have the basic foods of fish, poultry, meats, cereals, fruits, vegetables, bread

These will furnish the necessary vitamins and minerals. Crash diets usually omit a number of essential foods.

To repeat: Fat is kill. But it took you a long while to put on these extra pounds. The danger isn't immediate. There's time. If you lose gradually you'll be healthier and better looking in the long run.

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: Some time ago my doctor put me on a diet. I'm getting the problem licked. It has not been easy watching the family at meal times eating anything they wanted. But I have not looked for a shoulder to weep on; neither have I pined for the anguish of my heart nor yet sought my pastor for spiritual support enabling me to do what my only fool thought to know they should do.

The payoff has been big. The diet and loss of weight has given me the best health I've enjoyed in many years. Those who slaves think they have a big strong backbone when they give up the weight, it takes just as much will to give

NEW HOUSE DESIGN — Where space must go hand in hand with economy, the two-story house is still hard to beat. Two-story houses can often be used to advantage on narrow lots which are inefficient in width to accommodate a wide frontage bungalow embodying a similar floor area.

Designed by architect Bruno Bedard of Montreal this large two-story brick veneer house set into the ground is ideally suited for a narrow lot. The attached carport suits the house well and provides for a protected front entrance.

From the grade level front entrance hall the stairs lead up and down to the two floors. Three bedrooms a bathroom and the living room are reached by going up eight steps; while the kitchen utility room, the dining room, the third bedroom and second bathroom and the storage room are reached by going down seven steps. There is a door from the dining room through an area to the garden.

The floor area is 1,908 square feet and the exterior dimensions are 27 feet by 60 feet including the carport. The working drawings for this two-story dwelling, known as Design 605, can be obtained from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

STOP!... killing yourself

CHRONIC ANXIETY CAN BE OVERCOME

It's normal to be scared. Otherwise, why is it the rule for anyone crossing the street (unless he's an absent-minded professor) to turn his head from side to side to make certain a car isn't bearing down on him? Self-preservation, you strain on patients who have it. But tied in with it normally is fear.

When any kind of fear becomes abnormally prolonged, another name for it is anxiety.

Fears and anxieties come in many of you know, in hundreds of variations that try the human soul. What I have been trying to say is that these would be unbearable if it were true that they will be a part of you for the rest of your life.

With wit and fortitude, and an understanding physician and a sympathetic family, it is not surprising that so many overcome their anxieties sufficiently to enjoy life, and live like their normal neighbors who have been free from anxiety.

Overcoming chronic anxiety to suffer horrible anxieties as you sit in a darkened theater. You won't have to choose a seat on the aisle so you can quickly scurry out when fear suddenly throws your palpating heart into high gear.

Not forever will you be afraid to go out into the street to do some ordinary shopping for the house. Not forever will you be afraid to meet strangers at a tea or cocktail party or dinner. Not forever will you be afraid to go on an automobile trip and remain an actual prisoner in your own home.

Fears and anxieties come in many of you know, in hundreds of variations that try the human soul. What I have been trying to say is that these would be unbearable if it were true that they will be a part of you for the rest of your life.

Overcoming chronic anxiety to suffer horrible anxieties as

Dear Dr. Steincorn: What is better: To blow your top a lot or keep it inside? Lately my husband has developed an awful temper. He says it is good for the health. Much better than stewing inside and keeping in all the poison—Mrs. G.

Comment: Good for whose health? Yours or his? It isn't good to simmer in resentment. This is what uicors and high blood pressure feeds on. It nourishes them. Neither is it good to blow up. In some cases such outbursts put an awful good on the health. Much better blood pressure or coronary heart disease. A husband to control himself, if only for your sake. Even if bad temper isn't destructive to the self, it surely is no picnic for the bystander.

Commission will use school play grounds this year

Recreation Director Harry Johnson told a meeting of the Recreation Commission on Thursday that Ernest Crossley, secretary of the public school board, had indicated the commission would be able to use a number of public school playgrounds again this year.

Mr. Johnson said a number of supervisors have been involved in the problem, but applications for leaders will still be accepted.

By Peter J. Stenicher, MD., F.A.C.P.

WATCH THAT COUGH-remedies can be bought with it may be worse THAN YOU THINK Recently I learned the difference between a lecture and a talk by listening to Dr. Andrew L. Banya, former Clinical Professor of Medicine at Marquette University. It was a postgraduate course given by the American College of Chest Physicians. This "talk" was an arresting personality who dominated the stage and held his audience with hands behind their ears so they wouldn't miss a word. He did not use a lectern nor was he bound by notes. He moved the stage, shedding sparks of knowledge and wit. His subject was about the importance of a cough which may cause chronic cough, which may result from severe coughing spells: headache, insomnia, nausea, syncope (fainting), hemorrhoids, and hernia. Sometimes coughing is so violent that it may cause a hernia above the umbilicus.

MAY AFFECT HEART

Dr. Banya emphasized this possibility that a cough lasting a number of years could lead to develop a serious heart complication, such as left or right ventricular failure or pulmonary. This information is a reason enough to take medical action against a cough which persists.

Although the chronic condition which disables after a while if untreated and cough is due to several causes, we must not forget that persistent coughing actually strains the weak and diseased walls which separate the little air spaces in the lung, causing them to rupture.

The result: emphysema. Remember that cough may be due to causes outside of the lungs as a tumor or aneurysm (dilated artery) which presses on and irritate the large air passages. Sometimes not connected with the lungs, may cause chronic cough. Many nervous people develop cough which can play a role in origin. Sometimes a cough which lasts all study as to its cause will ultimately be found to be due to unexplained etiology.

For example, Dr. Banya mentioned the case of an infant, X rays and other examinations failed to reveal the cause. Further examination disclosed a kernel of corn in the

A Friend in Deed

Like a true friend in time of need, Red Cross responds in emergencies with help that helps to alleviate the suffering of man. Comforting words in time of stress are always helpful, but what counts more for a stricken individual is definite action, deeds will help him on his feet again; deeds which will convince him that people care enough about his plight to back up their comforting words with substance.

The Red Cross provides emergency food, shelter and clothing for victims of disasters. The Red Cross, who have suffered losses in a disaster. The sympathetic voice of the Red Cross is heard through handshakes, blankets and quilts that will keep the disaster victim warm. It is heard through the fresh new clothing that it will wear for protection, and it is heard through visible food that will give him nourishment. It is a voice that speaks with definite deeds, and so is a welcome friend indeed. The Red Cross deserves our full support.

March is Red Cross Month in Canada.

Here's some good traffic advice for motorists and pedestrians. It comes from Shakespeare (Julius Caesar, Act 2, Scene 3), quoted by the Ontario State Law Text:

"If thou be'st not immortal, look about you."

How Can I ???

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I make a good job of cleaning my paraffin? A. When you clean your paraffin, add a little paraffin to your water. This will take out all the dirt and grease, and add a little more to your paraffin. If you rub the paraffin well into the linoleum, it will retain its color and wear twice as long.

County Council Notes

Victoria County Council in session Wednesday sanctioned the 1935 general rate of 5.4 per cent and the County Home rate at 1.4. County Council clerk Frank Weldon submitted a sheet of estimates one of the most interesting being that from county registrar Monty Robson.

Estimates for this office went up $6,000, which included the estimated cost of getting rid of water in the basement of the building. Contract figures showed that it would be necessary to dig a large trench all around the basement wall. However, after paying salary advances, office expenses, etc., the Registrar's statement showed that some $16,000 will be turned into the County Treasurer as the result of fees, etc., obtained by the office. Council was able to hold several annual grants well in excess. Extra expenditures occur in connection with the EMO, the Lindsay Fair special grant and a big increase occurred in connection with the operation of the Children's Aid Society.

A new grant will be made to the Reformation Committee for further development at the Almont Forest. The Victoria County Park committee failed to spend an appropriation this year for a closed shelter but the grant saved will be spent in 1936.

At county Council Wednesday afternoon Rev. John Campbell of Woodville said "This is the most confused council in Ontario . . . I am certainly confused". Following sixty minutes of discussion regarding salary matters concerning the court stenographer a motion was made to increase the salary from $3,300 to $5,500 including the $1,500 the stenographer normally received in connection with the recording of police court proceedings.

An amendment was made that the salary of $3,300 be increased by $400 and the $1,500 police court payment be added. The amendment to the amendment was then moved that the salary be increased from $3,300 to $3,500 also to include the police court $1,500.

Sportsman's Show, chartered bus, Saturday March 20th. Return fare $2.50. Please make reservations early. Call 224- (H2455) 2900.

Confusion reigned supreme when Chairman Hillard Maudsley attempted to handle all the three motions and increase when clerk Frank Weldon proceeded to explain the rules of procedure and got drowned out in the clamor.

Revised attempts were made to put the amendments in order and in the meantime the amendment to the amendment carried authorizing a rating increase of $200, plus a police court payment, which brought the total salary up to $5,000.

It was debated whether or not employees of the county should be allowed salary increases when the employees added to their financial income from other sources but members were practically unanimous in following the recommendation of clerk Frank Weldon that "what employees made in working hours is not the concern of council". The court stenographer, it was pointed out, had been transferring after hours in her home.

WOMAN'S VIEW

By Gay Pauley

New York City is the world of flowers follows trends, just as the world of fashion does. Currently, the anonymous "it" in the many assignments, planting cut flower department. Roses always a favorite, are more "in" than before. Putnam laid dogwood the flora on the as and marigolds will get a big play in summer gardens. And peonies will create new interest among green thumbs because of the new varieties developed — a yellow poppy, for instance, and many new bright reds.

Fading in favour are the big flowers like dahlias and gladioli because they're difficult to arrange when cut and, in the case of dahlias, tend to drop from their own weight.

We gleaned this information from James Fanning, of Bedford Hills, N.Y., a landscape expert who is the official architect of the 48th International Flower Show taking at the New York Coliseum.

Gardens are looking on more each season, said Fanning. And the number of gardeners, on small, medium or grand scale, increases each year.

He figures the hunger for some communion with nature through planting increases as urbanization spreads. "Just why preferences in flowers change is as difficult to assess as to why a fashion catches on," he said, "but I do think that advertising has an effect."

Fanning, who's been gardening since the 1930's, supervising the overall plans and placement of half a million flowers, shrubs and trees for the coliseum show. "And I think," he said, "I know the location of every plant in the place by now."

The show includes 15-foot scale gardens, one of them a fanning design for Kodak, plus trade booths, and a white pine tree 40 feet tall.

The landscape architect made no effort to estimate the tons of soil, peat moss and peat moss-sawdust mixture that had been hauled in for the exhibit. But he's already working on plans for next year's event.

"Just as your own garden is, the show is a year-around job," he said.

Fanning, a sparsely built man in his early 50's and he started doing general maintenance gardening during the depression because that was one field in which he could find work.

Completely self-taught, by reading a do-it-up his own landscape business at New Canaan, Conn., after World War II. He's written numerous articles on gardening, some of them compiled into books.

Fanning's other landscaping assignments have included the Mystic, Conn., seaport where he's on contract for changes and additions each season; hotels in the West Indies and Venezuela; the first abode of Adrich Rockefeller Sculpture Garden at the New York Museum of Modern Art; and a number of estate jobs. Current assignments include:

Argos prepare for new league ruling

Toronto (CP) — The Toronto Argonauts announced today that they have traded one of their five naturalized Canadians, defensive end Milt Campbell, to the Edmonton Eskimos for defensive halfback Mike Wickham.

Wickham, a 25-year-old Canadian, began his career with the Argos but went to Edmonton in the five-to-one trade two years ago that brought quarterback Jackie Parker to Toronto.

"I wanted a Canadian defensive halfback," said coach Bobbie Shaw. Dave Theissen, an American defensive back, was traded to Winnipeg earlier in the week. Mory Easter, Don Fuelle and Jim Rourke, the other three defensive backs are Americans.

Wickham, six-one and 190 pounds, was the Argos' first draft choice in 1981 after a five-year career at Queen's University.

Campbell, 28, was winner of the 1986 Olympic Decathlon. Last season he was hampered by injuries.

His departure leaves the Argos with four naturalized Canadians — Dick Shatto, Jackie Parker, Billy Ship and Dave Mann. The recent Canadian Football League ruling permits only three to a club.

LINDSAY KIWANIS ARENA

Lindsay Kiwanis Club Mark Their 43rd Year of Service

In this jet age, forty-three years is but a fleeting moment in the capsule of time. It was a comment heard at the Thursday meeting when the Lindsay Club celebrated 43 years of useful service in the community and marked the Golden Anniversary of Kiwanis International.

The club was first mooted by the late J. A. Carroll and the late J. W. Deyell during a conversation on the train between Lindsay and Toronto.

The charter members, fifty in number, formed a procession, headed by the Lindsay Band, and met members of the Peterboro Kiwanis Club at the local depot.

The procession led over the Post Hall over "The Post" printing office on William street north, where the Lindsay Club was sponsored and launched at a dinner meeting.

Some time after that, the Club held their dinner meetings in a hall above the front of Arnold's garage on Kent street west, which extended the full width of the building.

The first president was T. H. Stinson, followed by B. L. McLean, R. W. Groves, A. T. Claxton, F. J. A. White and others.

Although money was no too plentiful in those times, citizens were generous in patronizing annual summer carnivals at Victoria Park, and the annual Piccadilly Circus, or Trade Fair which was held in the armories.

Chairman of Commerce proposes "Citizen of the Year" award

David R. Walling, Director and Chairman of the Civic Affairs Committee of the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce so announced today that his Commission has prepared a programme and will ask the Directorate of the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce shortly to nominate a "Citizen of the Year Award" to be presented to the person chosen at the Chamber's Annual dinner each spring.

The terms under which this award would be presented have not been completely developed as yet, but these would be as announced after being presented to and passed by the entire Chamber Directorate.

Weather Outlook

Coldly today with a mix of snow and rain this evening. Tomorrow, High today 40, and low tonight 35.

On Saturday Ken Lamb, local auctioneer, will auction the Retarded Children's Association. Mr. Lamb has volunteered his time.

St. Mary Ford, 52 Colborne street claimed that zoning that particular block west of Victoria Avenue on Colborne as residential area was a violation of the civil rights bill. Planning board members ruled that the area next to a public school could not be used for a commercial area in rejecting her appeal. Town council members upheld the decision of the planning board.

Lindsay Town Council Tuesday night, 41 appeals forwarded by the town planning board were discussed and ruled upon.

The first appeal took the form of a petition bearing the Don Warner on behalf of 77 residents living in the block bounded by Bond, Cambridge, Wellington, and William street north. The residents of this area were petitioning against a re-zoning of the entire block as planning board.

The original designation of the area had been multiple dwelling residential, with a lot about one third of the area located on William street north designated commercial. Councillor John Eakins said he couldn't believe the planning board was serious in designating the whole block as commercial. "This means we could have a service station across from Cambridge United Church," he said. Councillor David Logan thought the planning board was away "off base" in making this decision on a block basis.

Council members upheld the appeal deciding the area would remain as originally designated, as multiple dwelling with a small part commercial. Mayor Joseph Holtom observed that Wellington street will eventually become part of the central commercial downtown area in years to come.

CIVIL RIGHTS

Mrs. Jerry Ford, 52 Colborne street claimed that zoning that particular block west of Victoria Avenue on Colborne as residential area was a violation of the civil rights bill. Planning board members ruled that the area next to a public school could not be used for a commercial area in rejecting her appeal. Town council members upheld the decision of the planning board.

area on William street north, now designated as residential. The zoning of another appeal to have it classified as industrial. Planning board decided to leave it as residential. A member of council suggested it be changed to multiple dwelling.

Dr. Gill claimed the planning board had no way to know what might happen in the future in a particular property. They would need a crystal ball to foresee its future. He also stated that suggested zoning as industrial would leave no control as to the type of industry.

Alderman Dr. Councillor Carl Brown moved the factory site on the east side of the street be made industrial, and the west site, in the area of the office and storage shed remain as residential. Mayor Logan said the planning programme was 100 years too late to have a perfect downtown area.

A request from the Canadian National Railways asked to have two areas west of Angeline street south and between the two C.N.R. tracks rezoned from agricultural to industrial. The planning board explained that the agricultural zoning could easily be changed to industrial if necessary.

Councillor Logan stated the C.N.R. failed to reveal if any specific type of industry was planned for this area.

The final decision left the area designated as agricultural, to have a residential zone. A specific request was received. Mayor Holtom reminded members of the plan that the city and the council require a heavy capital expenditure.

Open Space

An action taken as to the meaning of the designation "public open space" council suggested dropping it to the meaning of "public open space."

Councillor David Logaf said his office had received numerous calls enquiring as to the meaning of "public open space."

All appeals dealing with open space were rejected by both council and the planning board. Their decision was that council will have to decide to purchase the property, or allow construction if it is not done in the interval when specific requests were received from people who decide to expand or build on this type of property.

UIC and NES office to split

On April 1, the Lindsay office of the Unemployment Insurance Commission and the National Employment Service will be split. The UIC will handle only unemployment claims and the NES will look after employment positions.

S.C. Kirkness will remain manager of the NES office. A manager for the UIC has not been named.

St. Patrick's Day

Today is the day people with even the remotest touch of the Irish in their background sprout green ties, shamrocks or even green bowler hats, although we are not sure why.

It is said that St. Patrick's Day commemorates the greatest day in the history of civilization, but we feel such a statement must be the consequence of kissing the Blarney stone.

Actually St. Patrick, patron saint of Ireland was born in Scotland in the year 350. However the Irish have since claimed him for their own. Why St. Patrick's Day should be celebrated with such fervor is a mystery. Irish music and television stations play Irish songs and nausium, and valuable time in the House of Parliament at Ottawa, in the Senate and at Queen's Park will no doubt be taken up with tributes to the Irish. In New York thousands of Irish, some by birth, some by descent and many by spirit will jig, reel and dance their way through Manhattan, and even the German Oompah-pah bands will take on an Irish lilt in the St. Patrick's Day parade. We don't know why there is such a green-dyed bent has such an traction to so many people every year, but it does.

Around the world on the 17th the memory of St. Patrick and Ireland remains a vivid and living green.

Qiant Glass House

The Royal Botanic Garden, in Edinburgh Scotland, is to have a giant glass house, where exotic plants will be displayed in a way never before achieved anywhere in the world.

It will be more than 400 feet long and 60 feet wide, and will cost £200,000. It will be a remarkable building; no interior supports to cause obstruction or corrosion—and the entire structure is suspended by stainless steel wires on a tubular frame.

This will give great scope for landscaping. There will be a footbridge from which visitors can view the layout from above, and get a closer look at tall specimens. And one of the two pools for aquatic plants will have a glass-walled underground viewing chamber.

To install gasoline pump
H. E. Tripp and Son, who have opened an auto service at the corner of Cambridge and Peel Streets, asked permission of council to install a gasoline tank and pump. The pump, of course, will be inside the building and the tank underground. They wished to procure a literary license.

On motion of Ald. Chambers and McLean the request was granted and the firm will see Chief Short regarding the necessary license.

Supplies for firemen
H. A. McGeoffey also reported that he had taken measures to have the firemen's rubber boots and coats repaired but noted that only seven coats would be repaired and six pairs of boots. He asked permission to purchase eight pairs of boots and seven coats. These would be procured through Messrs. M. Sisson and J. Sutcliffe and Son. Ald. McGeoffey was authorized to buy them.

Mr. Yang, a representative of the Dunlop Rubber Co. was present in regard to the purchase of any new horse. He said in answer to a question Chief Bell stated that the department had 2,500 feet of good horse, although the Fire Underwriters insisted they should have more.

More supplies

On motion of Ald. Baker and Sims, the chairman of Town Property was authorized to purchase two hydrant gauges, two nozzles and one distributing nozzle for the fire department.

JUST THREE LITTLE BOWIE, HE CAN MAKE A SMALL CARICATURE OF THE DOWNER. HE CAN MAKE THE RECEIVING CLERK ON STAFF AND ON-30 HELPFUL—

Will Gaullist era continue?

Paris (UPI) — President Charles De Gaulle's supporters already are busy plotting for continuing the Gaullist era after De Gaulle.

Their aim is to extend Gaullism into the 1970s—long after Charles De Gaulle himself may have stepped down.

The first public move in the new long-term Gaullist campaign was launched Feb. 25 by interior Minister Roger Frey.

In a speech in the Paris suburb of Nanterre, Frey unveiled a blueprint for transforming the ruling Gaullist union for the new republic (UNR), France's largest single political party since 1958, into a huge middle-of-the-road political group pledged to carry on De Gaulle's ideas and policies.

Frey spoke at the country warmed up for local city and town council elections March 14 and 21.

But it also has become clear that French politicians are thinking and planning far beyond this voting.

The first major objective of De Gaulle supporters is to ensure his reelection by a massive majority for a second term in presidential elections next December. It already is assumed De Gaulle will run for a second term, even though he will be 75 years old in November.

Gaullist supporters have begun planning strategy aimed at again winning control of the National Assembly (Lower House) for the third consecutive time since 1958.

In the last parliamentary general election in November 1962, the Gaullist UNR racked up 615,000 votes, or 40.5 per cent of the whole electorate, and won an absolute majority in the National Assembly.

The aim of Gaullist leaders is to repeat this feat.

It has been widely reported, though without official confirmation, that if the UNR was again in 1967, De Gaulle might step down then at the age of 77 in favor of a younger successor backed by a parliamentary majority pledged to continue Gaullist policies.

De Gaulle's supporters are haunted by the fear that once the general has stepped down Gaullism will fall apart. The UNR is strictly a Gaullist party and dates back less than seven years. It lacks entirely the history and traditions of France's older parties such as the Socialists, Radical Socialists and even the Communists.

Leading UNR members fear that, with De Gaulle gone from the political scene, there will be no one of his stature capable of carrying on his policies. They indicated in his speech that he and other top-ranking UNR leaders want to bolster the Gaullist movement in the long haul by attracting to it permanently large number of voters from the Socialists, Radical Socialists, Catholic Popular Republicans (MRP) and other groups.

IRISH DESSERT

For something with a really other soft cloth until a dry Irish name and taste, how is it to be used as a mark?

Q How can I prevent dark cottons from picking up lint from my ironing board?

A Before starting to iron, over the cover with a damp cloth or sponge, a wide piece of cellophane tape, or adhesive, tape round around your hand, sticky side out.

Q Is there something I can do about faded black straw hats?

A A small cloth of black straw can be renewed by rubbing with a white brush dipped into a mixture of two parts dye to one part of black ink.

Seal Plastic Bags

You can make a good job of sealing plastic bags by folding aluminum foil along the top edge, then running a hot iron over the aluminum. The plastic bags edge will seal effectively. The foil will prevent the plastic from melting on the iron. Let the bag cool before removing the foil.

Greasy Soap

Skim the grease off the top of soap by taking square sheets of clean white paper, laying one sheet at a time on the surface of the soap. The grease will lift out the paper as you lift it out with wax.

Screen Painting

The fastest and easiest way to paint a screen is either with a screen sander or by using a brush. If you are beginning to look dry a rag or a paint roller. First, and grime clean with wax on the screen thoroughly with a soft cloth, buff them, and then place it flat so that you then apply a fresh coating of paint won't run while drying.

QUINN — In loving memory of a dear husband and father James F. who suddenly passed away March 15, 1962.

A cluster of beautiful memories

Sprinkled with love and tears

Enthralled in our book of remembrance.

For the one we loved so dear.

Lovingly remembered by wife Jennie and family.

ELFORD — In loving memory of three of our sisters who passed away in 1964. Helen Maria on March 21, Ida Catherine on May 24, and Mary Anna, September 22.

Time may heal the broken heart,

Time may make the world less sore.

But time can never stop the longing

For the loved ones gone before

MASONS REACT ANGRILY TO TV PROGRAMME

London (UPI) — British Freemasons reacted angrily today to a television programme which claimed to expose some of the organization's secrets.

The programme, "Free Masonry, the Open Secret", was broadcast last night by the BBC. The 45-minute programme showed an initiation ceremony, a candidate's entry into the various degrees of the order, and a secret handshake. It disclosed several passwords: "It was an intrusion into our legitimate affairs", said the Earl of Scarborough. He is Grand Master of the United Grand Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of England.

"It seems odd to put on this programme without the goodwill of some half a million individuals who are Freemasons", said the Rev. Dr. William Baxter a Glasgow Freemason, was also angered. He appeared on the filmed programme but did not see it until it was broadcast.

"This was a complete travesty", Baxter said. "Inaccuracy and a load of rubbish. I was shocked. It was nothing like what I had expected and nothing like what happens in a Masonic lodge".

The documentary programme was written and produced by James Dewar. He said he had been refused assistance from the United Grand Lodge of England the Grand Lodge of Scotland and the Grand Lodge of New York State.

KIRKFIELD MEN FINED $25 FOR TRAFFIC OFFENCES

Terry Thompson, 19, of Kirkfield, was charged with careless driving on February 28th when he looked from the road to clear a cigar ash from his trousers and bumped into a parked car on the north edge of Kirkfield, and was fined $25 and costs Monday by Magistrate Ian Munro.

Provincial Constable Jean DesLaurier said the accused was approaching Kirkfield from the north, and while removing the cigar ash from his trousers had veered to the east striking a parked car driven by skidding 80 feet. He said the parked car was driven back 74 feet. The constable estimated the damage at $70.

Another Kirkfield man, Edward J. Murphy, was fined $25 and costs Monday as a result of a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

The accused denied any knowledge at the time of striking a parked car while driving west on Kent Street near the library on February 18th. He said he was driving his sons car which was jerking and bucking as the motor was coasting.

Provincial Constable George Scott told the court he apprehended the accused parked on County Road No. 9, and noticed fresh damage to the right front corner of the vehicle.

Sgt. Gordon Elberts of the Lindsay Police told of investigating at the scene of the accident, and obtaining broken pieces of chrome at the scene which fitted broken parts of the car or the accused was driving.

Ingenious theft youth remanded for sentence

A sixteen year old Cobocook youth, William Rutter was remanded in the custody of his father until Thursday, March 18th for sentence by Magistrate Ian Munro in police court at Lindsay Monday.

William Rutter was charged with the theft of twenty cents from the Econo-Wash at Cobocook on March 7th. The lad was on probation for theft in September 1984, and passing of sentence was delayed to obtain a report from the probation officer. The youth pleaded guilty to the charge.

Court was told it was the ingenious method of the theft rather than the amount that brought about the charge. The accused was discovered by the proprietor, Mrs. Milward as she entered the establishment at 9:30 p.m. on March 7th, according to police.

The accused had the upper portion of a drier hood raised, and was recovering items from the drier coin box by means of a chisel of gum placed on the end of a soft drink straw. Two items were found in a snow-bank outside the building, police said.

The Finest Hours

An honorary citizen of the United States, England's Sir Winston Churchill is the subject of what is said to be one of the absorbing productions ever to reach the Century Theatre screen.

It is Jack Le Vien's production of "The Finest Hours", a Columbia Pictures release in color which is based on Churchill's own wartime memoirs.

Praise for "The Finest Hours" has come from advanced audiences in all walks of life, just as Churchill himself garnered the applause of the world in the course of his historic career as a statesman, warrior, writer and speaker.

"The Finest Hours" apart from its unique and absorbing theme, has provided many a movie-goer with an interesting and entertainingly successful experience in fine art of filmmaking. Included in the film are some sequences which were especially photographed in color to unite the entire project in one harmonious, memorable unity. However, the remainder of the film footage originally was black-and-white, newsreel or government-film, but Churchill's own tell where the "new" color begins and the "old" leaves off! "The Finest Hours", produced by Jack Le Vien, was directed by Peter Baylis from the Victor Wolfson screenplay. The music is by Ron Grainer.

St. Patrick's Day

On the seventeenth of March he was born somewhere in every race and faith join together to pay homage to that warm-hearted devoted Christian whose work 150 years ago was the foundation of the faith and culture, which survive in Ireland to this day, making the land and its people among the best loved in the world.

Like many an ancient hero St. Patrick's life has been so shrouded and bedecked with legends and folk lore, that its details are not clear. It is claimed as his birth place and so has Ireland, but the best authorities agree that preacher of power and sincerity, with great charm of personality. He lived such a good life that many were won by the power of his example. He was also an organizer, and the church was established on a sound basis, from which it has never drawn back.

He travelled to all parts of Ireland, and even today Ireland is dotted with places linked with his name, and who has not heard the story of his use of the three leaved leaf of shamrock to illustrate the doctrine of the Trinity.

Ireland is a lovely country—green be thy field, sweetest life of the ocean. And thy harp stringing hands sing aloud with devotion, Erin maivreen, Erin go bragh!

(Ireland my darling, Ireland for ever)
—Contributed by a reader of "The Post".

EDITOR'S NOTE: Details regarding the birthplace of St. Patrick are certainly not clear. Our contributor feels the best authorities agree that he was born somewhere in Wales of a British family. Information in "The Post" file indicates that St. Patrick was born in Scotland on the estuary of the Clyde. His father was a deacon named Calpornius and the name of Patrick's mother was Concessia.

ROSS MEMORIAL MENDS AILING HOCKEY EXECS

Lindsay Merchants executive members have been patronizing the Ross Memorial Hospital this season instead of the players.

Latest reports indicate that the Club Secretary Len Francis will be returning home on Friday after a three week stay, and the Club President, Lloyd Gilliam went in Wednesday noon. Only minor surgery are involved in both cases, and Merchant fans are wishing a speedy recovery for both popular hockey execs.

PERSONALS

My "happy birthday" through this column—Dial FA 4-2114. There is no change.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rogers were in Peterborough and Methuen on Monday attending the funeral of James McKinnon. Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Moore of Cambray and Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Pillsworth of Lindsay also attended the funeral.

Due to the sudden illness of Samuel Nesbitt in his 83th year Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Parcells, Mrs. Bernard Sage, Mrs. L. McPherson and Mrs. L. Barker travelled to Haliburton to be at his bedside, as well as many other relatives.

PLANS ARE ALL SET FOR TRI-COUNTY HOCKEY FINALS

The Tri-County Hockey League finals are slated to get underway Thursday night at the Little Britain Community Centre Thursday evening between Little Britain and Oakwood Flyers.

The best of seven final will decide the senior champions of the Tri-County league.

The second, fourth and sixth games of the set have been scheduled for Oakwood Arena, but if ice conditions do not permit, the game will be played on artificial ice at the Little Britain Arena the same night.

Game time for the series will be 8:30 p.m. The winners of the series will be presented with the Garret Graham Trophy emblematic of the Tri-County League championship. Playing dates at Little Britain will be March 8th, 22nd and if necessary March 29th and April 3rd. Oakwood home games have been scheduled for March 20th, 28th and if necessary April 1st.

ON THE MAIN STREET

with FORD MOTYNS

Many times a story dealing with the lives of the men and women of the main street of a town or city, and the stories of an historical nature will lead to more stories of the kind and of the same kind. The story of the birth of the horseless carriage, the motor car, in Lindsay and many people who were in business selling these ancient transportation vehicles, caused one reader to volunteer information regarding the time when Lindsay had seven or eight lively stables, and a hundred or more good lively horses.

The liveries were usually called near one of the seven or eight hotels on the main street. These locations were due to the fact that a horse was wanted to many a commercial traveller. The "drummers" of "knights of the road" arrived by train, put up at a local hotel and on the following day hired a single horse or a livery team to call on the business of the day.

It was a common practice for travellers to drive 25 and some times 50 miles a day to Victoria Road, Cobocook, Minden, Haliburton, Fenelon Falls, Bobcaygeon, Innesville and other places.

Travellers demanded good horses, and the liverymen knew what kind of a driver the traveller was, whether he was a horse or fair to the equines. Liveries did the lucrative business despite the expense of having good vehicles, good horses, strong harness and a liberal supply of hay and oats.

One of the oldest livery stables was owned by a man named Oughton and the stable was located on York Street north between the Legion Hall and the old terminus. Part of this brick structure still stands. His most popular horse was a man known as "Friday" Madison, a driver, who was very erect, one who was courteous and the best of good clients. Judge McMullan was one of his best customers. The good natured Judge lived on Mill Street and frequently called for his favorite cable.

Madison was one who enjoyed a drink and he had a few corners who occasionally held a "bull's" late Saturday night in one of the livery stables. It was Madison's job to load his hack with articles of the fire. One morning "Friday" received a call from the Judge and hastened to answer. Arriving at the palatial residence of Judge McMullan, the cabby stepped down and politely opened the door for the Judge. Lo and behold the double seat in the cab was half filled with wood for the feast. However, the Judge good naturedly climbed in with the driver and was taken to the Court House.

There was a livery stable at one time near Arnold's Garage is now located, immediately west of the Grand Hotel. One of the oldest liveries was situated on York Street south and was operated by a man named Jewett. Later on the stable was taken over by the Workman's.

For some years William and James Workman operated a livery on Kent Street east, now the barn used by Charles Lamb, auctioneer. As the years passed the business of the livery became into being James Workman handled a cab and a horse and carriage. The livery which is today the home of his son James, who is well known as a mail carrier. Former Mayor of Lindsay Frank Armstrong built a large white brick lively stable on York Street south. It was one of the best in the entire area with the horses occupying stalls on the second floor and the carriages, sleighs and carts stored on the ground floor. Mr. Armstrong also built the brick residence at the corner of York and Russell Streets.

Bob and Charles Lindsay were among the best known liverymen with a stable on Cambridge Street, the present Colonial Bus Depot. Charles Lindsay went in for prize winning horse horses and he drove some of the best in the district. Ossie Dagenais also ran a livery stable in the same location on Cambridge Street and later moved to a large stable at the rear of what is still known as Elmure Lane on Kent Street, the lane running between Woodworth's and the Crest Hardware.

COINED NAME
At that time the old Daly House, the Pym Hotel and the Darch Hotel and the Elmure Hotel were operated on Kent Street. The Elmure was on the present location of the Woodworth store and received its name from the late F. W. Woodworth.

When Dagenais sold the livery business it was to a well known townswoman, Charles Lamb, now member of parliament for Victoria and Haliburton. Charlie prided himself on having good horses. His horses were always in the best of condition and he supplied good drivers.

James A. Isaac was a farmer in Fenelon Township and moved to Lindsay to open a livery business. He was called "Friday" Madison, the location being named after the best of good clients. Judge McMullan was one of his best customers. The good natured Judge lived on Mill Street and frequently called for his favorite cable. Madison was one who enjoyed a drink and he had a few corners who occasionally held a "bull's" late Saturday night in one of the livery stables. It was Madison's job to load his hack with articles of the fire. One morning "Friday" received a call from the Judge and hastened to answer. Arriving at the palatial residence of Judge McMullan, the cabby stepped down and politely opened the door for the Judge. Lo and behold the double seat in the cab was half filled with wood for the feast. However, the Judge good naturedly climbed in with the driver and was taken to the Court House.

The sale was the last wish of collector Dick Bennett, who died last week aged 74.

Lindsay Merchants Win Central Ontario Championship

Gananogue or Picton next on list

The Central Ontario Junior "C" Champions came home from Bradford last night doing the Tigers by the tail.

Lindsay Merchants had to come out of the gate with nothing deficit midway in the game to tie the score at the end of two periods. The final period to take the best of seven goal final four games to one.

Rick Purdy shot down the Tigers almost home handed last night with four goals. George Morasse and Ray McCabe completed the row. Dave Cotey fired two for the Tigers while Jack Foran notched the third. Tuesday night's game with the Merchants was the fifteenth game between the Merchants and Tigers this season, ten of them won by the Merchants. Of the remaining twenty-two games, ten were against New market and twelve against Junior "D" clubs.

Randy Reid had to come up with his best game this season to hold the Tigers in check in the first two periods, as the said Tigers came on, rough, tough, and nasty. While the Tigers were handing out a good share of high sticks and elbows, the Merchants were being tagged for retaliation with three minors and a major to Lindsay, and one minor to Aurora. Aurora took two penalties and Lindsay one in the middle frame, while The Merchants drew four minors in the final period.

Dave Cotey opened the scoring with a close in stab at 4:23 of the first period assisted by Jack Foran and Mike Davis. Following this goal, George Graham came off for elbowing after receiving a stick in the face. A half minute later Ray McCabe was tagged for five minutes for high sticking. The Merchants survived this shortage without damage, but a high sticking penalty to Bob Taylor at 13:37 cost a goal when Jack Foran fired and screened shot into the Lindsay cage.

Don Pillsworth, out in the mouth by a high stick, was given two minutes for high sticking at 15:33, and Abbie Moradale got two for slashing at 19:10 to close the books on the first period.

A second penalty to Aurora in the second period got Lindsay on the score-board. Len Bray served two for high sticking, and Jack Foran was sent off for holding at 11:22. With the power-play crew out for the Merchants, Rick Purdy and Goodmakers cleanly with Morasse and Babcock settling up the play. The Merchants led the more in the first two seconds of the second period when George Morasse fired from the point after receiving George Graham's rickshaw pass.

Rick Purdy's third period hit back opened curtains for the Tigers for this season, as he threaded the needle from six or eight feet out with screened shots. Rick's first goal came at 2:53 of the period to tie the Merchants their first lead, assisted by Morasse.

Rick's third and fourth goal of the night were both unassisted efforts as his fore checking paid off. After bundling the Tigers around their net, Rick fired through the maze to hit open space in the Tiger net, unassisted by Goodmakers. Scoring at 7:50 and 13:06 to give the Merchants a five to two lead.

Jim Golden was in the bin for tripping when the sixth Lindsay goal was hatched. It was a picture goal all the way, as Ray McCabe broke in the clear at the Tiger blue line, and taked Goodmakers out of the net before pushing the disc over the line. George Graham unassisted 7:50; T. Lindsay, Purdy unassisted 13:06; Lindsay, R. McCabe unassisted 15:07; R. Aurora, Cotey, from Foran 17:55. Penalties: McCabe (trip) 4:34; Golden (trip) 14:46; Graham (hold) 16:37; a Peel (hold) 17:55.

Referees: John Sullivan and Gordon Favreau of Toronto.

Kiwanis

Wheels of fortune and lotteries were the main source of revenue, but in recent years have been barred by Kiwanis International. It was common matter to take in many hours of sand of dollars at the blank wheel, the hardware wheel, deodands and grocery wheel at the dart and milk bottle games, and at crown and an end game. At one carnival the Club realized over $10,000 profit.

Winter carnivals and the Ploodyfins Circus took up the entire floor space of the armchairs, and attractions included a motor show, hobby show, dancing, and amateur concerts, door prizes included.

Dispersments in those days included donations to the Ross Memorial Hospital, totalling $25,000; $15,000 to the Red River Valley Relief Fund, made up of a Club donation plus donations by members. $800 was sent to the Kiwanis Hall at the Boys' Training School at Bowmanville.

The Kiwanis Club erected a toboggan slide just north of the Collegiate costing $700. A wading pool for children near the same cost $600. Providing insurance for the boys had cost $900. They sponsored the Santa Claus Stocking Pull, the Lindsay Red Coat Club, provided eye glasses and tonsil operations for underprivileged children, sent boys to summer camp and pair travel for underprivileged children at the Baker Business College.

The Kiwanis Club built and equipped the Kiwanis Arena and Recreation Centre, valued at $75,000 and $100,000, which was later taken over to the town.

Historical data and international Club history was provided at Tuesday's meeting by past presidents Ford Mosses and Harry Petrie. A feature at the noon hour meeting included an oratorical contest by Susan Hutchinson, 21, winner of the Canadian Legion public speaking contest, and two other winners, Robert Tompkins, a pupil of Kiwanian William Perry.

Only two vote against Ensign for Ontario

Toronto (UPI) — Only two members of the Ontario Legislature voted against Premier John Robarts motion yesterday to make a modified version of the Red Ensign the province's official flag.

Elmer Sopha, Sudbury and Leam Torg, Nipissing, both Liberals, were the two rebels against the motion. At one Liberal leader Andrew Thompson voted for the motion.

Both Thompson and New Democratic party leader Donald MacDonald had assured Robarts that their parties would support his motion.

However, Sopha spoke up in the legislature and branded the Red Ensign as a flag of revenge in an emotional and heated speech.

He urged the premier to drop his motion and instead to get an all-party committee which would report in a year.

Yesterday's lopsided vote was the first time Robarts way for a third reading, a formally after only three hours of debate.

Choir praised at Festival

Adjudicators praised a choir from the Dunstons school, which sang "A Spring Song" in three parts at the Peterborough Music Festival recently. The adjudicators remarked on the group's singing ability and their interpretation of the song. The choir was under the direction of Irene Coulter.

Lucky Taylor, 17, of Kilmount, placed second in the professional pianist class and third in the 13-years and under class. He played two sonatas in the competition. The adjudicators were from the British Isles.

PHOTOGRAPHY CAN MAKE YOUR HOBBY MORE PRODUCTIVE AND REWARDING

Photographing your hobby adds another dimension of pleasure to your leisure-time activity and provides practical results as well. A picture of that favorite bloom makes an attractive wall or mantel picture as well as preserving the beauty of a prize-winning flower.

Gardening, model railroad-tracing backgrounds, and getting closer to your subject matter. — whatever your leisure-time activity — photography can make it more interesting, more productive and more rewarding.

Pictures serve as records, mementos, publicity material, teaching devices and make excellent shopwrecks for the home or office desk. Let's look at some picture-taking hints for hobbies; although well concentrate on two specific activities: gardening and model railroad tracing, keep in mind that the same photographic principles can readily be adapted to any hobby — your hobby.

If your interest happens to be raising flowers, you've a goldmine of photogenic material. If you want soft lighting on a flower when shooting on a bright sunny day, hold a sheet over the flower, forming a canopy. This will diffuse the light and produce an interesting, effective glow.

To obtain a "dewy" effect, sprinkle a few drops of water on the bloom. To photograph a single bloom that is among massed flowers or against a distracting background, put skilful cardboard behind the flower and tape it apart from neighbors. You can get bigger, better close-ups of blooms using a simple magnifying camera by using an inexpensive close-up attachment and adjusting the lens.

Perspective, lighting and focus are three points to control when photographing any hobby. Focus is critical at close range; you might want to use a "reminder" string to the bottom of your camera, the string being the exact focusing length of your inexpensive close-up attachment. This way you're sure to have sharp pictures.

STAMP NEWS

U.S. Postmaster General John A. Gronouski yesterday made public the design of the Magna Carta commemorative postage stamp which will be issued with first day ceremonies June 15 in Jamestown, Virginia.

The 5-cent stamp marks the 750th anniversary of the great charter, the basis of English and American common law.

Design is by Brook Trempe, New York City artist, who makes his debut on a postage stamp with a highly-distinctive rendition of the conflict between King John and his rebellious barons. The horizontal stamp is in two panels, gold background at the top, purple at the bottom. In the top panel, in black, is a procession of barons, their banners flying defiantly in the lower panel is the crown, in black. This subordinate position symbolizes the triumph of the people over the king.

Vignette and background were engraved by Arthur W. Dintaman; date, lettering and numerals are by George A. Payne, of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. Print order for the GPO press is 152,000,000.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Jamestown, Virginia 23801. Postage stamps and personal checks will not be accepted in payment of the new issue. The envelope to the Postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers Magna Carta Stamp." Orders for covers must not include requests for uncanceled stamps. Requests must be postmarked not later than June 15.

On Runnymede meadow, along the Thames, the angry barons told King John that there was no place for seutage in such an enlightened age as the year 1215.

Seutage is a levy that the king laid on men if they wished to be absolved from military duty was becoming more and more onerous. There had been stirrings of discontent a few years earlier when Richard the Lion Hearted had used seutage to finance his expensive Crusade and to make matters worse when the king was captured the nobility had to chip in to pay his ransom.

A month before Runnymede, the barons had renounced their allegiance and named Robert Fitzwiler their leader. They meant business King John reluctantly put his seal to the document they wanted on June 15, 1215 and the divine right of kings had been challenged.

The Magna Carta checkreined abuses of royal power. Neither the king nor his heirs were to take a man's timber for castle-building or any royal work without the consent of the owner of the wood.

All persons were free to come and go as they liked, except serfs.

Land could not be seized for non-payment of debt unless the debtor did not have sufficient chattels to pay up.

Standardization of weights and measures was established. Wine, ale and corn were to be packaged in the "London quarters" and all cloth was to be made to the identical breadth.

And feudal vassalage was kept in her proper place. No one was to be imprisoned for murder upon the complaint of a woman unless the victim hap-

Income Tax Anyone?

by Professor Tax

"My wife and I were married, in August, 1964 and she quit her job prior to the marriage. Her income before marriage was approximately $1850. In addition, she received a refund of her pension of the amount of $375.60. After marriage, she started at a new job and earned $602.50 in the first year of the year. Do I include the whole $2,868.10 on my 1964 income tax return and claim my wife as a personal exemption?" R. H. E.

Your tax return states that you may claim a $1,250 deduction for a wife who is income during the year while married does not exceed $1,250. In this case, you may claim the $1,250 less the income earned while married. Your exemption will be $1,250.00 less $642.50, or $607.50. Your wife will be taxable on all of her income for 1964 and be allowed personal exemption of $1,000. However, the $375.60 pension refund need not be taxed at regular income tax rates. She may elect to pay tax at a special rate. This special tax is calculated as follows: Total of Income tax payable for 1961, 1962 and 1963 Over the net incomes for 1961, 1962 and 1963 multiplied by the special rate equals the special tax.

In most cases, this tax will be paid by her husband.

To enforce the charter, the barons named a watchdog committee of 25 and if the king did not correct an infraction within forty days there was to be a rebellion.

War soon broke out. King John imported French mercenaries and the barons later sought aid in Louis of France whom they wanted for the king. Whereupon the French mercenaries deserted John. Even so, he was able to subdue the northern barons but while campaigning in the south came down with dysentery and died in 1216.

The charter was amended in 1217, 1218 and 1225. Four copies of the original document have been preserved.

be less than if the refund were included as part of regular income. This special tax is shown on your wife's income tax return as a "tax adjustment".

"My son attended university last year as an engineering student. During his summer vacation he earned approximately $1,500.00. From this, he paid $550 in tuition fees to the university. Since I supported him while at university, am I entitled to claim a deduction for my son on my 1964 tax return?" J. R. N.

Your son's income less the tuition fees did not exceed $950, and as a result, you may claim a full exemption of $550 for your student son.

"I have been bed-ridden for the past year with a heart condition. An insurance policy will try to answer as many questions as possible in this column."

I have paid into for 3 years now pays me $200.00 every month. This special tax is shown on your wife's income tax return as a "tax adjustment".

The receipt of insurance monies do not constitute income for income tax purposes and are not to be included on your income tax return. For tax purposes, these payments are treated as the same as workmen's compensation benefits, etc.

Readers are invited to send their questions concerning their income tax to "Income Tax Anyone", c/o Lindsay Daily Post, Lindsay, Ontario. We regret that personal replies cannot be made, but we will try to answer as many questions as possible in this column.

An exclusive interview with St. Patrick

Editors note: In the following exclusive interview with St. Patrick, obtained by a link-up utterly impossible outside Ireland and beyond comprehension of the alien mind, the national apostle discusses some aspects of the changing face of Ireland.

By Donald O Higgins

Dublin (UPI) — "First of all, St. Patrick, I would like to express appreciation on behalf of all Irishmen for your kindness in granting this interview, the first of its kind in recent times."

St. Patrick: "Not at all, it is indeed a very rare pleasure to talk to one of me own."

Question: "Now that the celebration of your feast day has assumed worldwide proportions, how is Ireland here today?"

St. Patrick: "Ireland has always been a country of good spirits — I refer, of course, to the people — and it has been a source of some pride to me to see the ever-growing advance of my feast to one of me own."

Question: "In bygone days the festivities marking our national holiday often led to excesses in drink and gave rise to the false impression abroad."

Fishmen were a bawling, hard-drinking, trouble-loving race. Would you care to comment on the different picture presented by the Irishmen of today?"

St. Patrick: "I have indeed, it has been a source of great comfort to me. Not that I'm the sort to say I told you so but we have our doubters."

"But I have always felt the real story of Ireland lies in her people. They have been the heart of what would have become of the world as you know it today."

Recreation Commission Ask For $47,000 An Increase Over 1964

A $47,000 recreation budget was presented to members of Lindsay Town Council at their committee meeting Monday night by commission chairman Her Simpson.

Chairman Simpson was commended for his capable presentation and was assured of the careful consideration of council.

The increase over the 1964 budget figures designed to promote a "progressive programme for all the people" concerned two new projects the Recreation Commission is considering instituting. The two new projects accounted for $6,000, both of which items had not heretofore been promoted by the commission.

The $4,500 of the major increase is an estimated expense for the installation of floodlights for softball and minor baseball at the George Street ball park. Her Simpson said assurance had been made by the Men's Softball President Walter Stewart that Man's Softball would repay $8,000 over a period of five years, promising $600 per year.

Softball president Walter Stewart said the net proceeds from the playoffs last fall had amounted to $300 when the games were moved to George Street and played at 5:00 p.m. He suggested a $5 registration fee for players would net $300 per year if gate receipts were sufficient.

The softball president also indicated that plans for 1965 softball included the forming of a midwest league of four teams to be operated by the sponsors of the senior teams. Provision for accommodation for senior citizens accounted for a $1500 item in the budget.

Guest speaker from Bell relates history at W.I. meet

Bethany (PNS) — Mr. Keith Harrison, officer of the Bell Telephone Company in Peterborough, was guest speaker at the Women's Institute meeting held Monday night in the United Church Sunday School Hall.

Mr. Harrison spoke on "The History of Communication" and gave a prologue of tomorrow. Showing drawings and pictures of progress made since primitive times, Mr. Harrison pointed out the first Morse telegraph invented by Samuel Morse in 1832. Twenty-six years later the first telegraph cable was installed across the Atlantic ocean. In 1876 Alexander Graham Bell invented the first telephone and 1878 saw the first Central Office built in Hamilton, Ont. In 1932 the Trans-Canada Telephone System was opened to the general public. The first transistor was developed in the Bell Laboratories. A telephone cable was placed across the Atlantic in 1956.

"Radio and Television are all the outcome of the telephone system. One of the first radio stations in the Buffalo-Toronto-Montreal system is located just west of Bethany," he said.

Mr. Harrison discussed the new space missiles, satellites, Tel-Star, and the communications control made possible by the new Electronic Central Office. He predicted telephones becoming smaller and smaller, a far cry from the first cumbersome wall phones. The now modern dial phones will be replaced by a push button system. Already picture telephones are being manufactured and have been shown at the World's Fair. Direct long distance dialing through area codes has been perfected and will soon be in common use," he continued.

In conclusion Mr. Harrison said "We are living in a changing world; things happening so fast, it is almost breathtaking in comparison with 100 years ago. We must become educated to change; we must understand the reason for it and make it work for us."

The speaker was introduced and thanked by Mrs. Thomas Jennings, convener of Canadian Institutes.

Mrs. Harry Ryley presided for the meeting and announced that the Girls 4-H club would be commencing a new unit next week with seventeen members.

It was planned to hold a sale of home baking on March 20th at White's Barber Shop, with Mrs. T. Jennings and Mrs. H. Ryley appointed as sales ladies.

The motto for the meeting was "It is one thing to itch for something, another thing to scratch for it." was replied to by Mrs. Earl Weatherill reading a poem. The roll call was answered with the name of a locally manufactured article. Mrs. Emery Smith expressed thanks for Sunshine basket during her recent illness. Letters of thanks were read from Mrs. Ross Carr.

Sweep!

Bankers who are at times wizards at handling digits are also good at curing. This was demonstrated Saturday in a local sweep sponsored by the Toronto-Dominion Bank and organized by the local masonic Bill Moore. The "sweep" was attended by ninety-five curiers.

The sixth game made the amount of money accumulated by the amount of energy expended and at the same time resulted in the event being held at a reasonable hour. Visitors who came from as far north as Sudbury were entertained well satisfied and many of them shared in the distribution of a large number of prizes.

The draw was in the capable hands of Lou Walker, past president of the Lindsay Curling Club.

The toast to The Queen was proposed by Lindsay Jeffrey. The Rev. R. McLean welcomed all to the church, this was followed by the introduction of head table guests by Mrs. Robinson.

CELEBRATE ST. PATRICK'S DAY WITH IRISH MENU

It's a well-known fact that St. Patrick's Day is celebrated more on this side of the water than it is in old Ireland. In fact, in Ireland it is a Holy Day. But since the North Americans always like an excuse for a party, "the weariness of the green" seems to be a popular one.

In addition to wearing a touch of green on St. Patrick's Day, how about adding an Irish touch to the menu you serve that day?

Have you ever heard of Irish Soda Bread? Somewhat like a cake-bread, it has a crisp brown crust, formed round a nutty sweet flavoured bread which contains morsels of raisins and caraway seeds. Soda Bread served right from the oven with a welcome treat for the family.

IRISH SODA BREAD
2 cups all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1/2 cup butter, margarine or hydrogenated vegetable shortening, 1/2 cup seedless raisins, 2 teaspoons caraway seeds (optional), 3 tablespoons Heinz White Vinegar, 1/4 cup milk.

Heat oven to 375 deg. F. Sift flour with next 4 ingredients. Cut in butter with knives or pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse meal. Stir in raisins and caraway seeds. Mix together vinegar and milk, stirring vigorously with a fork until dry ingredients are moistened.

Turn out onto a lightly floured board; knead gently 8 to 10 times, shape into round loaf. Place in a greased 8-inch pie plate. Cut a cross from side of loaf, brush top with milk, and bake for a nice glaze. Bake for 45 minutes or until a little spongy. Brush top with milk, clean or tap gently on bottom. If it sounds hollow it is baked.

Remove from pan and let stand at least 1 hour on wire rack before cutting into pie shaped wedges or slices. Serve warm with butter. Makes 8-10 servings.

Q. What is the best way to iron pleated skirts?
A. First press the hem on the wrong side, then on the right side. Place on the ironing board and pin the pleats at intervals of three or four inches, to the board pad. Be sure not to catch the fabric where the pins will show. Iron from the top to the bottom of the skirt, removing all pins as you go — not ironing over them.

Q. How can I prevent puckering when stitching sheer and stiff fabrics such as tulle?
A. Place an in-wide strip of paper under the seam line while stitching, and stitch through the entire thing. After your seam is finished, the paper will tear away quite easily.

Q. How can I prevent ribbon from fraying?
A. By applying colorless fingernail polish to the ribbon ends.

Drilling Glass
Here's one way to make a perfect hole in glass. First cover the area where the hole is to be made with putty, forming a hole in the putty to the size of the hole you wish in the glass. Then try to hit the "well," a little melted lead, and unless the glass is exceptionally thick, a perfect hole will result.

ICE-CUBE REFRIGERATOR
When returning ice-cube trays to the refrigerator after removing the cubes, refill the trays with hot water. This will help keep the defrosting to a minimum.

Handy Cement
You can make your own cement for mending glass, china or metal items, simply by melting common alum in a glass spoon.

SWISS AND SOUR BAKED CHICKEN

Chicken broilers are tender young chickens marketed from 6 to 10 weeks of age; they usually weigh 1 1/2 to 4 pounds. Broilers are available either as whole birds, or as halves, or pieces. When purchasing broilers, choose firm, well-fleshed birds with no bruises or discolorations. Allow three quarters pound per average serving.

Broilers are an economical buy all year round, point out for specialists at Macdonald Institute Grocery. Roasted, barbecued or baked, Ontario-grown broilers provide many delicious and varied meals. Try baked chicken with sweet and sour sauce the next time you serve broilers.

Sweet and Sour Chicken

3 pounds chicken, cut in serving pieces, flour, salt and pepper.
Place flour, salt and pepper in a paper or plastic bag. Add chicken 2 or 3 pieces at a time. Shake and remove flour-coated pieces. Fry until golden-brown. Drain off excess oil.

Brush food chicken carefully with sauce. Pour remaining sauce over chicken which has been placed in a casserole. Bake, covered, at 350 degrees F. for 30 minutes. Bake occasionally with sauce. Remove lid and bake, uncovered, 15 minutes longer. Four servings.

Shine On Serge
The shine can be removed from serge fabrics by rubbing over the "mottled-like" areas with hot vinegar, and then sponging with ammonia.

HOW CAN I ???
Q. How can I prolong the life of a typewriter ribbon?
A. If the letters are beginning to show up faint, fill a small oil can with olive oil and lubricate your ribbon with it while running it from spool to spool. Allow to stand for a day, and chances are you'll be surprised at the heavy black ink it then produces.

Committee recommends Valentine

replace retiring county engineer

"The next session of the Victoria County Council will take place the second week of June," Clark Frank Welton reminded council members following the hiring of county engineer and roads superintendent Harold Wilford on a consultant basis after his retirement on June 1st, 1965. "With this in mind," the clerk continued, "consideration should be given to hiring a county engineer at that time."

Members of the 1964 roads and bridges committee all spoke highly of the work of present assistant engineer David Valentine, and Bobcaygeon reeve Hillard Murphy noted that David Valentine, he agreed as county engineer and roads superintendent to succeed Harold Wilford as of June 1st, 1965, if a satisfactory agreement can be arranged with Mr. Valentine by the roads and bridges committee.

But, let us not think that the number of jobs is decreasing. In fact, we actually require more workers able to meet the demands of our modern society. So many teenagers are quitting school and getting minor jobs as gas station hands, waitresses or clerks, that other companies are actually suffering. They will pay top salaries for skilled workers.

Acquiring these skills, though is the drawback for many. The idea of going to high school or university does not appeal to those in search of money or independence.

But let us realize the opportunity or advantage in further education.

In our school system there is a network of subjects interrelated and interwoven, but all having an exclusive task. Music will help you appreciate it all at its best, the rhythm for modern dances cannot be acquired if you have not had previous music training, and the greatest release lies in being able to sing or play a tune on key.

Your speed is increased, you learn to distinguish literature from simple stories and you comprehend every word you read if you study English in school.

History will help you understand the present-day world crisis. You learn the origin of some of the foods.

The list could go on and on, pointing out every subject is a valuable subject, but I hope you are not that very naive.

Early Installation of Sewage Treatment Plants at Bobcaygeon, Feneon and Inlet

Delay due economic factor—OWRC

G. M. Galimbert, Assistant General Manager of the Ontario Water Resources Commission, commenting on sewerage treatment at Port Perry, Feneon Falls and Bobcaygeon told "The Post" the Division of Sanitary Engineering carries out a regular programme throughout Ontario of pollution surveys to point out the need for the provision of sewerage treatment to municipal councils.

"In some instances," Mr. Galimbert said, "we find that the early installation of treatment must be delayed due to the economic factor." He said he doubted that there was a council in Ontario that did not realize the necessity of providing people treatment yet under financing conditions that exist today, some councils find it difficult to forward as quickly as they would desire.

Mr. Galimbert said it was his understanding that Port Perry has now secured the services of a consulting engineer firm to give their council an appreciation of the costs involved in the provision of sewerage treatment. This was the first major step on the road to an installation.

"You are probably aware that Feneon Falls went forward with a water system a few years ago," remarked Mr. Galimbert, who added, "Ordinarily it is not customary for a municipality of that size to have sludge treatment until a reasonable period of time has elapsed. He pointed out that the commission's pollution surveys indicated there was some pollution at Bobcaygeon from a brewery, but the worst problem in that area gave little cause for concern. "In fact," he said, "there appears more need for the provision of a water supply for at least one part of that municipality than sewerage treatment."

Mr. Galimbert said while he was not sure that the early progress in these three municipalities toward sewerage treatment, but there was little doubt that eventually treatment would be provided, particularly at Port Perry and Feneon Falls. In all probability the lagging type of disposal would be given every consideration just as it was at Lindsay. An alternative type, he said, the oxidation ditch, sewerage treatment in Europe was the first major step on the road to an installation.

STOP!... killing yourself

A FEW TIPS ON HOW TO COMMIT SLOW SUICIDE

So many continue to write, completely frustrated and horrified, as they stand by and watch a husband (or wife) actually commit slow suicide. What can we do, they ask?

These tips are really potential killers.

If you have coronary disease, don't hesitate to hurry up a half-dozen flights of stairs when the elevator is out of order. Be sure to run after a bus. Deep into the snow drifts on your sidewalk. And when your doctor has warned that you have a high cholesterol and has given you a special diet-kill up on cream, fatty meats, fried foods, cream, eggs and pasta.

Say I've never needed a vacation in my life and am starting now. Keep on smoking a pack or two a day because you just couldn't stand it if you were made to give them up suddenly.

Stay fat. Be overambitious. Refuse to sit in the back row and let the younger fellows take over the platform.) Fly into a rage now and then and send your blood pressure soaring.

Be a fatalist. Say: "When my number's up, it's up! There's really nothing doctors can do for coronary patients."

(Which of these methods of slow suicide do I recommend? Frankly, the choice is yours. However, I guarantee that a sooner or later any one of them will tip you over into oblivion.)

If you are a middle-aged adult, forget that your arteries are 40 (and even) are no longer teen-aged arteries. Forget that their elasticity is less. Forget that like older tie tubes they have had pinpoint punctures (which nature has silently healed). Forget that when you travel too fast a small puncture may suddenly be transformed into terrifying, health-shattering, bloodshot. Forget that a middle-aged heart has already beat over a billion times. You may think it is in good condition for a used or second-hand car, nevertheless, it has seen a lot of mileage and deserves loving care.

Forget that you are unconscious way to go!"

aciously trying to prove to yourself or others that the old mare is still as good as she used to be. Play 72 holes of golf on a weekend; five sets of tennis singles with a teen-ager, or take overly vigorous calisthenics every day to keep fit.

If you have lately noticed one of the well-publicized warnings about cancer: Be sure to disregard it! Keep repeating to yourself: "Cancer warnings are nothing but scare warnings. The American Cancer Society's greatest thrill is scaring up people to death by cancer can even get to us." (Of all the ways of committing slow suicide it is the slowest, but surest.)

If you are fat ("obese," "overweight"—the nicer terms). Say that way. Don't let anybody talk you into reducing. Fall back on the excuse: "Statistics often lie." Or, as a 200-pound executive said recently at a dinner meeting while lip-smacking over second helping of pie a la mode, "Eating too much." But what a pleasant

"I know something like that would happen when I die, but that central heating."

Nevertheless the realities are not so pleasant: diabetes, high blood pressure, coronary artery disease, gall bladder trouble, cerebral thrombosis (big strokes or little strokes) and kidney disease.

(Call me a killjoy—and see if I care. If you insist on slow killing yourself, these are some of the ways to do it. There are others ways. Read Part 2 tomorrow on a few tips on how to commit slow suicide.)

STOP!... killing yourself

By Peter J. Stenerson, MD, F.A.C.P.

A FEW TIPS ON HOW TO COMMIT SUICIDE (Part 2)

Yesterday, in answer to so many who anxiously stared by and helplessly watched a family member actually destroy himself and I, continue taking how many to about killing themselves prematurely.

If you take an ounce or two of liquor every day. Make it a rule to do this about 15 minutes before you plan to get behind the wheel of your car (or boat, or plane). A corking (or pun intended) year for that is Christmas or New Year's Eve. Your chances of getting into a serious accident are thereby increased at least 50 per cent. If you are killed outright, you will be the exception that proves the rule that these tips are for slow suicide.

If you have Burger's disease or other legary trouble, keep smoking against doctor's orders! It's the surest way of losing a leg or two by amputation.

If you continue to be a resentful or hateful person: I suspect that you will ultimately put a hole in your stomach of your blood pressure; the choice you have to make is whether to be called a nagger or to become a nagged widow. If you live in tension that it's better to be called a nagger and have a live husband than to become a nagged widow.

Even if you are fortunate enough to escape organic disease, you will have committed slow suicide by living in discontent (itself a living death), because you will learn that you have been hurting yourself more than you have the respite.

If you are ill and haven't learned to say "no" you are a proper candidate for early exit. For example the late of a Laverton Brown, M.D., once said: "After all, the most important thing to be able to control is one's self. Unless a patient can say 'no' when the occasion arises his chances for getting well are very slight. He can tear down in one day or in an hour what it has taken many months to build up." A man often dies on account of his disposition rather than on account of his disease.

If you don't believe in helping your husband to take care of himself. Remember that it is And keep on taking quarts of cough mixture for the cough that hangs on. After all, chronic coughs don't all turn out to be due to TB or cancer. Whatever you do, procrastinate! That's the surest way to commit slow suicide. That's putting the onus of the disease rather on your own. There's no time like getting to your doctor too late to check an illness. It's almost foolproof. Oh, I could go on and on and give you many other tips. But the few I have suggested should alert you - you are interested in staying alive, keeping healthy and enjoying the rest of your life.

Have I been facetious? Ironically Not at all. I have never been serious in my life. Too many (thousands) go about committing slow suicide. Perhaps these counsels will help transform you into living more sensibly. Slow suicide can be as deadly, if not as dramatic, as sudden extinction by the gun, poison or the rope. EMO REPORT

EMERGENCY PLANNING for the Post Office Department is based upon the development and implementation of a wide spread network of services which could be quickly brought into operation under circumstances prearranged.

POSTAL SERVICE At first thought one might wonder just where the Post Office entered into emergency planning. While rain, hail - etc., will not deter the postman in his appointed rounds, he could be forgiven for not venturing forth in nuclear fallout.

The role of the Post Office would be played in the period following the "All Clear" when everyone would be wondering about the welfare of members of his family and preparing to rebuild their lives.

A primary function of the Post Office from the point of view of the public will be the distribution and delivery of mail.

Both the postcards are for use only for civil defence purposes in time of war and will be obtainable free at Welfare Registration Points and at Post Office Government.

MORALE BOOSTERS This card designed "Safety Notification Postcard" is to be completed and mailed immediately after evacuation or attack.

In any person who may be concerned about a safety. The "Emergency Change of Address Postcard" is to be forwarded to the Postmaster of city or point of origin, emergency address and will bear the previous and present addresses.

It is extremely difficult for many Canadians to visualize the conditions which would exist after an attack and why these cards are necessary. War veterans and those who have experienced the devastation of previous wars realize the chaos which exists when roads are destroyed, all types of ordinary vehicles stalled, telephones and electricity out of commission, and food, clothing and medical supplies limited.

In nuclear warfare, to all these difficulties is added the all pervading danger of contamination by nuclear fallout which may delay recovery operations, days or weeks.

In such conditions, travel might be prohibited to all but officials performing essential tasks, which could include the routing of military mail service.

These cards are intended to provide answers to vital questions confronting people under an attack. "Where is my family?" "How are they?" The father of a family may be obliged to take shelter or be evacuated from the site of his job; his wife may seek refuge in the home shelter or perhaps with a neighbourhood group and the children taken care of by their various relatives.

It is fun to follow the "tale" of his lively kites on towers of stilette cloth, mat. Simple stilette pattern 7438: 36 7's x 36 inches.

mail and necessary medical supplies. This entails elaborate back group organization so that the Post Office may be able to provide the best possible postal service under whatever circumstances prevail.

Bearing in mind that large family largely arrangements must be made for the relocation of their Post Offices and resumption of service with a minimum of delay.

It would be necessary to cope with such hazards as absence of regular staff, lack of equipment and limited facilities. There must be some provision made for continuity of the role of responsibility in the event of casualties: preservation of necessary records and alternate accommodation and transportation facilities.

At the time, type and extent of a possible attack cannot be foretold, all emergency measures will be planned on a nationwide basis to cope with any eventuality.

It has already been announced that the Post Office is one of the Federal Departments to be represented in the Emergency Government. The Post Office Department must, therefore, be prepared to play its role at central and regional levels.

Plans must be formulated for the postal service operation on a regional basis until it is possible to establish communication with Headquarters. The service may even be required to operate on a Provincial, district or perhaps a Post Office basis to serve patients. Some or all of these activities may have to be carried on during the evacuation period.

These are but a few of the considerations facing the postal planners. Detailed plans are being made not only to handle emergency postal service but also to co-ordinate these activities with the emergency planning of other departments.

ON THE MAIN STREET

With FORD MOYNES

It has been surprising and somewhat remarkable the number of times the Academy Theatre has been used in the past twelve months. Equally surprising has been the degree of support shown in the part of Lindsay and district people as well as people from a distance.

Tickets for "Spring Thru" were sold to theatre groups from Oshawa, Cambridge, Peterboro, Fenelon Falls and Bobayconge. Of primary importance has been the interest shown in local or amateur shows and in this regard much credit can be traced to the Lindsay Little Theatre group which has been in favour for many years, dating back to the time when the late Fulton Stewart was one of the prime movers, organizers and instructors.

This particular group has been the underpinning for a number of shows in the past few years and it was encouraging.

More assistant heads needed at LCVI — Board

A change in the method of appointing heads of departments and assistant heads of departments could cost the Victoria County High School Board up to $140,000 if the board were to "go all the way" with salaries and make the changes immediately.

O. G. Locke, chairman of the Teachers Advisory Committee told a meeting of the board Wednesday.

Mr. Locke said he didn't expect it would cost the board this much, however, because the teachers indicated they would be willing to negotiate the salaries.

He said it would be necessary to appoint some assistant heads of departments.

The board approved changing the system of appointment.

LCVI and FFHS suffer teacher losses this year

W. S. W. Breeze, LCVI principal told a meeting of the Victoria County High School Board Wednesday he was wasting his time advertising for a new department head unless he could make a sound offer in salary.

Mr. Breeze said he advertised for a department head and received only one reply.

None of the people who replied accepted the position.

Both Mr. Breeze and the principal of the Fenelon Falls High School, Ross Sturges told the board they were having difficulty getting teachers.

Two teachers have resigned from the LCVI this year. One resigned from the Fenelon Falls High School. Another teacher will resign from the Fenelon Falls High School this year.

Mr. Breeze said he will have a big battle with the board from trying to get teachers but, he said, it is cheaper than staying at the Parkville Hotel in Toronto trying to hire teachers.

Term marks will count more in the final standards of grade 13 students than in grade 13 students than that of a Royal Commission report.

W. S. W. Breeze, principal of the LCVI told a meeting of the board Wednesday that the board should not be misled by the LCVI report.

Mr. Breeze said the final examinations will be determined whether a student passed or failed, but the report of the board should not be misled by the LCVI report.

HIGH SCHOOL BOARD APPROVE CHANGE FOR DEPARTMENT HEAD APPOINTMENTS

The Victoria County District High School Board approved a change Wednesday, approved a change in the manner in which heads of departments are appointed. The request for the change followed negotiations between the teachers of the high school and the Teachers Advisory Committee.

The recommendation, presented by the chairman of the committee, Rev. O. G. Locke, came in resolution form asking that appointments for department heads be based on teaching periods rather than on the number of teachers in each department as it has been in the past.

The new system, which is to be used in most major high schools in Ontario, is a more equitable way of arriving at department heads, Rev. Locke told the board.

W.S.W. Breeze, principal of the LCVI, said that in the past a few years ago department heads were mainly responsible for the teaching and arranging for examinations. He said since the introduction of the Robertson system, the department heads have been responsible for the teaching and arranging for examinations.

Youth remanded for sentencing

Kevin Oakley, 17, a ward of the Children's Aid Society in Toronto was convicted on four charges of break, enter and theft and one charge of break, enter and attempted theft in Lindsay Police Court Wednesday. The youth was remanded one week for sentencing.

Minden OPP Constable Dean Elliott said the youth was apprehended at one of the five cottages he broke into, in the Drug River resort area, on March 9, while police were investigating break-ins following a private complaint.

He said the accused entered by breaking windows in the cottages. He said the accused was going to set up house-keeping in the cottage he was apprehended in. From other cottages the accused took food and clothing.

Last November, Oakley was convicted on 15 charges of breaking into cottages and returned to the custody of the Toronto Children's Aid Society, the court was told.

Income Tax Anyone?

by Professor Tax

"Some time ago, I read in the newspapers that the income tax on life insurance policies may be deducted in calculating my income and income tax, to this correct and if so, where do I show this on my income tax return?"

It is true that a portion of premiums paid on certain types of life insurance policies may be deducted from income for tax purposes. In order for this to be the proper type of policy must be registered with the income tax department as a registered retirement savings plan. The savings portion of the annual premium may then be shown on your income tax return as a payment to a retirement savings plan. Insurance premiums on this acceptable type of policy may be broken down into two categories — protection for the face amount of the policy payable on the death of the insured and savings that accumulates as cash surrender value or cash value. It is this savings portion that income tax may be deductible.

In 1964, I had several jobs during the year with several employers. Some of them did not deduct any income tax from my pay and did not and I did not report my wages to the government and that these wages were not shown on my 1964 tax return. A W. All income whether or not reported by the employer of your policy to the income tax department must be included on your income tax return. An employer is obliged to prepare a T-4 return for you only if the wages paid to you by him were $250, or more or if he deducted income tax from your

Two highly important matters were dealt with at the annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society Tuesday night. The Society unanimously decided to amalgamate with the C.A.S. at Peterboro and the announcement was made of the retirement of Allan Blewett as Supervisor or Manager of the local organization.

Mr. Blewett wished to retire a couple of years ago but was persuaded to retain his position. Although Mr. Blewett's retirement does not come as a surprise, there are hundreds of citizens who regret this highly esteemed conscientious and capable of official has decided to relinquish the reins of authority. Thirty years of service to the Society constitutes a fine record in the service of humanity. His recognized capability has been matched at all times by his sincere sympathy and kindness for people in circumstances of misfortune. Many through no fault of their own.

Many a boy or girl, many a parent has thanked and will continue to thank Allan Blewett for his acts of charity and heroism. He is deserving of comfort and ease, as well as good health in his retirement. Thirty years ago Mr. Allan Blewett succeeded Mr. Alex. Clarke as Superintendent of the C.A.S. and Alex. Clarke is remembered by many as "Sunday", the gentleman who conducted singing lessons Sunday nights at the Academy Theatre. They will also remember him as a one-time merchant tailor.

Previous to Mr. Clarke's connection with the C.A.S. the officer in charge was Mrs. Helen Sharpe who was a pioneer in the work, not only in Victoria County, but in Ontario Province. Mrs. Sharpe served faithfully and well in trying times, and under adverse circumstances.

This work of mercy to ward off downward humanity has been carried on in Lindsay and district since the early nineties.

Gans beat Picton — meet Merchants here Friday night

Ganauque defeated Picton Tuesday night 5-2 to take the Eastern Ontario Championship four games to three. This sets up the East Central Ontario Championship round between Ganauque and Lindsay.

The first game of the best of seven east-central Championship series will be played at the Kiwanis Arena Friday night at 9:00 p.m. The second game of the series goes to Ganauque Sunday night at 7:30 p.m. Before the start of the first game, a toss will be made for the location of the third game.

In the northern section, Barrie Sports defeated Peterborough Hurons Monday night to take the series on three and two lines. Barrie Sports will now start a series with Metter for the Northern Championship.

World news today

Cape Kennedy — U.S. Scientists say the Gemini space flight chucked up an American "first" that comparable Soviet shots have yet to achieve. They cited the ability of astronauts Virgil Grisson and John Young to maneuver their space craft three years yesterday during their three orbit space voyage. Project Gemini spokesman said this will prove a major advantage in future flights, including the scheduled moon flight around 1970.

Both Grisson and Young were reported in excellent condition following their spectacular four-hour-45-minute flight. They are aboard the aircraft carrier Intrepid where they were taken after being picked up by helicopters after the space capsule splashed into the Atlantic.

Grisson flashed a smile as he boarded the carrier — announcing he was ready for the next Gemini mission. He told President Johnson by radio-telephone that he and Young had a "thrilling and wonderful flight."

The astronauts will undergo debriefing activity aboard the carrier today before heading back for Cape Kennedy tomorrow. On Friday they will fly to Washington where they will be cited by Mr. Johnson.

Queen's Park — Medcare plans are in the news both in Ontario and Quebec.

In Ontario, some one-thousand persons marched outside the provincial buildings at Queen's Park last night. They were demonstrating against the private and voluntary nature of the plan.

Labour and other groups have been complaining that the plan gives in to the insurance and other interest who are now in the field of providing health coverage.

The other Medicare plan in the news is in Quebec, where Premier Jean Lesage announced last night the creation of a study commission to look into the establishment of a plan.

It is believed Lesage will use the plan as the chief plank in his bid for re-election — probably in 1969.

In announcing the establishment of the commission yesterday he said it was unlikely a plan could be instituted before 1968.

He is known to be planning an election for that year as well.

London — Queen Elizabeth today appointed composer Benjamin Britten and Nobel Prize winner Prof. Dorothy Crowfoot Hodgkin to the Order of Merit, Britain's highest honour, for intellectual achievement.

Prof. Hodgkin who won the 1964 Nobel Prize for chemistry is the second woman to be appointed to the Order. The first was Florence Nightingale.

Membership in the order is limited to 24 persons and appointment to it is a personal gift of the Sovereign. Two members, Sir Winston Churchill and poet T. S. Eliot, have died this year. Today's appointments brought the present membership to 25.

Saigon, Viet Nam — U.S. and South Vietnamese planes destroyed a communist radar station at Da Nang in North Viet Nam and strafed military convoys on the border of South and North Viet Nam. One plane was hit by heavy ground fire but it returned safely to its base.

Moscow — Soviet Communist Party Leader Leonid Brezhnev told a cheering crowd in Red Square that many Soviet citizens were volunteering for military duty in North Viet Nam. Brezhnev's statement was made in a speech in honour of the new Soviet communist, Alexei Leonov and Pav el Belavsky.

Columbo, Ceylon — The United National party of pro-Western Dudley Senanayake was proclaimed victor over the leftist ruling party of Prinsie Minister Sirimavo Bandaranaike in parliamentary elections. Mrs. Bandaranaike, the world's only woman premier, was expected to submit her resignation in a day or two.

SCOUTING IN ACTION
Members of the 2nd and 3rd Lindsay Scout Troops expect to attend the "Scouting in Action" demonstrations at the Canadian National Exhibition Grounds on April 24.

In the main arena a pageant called "The Pathfinder" will be presented. It is produced by Ralph Reader of London Gang Show fame. The cast, made up of hundreds of scouts and leaders, has been recruited from across Quinte Region and will present such displays as the Indian pow-wow, pioneering, a salute to Canadian scouting and staff relay races.

A recent communication from Regional Scout Headquarters said a hobby show section of "Scouting in Action" would be set up with 3,000 prize-winning hobbies on display. Other attractions would include bands, swimming competitions, hot air balloons and square and folk dancing.

The cost was set at $1.75 for each registered boy and $2.50 for each leader.

QUEEN'S SCOUTS
The Victoria District Scout Council will send a questionnaire to each group in the district, asking whether the Queen's Scout badges should be presented on a local basis or on a regional basis.

The 3rd Lindsay group has indicated the award of the badge presented locally and the scroll presented at a regional ceremony.

E. Cornall of Omenace said the badge should be given immediately and said the parchment could wait.

Murray Smith, chairman of the 2nd Lindsay group, said 2nd Lindsay wanted the presentations entirely on a local basis.

Regional Field Commissioner Wally Harpur was not in favour of Queen's Scouts presentations being made at a district ceremony. E. Cornall of Omenace said.

Mei DeGroot of the District Scout Council said if it were held on a regional basis, an added expense of $200 to $300 would be involved to cover the Governor General's travelling expenses, since he would present the badges on such an occasion.

Alex Kingsborough of the 5th Lindsay group said he liked the idea of presenting the parchment at a regional ceremony because "it is a achievement like this should rate an impressive ceremony." He said the ceremony would make the badge more meaningful. "It would be money well invested," Mr. Kingsborough said.

Which is why you see so many VWs. And still have trouble buying with model year Volkswagen. You don't fool about with the style. We work on the cars. For good reason. For instance, in 1952, we put away the first side windows. And in 1955, we redesigned the gas tank so you'd have more luggage space on foot.

We made first gear synchromesh in 1961. To let you shift down from second to first without stopping. We made a lot of body drives happy with that one.

What about this year? Well, there are 17 improvements for 1965 alone.

AUTHORIZED VOLKSWAGEN SALES AND SERVICE

Henry's Auto Service

117 QUEEN ST. TEL. 324-2161

The only difference between these two cars is 27 years and 2,109 improvements.

Every single window on the '65 VW is just a little bit bigger. The back seat is wider so you can use the entire rear of the car for suitcases and suit.

The steering column is completely maintenance free. We made our windshield wipers to do a better job.

So although the Volkswagen may look the same to you every year, it does change. A fender from the '65 VW will bolt easily onto the 1938 model.

That way, if you drive an old VW and something wears out, you don't have to worry about odd size parts.

And if nothing wears out, you don't have to worry about the shape you're in.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 24TH, 1965

Cat-Haters Welcomed

Aunts, Philosophers, Polo and Natives offered by British Tourist Associations

The most frequent question the Canadian travel agent hears is "How can I get off the beaten tourist track" and "How can I meet the people?" — no matter what the destination. It seems that the modern traveller is no longer solely interested in the time-honoured tourist sights and activities and also wants to get away from other tourists.

The British are trying to make sure that overseas visitors have opportunities to fulfil their yearning for the different and also to meet people other than hotel lobby workers and railway-station porters. The legendary specialists of the British is weakening.

A number of special services are available in Britain which can guarantee the Canadian individual an "out-of-the-ordinary" holiday.

The recently formed Tourist Hospitality Service, with head office in London (Kent House, Great Kirkfield Street, W.1), will arrange for visitors to stay with British families in almost any part of the U.K.

The Tourist Hospitality Service matches individuals and families with others in Britain who have similar interests, occupations and personal circumstances.

The would-be visitor is even invited to stay at his pet dislike (cats, jazz, football) and can select a home "where no children are in residence" if he prefers.

Cost? At $300 per week per person, inclusive of accommodation and meals. The visitor can stay with as many as three families within one week and the daily rate then applicable would total about $50 per week. For a day visit with meals but not overnight, the cost is $6.

A similar service is provided by En Famely Agency (7 New Burlington St. London, W.1) which has a panel of hundreds of "host families" in Britain and on the Continent. The would-be visitor supplies information about himself and his family and is then sent photographs or similar British families who welcome overseas visitors. These cards show all members of the British family, their home and the district in which they live. Cost ranges from $20 to $30 per week, depending largely on the proximity to London where general living costs are higher.

One of the most famous of the usual tourist services in Britain is Universal Tours Ltd. (36 Walpole St., Chelsea, London), which claims to provide visitors with "aunts who are better than the real thing." The ladies can be assigned to find accommodation of any kind including service rooms and furnished flats, provide baby sitters and daily nannies and act "cooly and with aplomb" in all emergencies.

Universal Aunts will meet and see off children at railway stations, show for unaccompanied minors, provide guides and interpreters for male clients and provide personal meals and provide food for their own party.

One of their most popular services is to introduce tourists from overseas into British families for a very low fee.

British Without Tears Ltd., 111 St. Andrew's Place, London, British Travel, the national tourist office, disapproves will provide a "guide, philosopher and friend" for a reasonable price. The London-based company specializes in custom-planned tours — again with the emphasis placed on private homes. "Get away from the maddening crowd" is the company slogan.

British Without Tears (3-4 Clements Inn, Strand, London, W.C.2) offers polo watching at Windsor Park, attendance at horse shows and race meetings in members' enclosures, grouse and pheasant shooting in Scotland and a gourmet service.

Finders Ltd. (46 Maxwell Hill Rd., London N. 10) is an unique organization which specializes in the "name implies, in finding almost anything under the sun that the overseas visitor might hope to buy in Britain — from an elephant foot umbrella stand to antlers on the front hall." In addition, Finders Ltd. runs a family friendship service and can arrange for families to exchange visits with those of other countries.

Oxford and Cambridge undergraduates have formed two guide services that are available during the summer vacations. This year, more than 80 students (including one earl and a baron) are available from Undergraduate Tours (12 Spring St. London, W.2) and Take-A-Guide (11 Old Bond St. London, W.1) to "take people around London or the whole country on civilized tours".

The tours, tailored by private car, are followed by the requirements of the visitor, they can include what the students describe as a "pub crawl" or a "night painting the town red". One brochure mentions recent visitors who spent their day punting on the River Cam to Grantchester and having tea with the guide's parents at Sevenoaks.

Many more personal service organizations offer the unusual to overseas visitors and several large conducted coach tour companies include specialized-interest tours in their programme. British Travel (153 Bloor St. W., Toronto) and 661 Howe St. (Vancouver) can provide information on coach tours concentrating on cathedrals, historic cities, historic inns, educational facilities, sporting events and winter activities, theatre and music.

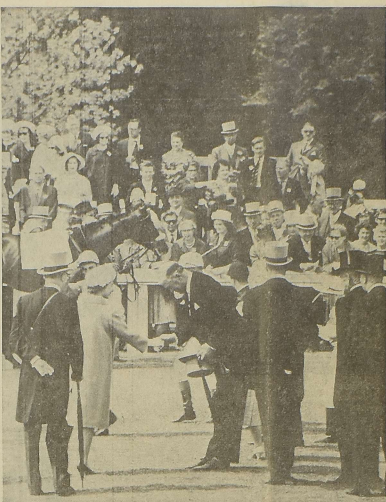

Soccer may become part of PT programme

Soccer may become part of the physical education curriculum in Ontario public schools, according to find.

The Ontario Minor Soccer Association will assist the Lindsay Minor Soccer Association in the promotion of soccer clubs throughout Ontario through a province-wide promotion programme.

Allan Southend, Director of the Lindsay association, said a dinner meeting of the Lindsay association was concerned with putting organized soccer on a provincial level to get the sport going more strongly. He said the programme will be partly financed by a $10,000 grant from the provincial government.

HYDRAULIC LIFT-LOCK AT KIRKFIELD UNDERGOES $170,000 FACE-LIFTING

Kirkfield (PNS) — The wheels of progress move swiftly, with leaps and bounds but it has taken fifty-eight years to give the Kirkfield Hydraulic Lift-lock the much needed face lifting, during this past winter new steel work has been put in at a cost of approximately $170,000.00. Following this season's navigation further work to completely mechanize and electrify the lock is contemplated.

The present one lane highway will be widened to two lanes. This will mean the removal of the machine shop and the one remaining lock house.

When this Lock was officially opened in 1907 by the late Sir Sam Hughes, then Minister of National Defence, and assisted by Mr. D. A. Murphy, an Engineer for the Dominion Bridge Co. of Montreal, builders of this, the only all steel and completely Hydraulic Lift-lock on the earth they probably didn't realize that fifty-eight years hence this lock and the Trent system would give unlimited pleasure to many thousands who cruise the waters and the many thousands who visit the lock by car and bus.

The Murray canal, part of the Trent system joining the Bay of Quinte and Lake Ontario was built in 1833. The Trent system was originally for the transportation, by steam boat, of freight and passengers and transportation of log booms as well as to shorten the distance to the Great Lakes by nine hundred miles in the case of the Welland and Lake Erie route. Today all commercial traffic has been discontinued and is strictly for pleasure.

The Kirkfield Hydraulic Lift-lock was opened for navigation on July 6th, 1907 at a cost of $239,000.00.

There are two chambers at this lock, each will accommodate boats up to 140 feet long, 32 feet wide and having a draught of six feet.

The chambers when filled to normal capacity with water weigh approximately 2100 tons (water and steel) and are suspended on single pistons, seven feet six inches in diameter, fifty-six feet, ten inches in length and have a wall thickness of three and a half inches. The height of lift is 49.17 feet and several of chambers is completed in approximately four minutes. Complete lockage takes about 16 minutes.

Water from the upper reach drives two intensifier pumps which put up a water pressure to 750 lbs. per square inch. This latter pressure in turn causes the opening and closing of the eleven ton gates permitting boats to enter or leave the lock.

As previously mentioned, this is at the summit of this system and here the waters flow in opposite directions, the water of the upper reach flows to the east, the water of the lower reach flows to the west.

Boats from nearly every part of the U.S., from every province of Canada and one from Sweden and one from Hong Kong have passed through this lock.

Several craft from California have made the circuit via Pacific coast, Panama Canal, Gulf of Mexico, Panama Canal, Hudson river, Erie Canal, Lake Ontario, Trent Canal, Georgian Bay, Lake Huron, Lake Michigan, Michigan Canal, Mississippi river, Gulf of Mexico, Panama Canal and home.

The Navigation season is normally from May 15th, to October 15th, inclusive but because of repairs and renewal may be somewhat shortened this year.

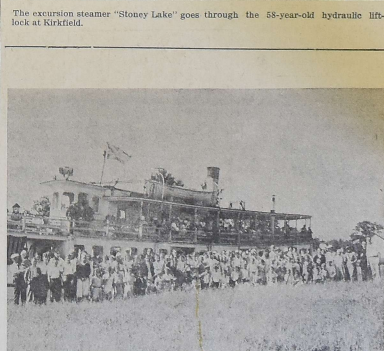

Visitors from nearly every part of the Earth have come by boat, car and bus to see this great mechanical achievement.

During the 1946 navigation season there were 118 boats with 412 passengers, whereas in 1964 there were 3833 boats with more than 13,000 passengers passed through this lock.

An hydraulic lift-lock was built at Kirkfield because one reservoir supply of water would not warrant a conventional lock. The lock utilizes only one foot of water per chamber for each lockage. Each foot is 140 tons of water. This weight causes reversal of the chambers for operation up and down.

The Lift-lock at Peterboro has a 15-foot higher lift, but it differs from the Kirkfield lock in that the Peterboro lock is concrete and steel as well as being mechanized. The lock at Kirkfield is completely hydraulic.

In 1964, the liftlock, situated on Highway 503, midway between the village of Kirkfield and Victoria Road, was visited by over 25,000 tourists and sightseers, other than those travelling by boat.

The excursion steamer "Stoney Lake" goes through the 58-year-old hydraulic lift-lock at Kirkfield.

New ambulance recommended

Fire and ambulance sub-committee chairman, Dr. Pe. Gill, told council members Monday night that the permanent firemen have agreed to the wage offer put forward by the town. Members were told this that offered to the Police Association.

Dr. Gill also reported that the firemen were willing to stand by for ambulance calls at a reduced rate, the cost of money financing a new ambulance.

After reviewing ambulance cost sheets, the sub-committee recommended to council that the new fee for ambulance calls in town be $8.00. Outside town limits a fee of $9.00 plus thirty cents a mile up to a maximum of twenty miles was recommended, and at greater distances a flat fee should apply at the discretion of the Chief and the Committee.

The sub-committee recommended that a new ambulance be purchased to upgrade the service now offered, suggesting a larger vehicle with more head room and working space. This ambulance is to be paid for out of increased revenue of present service. A further recommendation suggested the present ambulance be retained as a second ambulance unless a satisfactory figure can be obtained as a trade-in.

In regard to the proposed ambulance purchase, Dr. Gill reported that a used ambulance offered by the Wellesley Hospital was investigated, but not recommended due to the light construction of the vehicle.

A point system of payment for volunteer firemen had been discussed and approved by the committee, said Dr. Gill. The chairman is to enter into negotiation with the vo-

Clarence Campbell fines 20 players

Montreal, (UPI) — Clarence Campbell, President of the National Hockey League, levied a total of $1,075 in fines against 20 players Tuesday.

The brawl erupted in a brawl March 13 in a game between Detroit and Montreal. The brawl erupted in the final minute of play when Claude Larose of the Canadiens came off the bench and engaged in a fight with Detroit defenseman Doug Barkley who had just injured Montreal forward Dave Balon with a stiff bodycheck.

Campbell ruled Larose was the instigator of the brawl in which a total of 19 other players came off the bench and engaged in a fight with each other. Larose was fined $25 in addition to the automatic $25 fine for leaving the bench.

It was his action in interrupting Barkley that sparked all the trouble that followed, Campbell ruled.

The other 19 players were fined $50 each — double the normal fine. The nine Canadiens involved were J. C. Tremblay, Ted Harris, Noel Picard, Jean Beliveau, Dick Duff, Bobby Rousseau, Gary Bates, Jim Roberts and Guy Cournoyer. The 10 Red Wings fined were Marcel Pronovost, Warren Gorky, Guy Bergman, Gordie Howe, Alex Delvecchio, Parker Macdonald, Ron Murphy, Ted Lindsay, Floyd Smith and Paul Henderson.

Women's League donates to church building fund

The meeting was opened with the Lord's Prayer led by the President, Mrs. C. Wilson. Mrs. Jan Bryan the Secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting and Mrs. Cleve Endicott the Treasurer gave her report. Mrs. Harry Madill was in charge of the program and Mrs. Ivan Bryan gave the Bible reading. Mrs. Ivan Bryan is the winner of the contest, and plans were made to hold a Rummage Sale in the church hall on the 20th of March.

PARTY LINE

Tony Coombes was a little upset when he applied for a phone in Lytchett Minister, England, and was told that he would have to settle for a party line.

He was even more upset when the phone company serviceman installing the phone accidentally struck his foot through the kitchen ceiling. But the crowning blow came the first time Coombes used the phone. When he lifted the receiver, the power in his house was cut off.

The phone company investigated and found that the serviceman had accidentally grounded the telephone line to the main electric cable. The trouble was quickly corrected.

LINED UP—Tracker and submarine aircraft from HMCS Bonaventure are shown on the "right line" at Roosevelt Roads U.S. Naval Station, in Puerto Rico, after the new Canadian flag was painted on the Royal Canadian Navy's aircraft. The Canadian Forces taking part in the global naval and air Exercise Maplewing in the Caribbean are using Roosevelt Roads Naval Station as an operations centre.

Little Britain

Mrs. Robert Leighton of Sunderland spent a couple days last week with her brothers Messrs. Moyer and George Avery and also her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Wickett.

Mrs. Roy Morrison spent a few days recently at Zion (Peele) where she visited with some of her friends and relatives. Several from here motored to Lindsay on Monday evening of this week where they attended the Community Concert which was held at the Academy Theatre.

The farm and property west of the village which was owned by Dr. G. C. R. Hall and which has been operated and under the management of Mr. Carman Sloan for several years has recently been disposed of and Mr. and Mrs. Sloan are now making plans and preparations to hold an auction sale of their farm stock and implements, etc.

The deepest sympathy of the community is extended at this time to Mr. and Mrs. John Rodgers of Lindsay and formerly of Little Britain in the recent passing of one of their relatives in the person of Mr. James McKinnon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Buwada and family of Zion (Mariposa) have moved into a portion of the dwelling which is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Allan Rich of Oakwood and are now being welcomed as new residents to the village.

Mrs. N.H. Jacobs opened her home in the village on Thursday afternoon of last week and was the gracious hostess for the March meeting of the Little Britain U.C.W.A. group and which had some eighteen members in attendance and with all the officers providing who gave their various reports and which were adopted and approved as correct.

Several of the members and adherents of the Little Britain Fellowship, Baptist Church met and gathered at the Stacey ranch on the 6th Concession of Mariposa on Wednesday afternoon of last week where they held a very successful wood bee for the church.

Word was received here last week with much regret of the sudden passing of Mr. Lloyd Avery at Bowmanville last week and who was in his 61st year. The deceased was very well and quite favourably known here as he was a son of Mr. George Avery Sr., also of Little Britain.

Mrs. Judd of Blackwater was the recent winner of a turkey in connection with a draw on some of the weekly meat specials at Mr. Art Sutcliffe's.

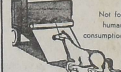

The members of the Little Britain United Church are now making plans and preparations for another family skating party and which will be held at Little Britain Memorial Arena on Friday evening of this week after which all will adjourn to the church where refreshments will be served and a social half hour enjoyed.

Mr. Merlin Lunney who recently disposed of his farm property is now making preparations to hold an auction sale of his farm stock, implements, etc., after which he intends moving to the east end of the village to make his new home which is now nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy some time in the near future.

Congratulations are extended to Allan L. Thornton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Thornton of Omemee and formerly of Little Britain and Miss Sheila Arlene Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Thomas of Lindsay, who were united in marriage at Queen Street United Church in Lindsay on Saturday afternoon of last week.

DETERMINED THIEF

Daily City, Calif. (UPI) — Someone stole a 23-year-old tree out of Alex Wilcox's back yard. He posted a sign seeking information about the theft, but the next morning the sign was missing.

Wilcox posted another sign asking about both thefts, and that one vanished.

Finally, the determined Wilcox chained and locked his sign in the yard. Sunday morning the sign was still there—but the chain and the padlock were gone.

A Kent Street business man was conversing and consulting with a fellow merchant recently over a cup of java. The conversation had to do with the increasing number of break-ins, reckless disregard for traffic laws on the part of some drivers, and other matters.

"I am not critical of the police," said one spokesman, "but I believe it might be wise to have a police commission in Lindsay." The suggestion has been mooted before but not seriously. The establishment of a Commission would take police matters out of the hands of council and place such matters in the hands of a judge, the police magistrate, and the mayor. The idea is not new. In fact commissions have been ruling and governing police bodies in many towns and cities for many years.

"It sounds like a good idea to me," said the second merchant. "A commission such as named would be unbiased and would take petty politics out of police matters. The chief of police would be directly under the control of three men, and these three would represent the law, and the mayor would well be the representative of the people." It is understood the new idea might cost the taxpayers more money, but it was intimated this fact would be superseded by actually putting more teeth into law enforcement.

"What you are saying," said the second business man, "is that the members of the force would be well trained and supervised in a stringent manner and this should result in less crime, and the punishment of offenders to a greater extent than under the present system."

"That is right," was the reply and now that members of the force are asking for a substantial hike in wages, it is time to consider the whole matter."

Fenelon Falls, known to many as the Cataract village, has many boosters and among these is Ken Sangster, a vendor of insurance and real estate. While in Lindsay Monday evening attending a meeting of fellow Rotarians, he was questioned about the coming summer business in the north.

"I believe Fenelon Falls is in for a good year, and the building of the new, massive and impressive government lock and the replacing of the 100-year old bridge by a modern structure is going to boost tourist trade. This tourist business is going to spread to the surrounding district and Fenelon Falls is going to be the hub of attraction this summer."

Mr. Sangster went on to say he thought Lindsay will experience a boom with the coming of the Dominion Rubber Company.

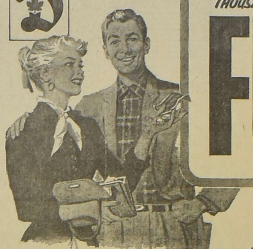

Ken Sangster is a native son of Goderich and for a time was in the insurance business in Peterboro. He recalled the days he called on Wes Mason, Dominion Life Insurance man in Lindsay. Today this booster for the Falls is a member of the firm of Murchison, Sangster and Folkes, and it is interesting to recall the days when Max Brandon operated the above business and was also the voice of hockey in Fenelon Falls.

Brandon gained wide renown in the days when he managed and owned the Brandon Colts. This collection of smart puck chasers was widely known for its winning of hockey tournaments, and many times the old rink at Fenelon Falls was crammed like a barrel to watch teams from all parts of the country, including Toronto, Peterboro and Lindsay.

Brandon put Fenelon Falls on the hockey map in no uncertain way. His team won the Brandon Cup, the Felt Cup and other silver cups in many a strenuous battle.

Now the trend seems to be curling, said Mr. Sangster. "Fenelon has a good rink and there is exceptionally good fellowship."

Hockey in Fenelon Falls recalls the name of the once Ontario-wide team of Deyman, Bateau, Gould, Vickers, McCullum, Quette and others, while curling recalls some of the same names and especially Harry McCullum who can still toss a winning rock.

Kosygin and Brezhnev face problems

London, (UPI)—Popular joke now current behind the iron curtain runs as follows:

"What is the difference between Premier Nikita Khrushchev and the new premier Leonid Alexei Kosygin?"

"None, but Khrushchev didn't know it."

The joke illustrates the impasse in the new Khrushchev leadership now finds itself.

Both Kosygin and party boss Leonid Brezhnev are the outers of Khrushchev. The troubles range over a wide sphere of domestic and international problems.

Soviet Affairs experts hold they are largely responsible for the comparative inactivity in the international sphere.

Much of the trouble seems from the fact they will compel it to a wait-and-see policy for some time to come.

Like Khrushchev, Kosygin appears to be finding out that faded Soviet influence in the Far East is hard to restore.

This to all appearances reduces Russian ability to play a major role in any peace moves on the Chinese front.

Polish artists, for example, are acknowledged to be among world leaders for their dramatics.

Polish artists are rightly supposed, Polish film technicians also are among the best, but their works also are suppressed.

Polish artists have not won a major film award in the last two years.

Suppressed in the controlled press, they find other means of expression.

One of the most effective means is found in the publications of the various literary organizations. These publications have received some of the credit for creating pressures leading to a certain relaxation of red rule in Czechoslovakia.

But events also show that even guarded criticism can create danger for the authors.

In Yugoslavia a recent example is Yugoslavia which boasts that its press is the most free of any Communist country.

In Yugoslavia a young scholar, Mihajlo Mijailovic has been jailed for an essay called "Moscow Summer."

The essay accused the late Josef Stalin of presiding the Nazis in genocide.

Many of the internationalists are to report a race or culture.

It stirred the sensitivities of the Soviets, who in turn responded to President

Mijailovic thus joined another noted Yugoslav writer in jail, the late former Vice Premier Milovan Djilas, who is serving nine years for writings against the more than the "interests" of Yugoslavia.

How long has life existed?

New York, (UPI)—Bits of disintegrating mineralized rock picked up in South Africa may very well be the oldest fossils which existed much longer ago than 2,500 million years.

If they do, tangible proof of life on the earth's surface would have been in time by hundreds of millions of years, indeed to a place in geological time which would still be in a highly primitive state.

The earliest fossilized life relics which convince all scientific authorities of the existence of life in the Cambrian period which began some 500 million years ago.

Before the Cambrian was the Proterozoic, from it has come a scattering of fossils of controversial authority.

Before the Proterozoic was the Archeozoic, and you don't get any farther back than it. If these new fossils are true life relics they'd be the first from that period.

M. Schodowski, a mineralogist from Heidelberg University found them in grains of mineral, pyrite. They're from the same time and place, and remind strongly of the simple one-cell organisms of which bacteria are the technical example.

To the world of science, through the journal "Nature," he presented a strong circumstantial case for the existence of life in the Archeozoic. But "because other possible models of origin cannot be completely ruled out" he didn't call them life.

Rather he called them "organized elements" which suggest life. Such suggestive statements have been found in meteorites, leading to controversies over whether primitive life forms have in times past been carried to earth from other planets or other places far away in space.

They also resembled "mineralized bacteria" which accompanied his paper with greatly enlarged photographs of two types of "organized elements" from the "Witwatersrand gold field of South Africa." One type was a spherical granule with a central core body enclosed by an outer ring that was a shell. The other was a rod-like structure in a sac. The other was an elliptical globule enclosed in a two-layered wall. The latter was a rod-like structure must have largely microbial a circumstance accounting for the fact that the fossil record in the dawn of geological time is deplorably scarce," he said.

Geological studies indicate the Witwatersrand rock system was completely is said to be some 2,500 million years ago, and "as the organized elements are indigenous to components of the earth's surface, they are certainly considerably older," he said.

Unfortunately, he said, there is not enough of the fossilized "organized elements" to permit the use of the chemical techniques that could show whether they contained organic substances.

Geologists have long believed that life pre-dates the authentic fossils of the Archeozoic, and they are now beginning to believe that life may have existed in time by hundreds of millions of years, indeed to a place in geological time which would still be in a highly primitive state.

STRETCHING THE APPLE SEASON

Thanks to controlled-atmosphere storage, the life of certain varieties of apples can be extended for several months.

Crisp, firm, almost tree-fresh "C.A." Ontario Spices from Lindsay in 4-oz. baskets are now available.

Crisp, and flavorful when first eaten after storage, the Ontario Food Council advises that these refrigerated apples immediately on their arrival at home.

From a somewhat different Apple Cheese dessert, which will place the whole family, write the Ontario Food Council, Department of Agriculture, 240 Parliament Buildings, Toronto, Ontario.

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW

According to the Ontario Food Council, just another week or two will see our own hot house tomatoes in good supply.

While we wait, canned tomatoes are at hand to help provide hearty, tasty one-dish meals. Rocky Mountain Corn is just one of these. Hungarian Goulash is another.

Recipes for these dishes may be obtained by writing the Ontario Food Council, Department of Agriculture, 240 Parliament Buildings, Toronto, Ontario.

HOW CAN I ???

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I make my own furniture polish?

A. One old standby is a mixture of gum turpentine and raw linseed oil in equal parts. Another consists of equal parts of boiled linseed oil, turpentine, and vinegar.

Q. How can I polish my car without getting it too shiny?

A. One old standby is a mixture of gum turpentine and raw linseed oil in equal parts. Another consists of equal parts of boiled linseed oil, turpentine, and vinegar.

Q. How can I remove a scorch from a white shirt?

A. If this stain is relatively light, and not too deeply burned into the fabric, it will disappear if the shirt is sponged with a cloth dipped in peroxide, then ironed again over the blouseboard with a dry, clean cloth over it.

Q. Is there any way I can renovate some destitute tennis balls?

A. Try pouring boiling water over them. The heat of the water expands the air inside the balls, and usually the dents pop right out.

Q. How can I remove oil stains that have soaked deep into the concrete floor of my garage?

A. Saturate white flannel in a mixture of equal parts of acetone and amyl acetate, place over the stain, and cover with a slab of concrete or glass. Keep re-saturating the cloth until the stains disappear.

Q. How can I lighten brown shoes?

A. Rub the shoes with sandpaper to remove all dirt, then rub liquid ammonia into them with a flannel cloth. Next apply black India ink with a brush, let dry, then polish as usual.

Q. What can I do about silverware which eggs have darkened?

A. These dark egg stains can be removed with moist salt. Finish by washing in ammonia water.

Pearl Handies

Pearl Handies are made of mother-of-pearl, the nacre that lines the inside of shells. They need only soap and water - no ammonia. Do not let the pearls soak in the water, as this treatment could loosen the cement that holds them in place.

Enamel On Brass

Before attempting to apply enamel to brass, prepare the metal surface carefully. Wash it well with any household cleaner that doesn't contain soap, then wipe down with denatured alcohol. This will insure your paint's sticking.

Concrete Patch

One practical way to patch a large hole in a concrete driveway is to fill the bottom of the hole with clean, graded stone, then cover these stones with concrete.

BRUNCH CRUNCH SUGGESTS PARTY

Ever thought of brunch for your next party?

It may be an after-church Sunday get-together. Maybe it's an after-school party at four where you serve a hot buffet and steaming cups of hot chocolate.

Perhaps it's a leisurely breakfast-lunch with the family on Saturday morning. Or it may just be a mid-morning get-together with neighbours, a break from the day's chores and a chance to catch up with the latest news.

Whatever your brunch is, it can be an easy, light-hearted way of entertaining. Some things different on the menu for your next brunch might include: French Cruch, a tasty, off-foresake with a difference. Try serving the French Cruch hot and buttered.

BRUNCH CRUNCH

2 cups packaged biscuit mix, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 cup milk, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, 1/2 cup light brown sugar, firm, 1/2 cup packed, 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon, 1/2 cup Heinz To make Ketchup, 1/2 cup coarsely chopped nuts, 1/2 cup coarsely crushed (by hand) coniferates, 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, 1/2 cup coarsely crushed (by hand) coniferates, 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon, 1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine.

Heat oven to 400 F. Spread first 5 ingredients spread evenly on bottom of greased square baking pan (8" x 8" x 2"). Combine brown sugar and nuts in 1/2 cup; spread over top of butter.

With knife cut into 16 squares. Bake 25-30 minutes or until done. Let cool 5 minutes before serving. Makes 8 servings.

For sweeter topping add 1 tablespoon light brown sugar, firmly packed, to 1/2 cup crushed coniferates and remaining ingredients.

TIMELY TIPS

By Macdonald Institute, Guelph

Serve appleslices the next time friends drop in or your children ask for a snack. Spread slices of firm, tart apple with softened Ontario cheddar cheese, peanut butter or cream cheese and chopped nuts. Ontario apples are plentiful and have excellent quality from C.A. (controlled-atmosphere) storage.

Store honey in a dry place. Honey rapidly picks up moisture from the air, becoming and becomes diluted and watery.

Add a little salt to your favorite tomato soup recipe with bayleaf. Simmer one medium bayleaf with four to six servings of tomato soup. Remove bayleaf to remove the leaf before serving.

IF CROUP ATTACKS YOUR CHILD'S BREATHING

Croup is one of the symptoms of a throat problem. Breathing is difficult and there may be a spasm of the larynx with a wheezing sound. It may occur in acute, paroxysmal, asthmatic, or even chronic form.

It is important to call a physician. While waiting, start a steam vaporizer near your child. Until the vapor begins to steam, turn on the hot water in the bathroom and expose your child to the steam there. For steam therapy, use your child's bed.

Do you have to ration hot water on wash days and bath nights?

a Cascade 40 electric water heater can change all that.

Cascade 40 has two elements: a 1000-watt lower element for normal use, and a 3000-watt top element that surges into action at times of extra heavy use. That's why the Cascade 40 can supply more hot water than the average family is ever likely to use. Cascade 40 is flameless, safe and clean. It requires no flue so it can be installed anywhere. The ten year guarantee on the tank is your assurance of Cascade 40's reliability. With a Cascade 40, the cost of abundant hot water is low. For more information...

A LOVELIER YOU

By MARY SUE MILLER

KEEP IN SHAPE. The pressures on most women in Ontario this time of year, when there's a keep-in shape in home, business and social life, if the going gets really rough, can usually drive a woman out of shape, lose energy and disposition.

To take the season in stride and enjoy it, you really have to be in top in superhuman shape. With time already at a premium, how can you do it? Here are some quick suggestions.

• When you are up to late evening social routines, subsequently make a point of ten to twelve hours' sleep. The usual home-from parties will keep.

• In the day department, rub Peter to pay Paul. Have a part-time job on day, fast the rest.

• Daily get at least one quick exercise. Run in place on floors for ten minutes. Scatter ten cards on floor, pick up five by bending from waist and five by squatting. Pick stomach in, lean up and shoulders down—hold for twenty counts.

• Whenever you are outdoors, breathe. At an open window on days you do not go outside.

• Make use of all "transit" beautifiers—haircuts, bath, polish days, skin moisturizers, bath oils.

Just try the scheme. It will go far to keep you lively and lovely.

Peter Partridge featured artist in organist recital at Peterborough

"Young people today may George N. Maybce, creator of face an adult life where they are from the choir and from are obligated to work only in 1958 to 1961 he was assistant the morning. The need to equip them for fruitful enjoyment of such extensive leisure can hardly be exaggerated," stated Peter Partridge, presently music master of Ridley College.

Peter Partridge will be the feature artist at a recital presented by the Royal Canadian College of Organists—Peterborough Centre, at St. John's Anglican Church, Peterborough, Monday, March 22nd, at 8 p.m.

Twenty-two-year-old Peter Partridge has an impressive record of musical credentials. Born in Kingston, Ontario, where he went to high school, he was a member of the famed St. George's Anglican Cathedral Choir (Kingston) and sang with that choir in Westminster Abbey for three weeks in 1954.

His organ studies began with the cathedral organist in Kingston. In September 1961, Peter Partridge went to England as a student at the Royal School of Church Music, London. He was then appointed music master to the chorists of Westminster Abbey, organist at Westminster School and assistant to Sir William McKie, organist of the Abbey then.

During his three years in England, Peter Partridge was also a student at the Royal Academy of Music, and studied organ with C. H. Trevor, one of England's foremost organ teachers. During this time he completed his B.Mus., LRAM, ARCO and ARCT.

Peter Partridge was placed in charge of all music at Ridley College last September and will place a more formal idea in the place of music in school life.

DOES SHUR-GAIN FERTILIZER SPREAD BETTER?

At a quick glance SHUR-GAIN Selected-Granulated Fertilizer may look very much like most other kinds of granular fertilizer—but there is an important difference. Most organic fertilizers and practically all custom blended ones consist of a dry mixture of fertilizing ingredients in powder or granule form. As a result, the different ingredients vary in size and weight. You can compare it to a handful of ping-pong balls, mixed with marbles. If you throw out a handful of these, the heavier marbles will travel farther than the ping-pong balls—and that is exactly what happens with ordinary fertilizers.

When you spread your fertilizer, with a drill or even more important, with any broadcast-type spreader you can be sure that every particle (from the smallest to the largest) of free-running SHUR-GAIN Selected-Granulated Fertilizer is nutritionally balanced no matter where it is—ensuring you of optimal and even intake of all the plant food by your crops. There are no excesses in one area and starvation in another with SHUR-GAIN.

Another good reason why you can be confident of top returns from SHUR-GAIN—the finest fertilizer for your good earth!

Be sure to discuss your spring Fertilizer program with your local SHUR-GAIN Fertilizer dealer

By Peter J. Steinhorn, M.D., F.A.C.P. feeling like a young colt."
"PATIENT HIMSELF"
"Dear Dr. Steinhorn: I was tired-looking and apparently ill. It was surprising opinion, who would you say it to a man still in his early thirties talking about "my coronary occlusion." As you comment, "There's no such thing as the heart being 40."

He went on, "I can't understand why I had the attack the best 100 or 200 years.
Even I've always kept myself in good shape, the one who got the worst condition by exercise. In blood, played golf a few days in rank first, might be the worst doctor to take care of."

For many things go into making the best doctor for you is not only must be well-grounded scientifically, he must be an understanding human being who can manage your emotions emotionally, intellectually, as well as physically. You know the basics of diagnosis and treatment of coronary disease. But do you know who I think is the best heart specialist? It's the patient himself! How lives and what he does from now on is probably more important than the kind of doctor you'll get for a long time. I didn't know what it was, I did want to introduce myself! But take quite a while to get your feet under you to vent to embarrass him by the realization that a physician had been listening for over half an hour to his dissertations on coronary disease and his attack. He appeared to be a fine fellow, and I made an immediate resolution to wish him well.

Yes, young Mr. X, I agree with you that one of the best cardio-logists is the patient himself.

ARE WE ALL SELFISH?

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: I am a senior at a rather large high school here in Kansas and I would like your opinion on a statement made by one of my teachers. He encourages me to try to disprove him because I don't agree with him. His statement was: "Everyone in the world possesses 'rational self-interest.'" In other words he is saying, "We are all selfish." That no one in this world does anything for other people unless he himself can benefit from it". Sir, am I wrong in thinking that this is not true?—Miss B.

Comment: I'd like you to believe that there are completely unselfish people in the world. I think the burden of proof is on your side. (Released by the Bell Syndicate Inc.)

less personal aggrandizement whether conscious or unconscious.

A few months ago, I argued this with a colleague, who believes as your teacher does. I asked him if he considered himself selfish when he went out on a night call and refused a fee. Or he was unselfish standing at an operating table for hours on end. I said, "I suppose you would argue it indifferent. Just let's say, for the time being, that both you and your teacher are right.
Sometimes we have to settle for the gray area between white and black."

WOMAN'S VIEW

By Gay Pauley

New York (UPI) — It's out-heard the voice of another prophet, Alexandre whose curled curly grey coiffure for the spring and summer, say some of the world's leading hair stylists.

"We find women of all ages more interested in curl, but dramatically, no tight ringlets," said Leonard Renner, a Bellevue, Wash., salon owner who is president of the National hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.

Benner said the revival of curl was in part a rebellion against the hair's "teasing perm" rating of the past few years which created full, face-framing arrangements which were combed into straightness.

"With curls as we do them now a woman can still maintain that fullness," said Benner.

Buddy Walton, a St. Louis shop owner and styles director of the Association's hair salon committee, said the change to softness in feminine fashions also was a factor in curl's comeback. Hair styles for older clothes styles, he said.

"We're doing waves too," said Walton. "A sort of Jean Harlowe look, but modernized and much softer, not plastered to the head."

Most of the new style feature curls in the crown section and some waves at the ears, said Gains Presley, owner of six shops in the Marietta, Ga. area. Presley is First Vice President of the Association.

The three men were among the 400 hairdressers gathered in New York for the International Beauty Convention.
Traveling halfway across the world was Miss K. Wiosak, who with her mother runs a shop in Canberra, Australia.
There, she says, everyone starts with the basic meagures.
Curls are back with even the teenagers teasing less and tidying up more.

"We found curls very much in fashion in Berlin too," said Miss Wiosak. She and mother visited the German city to take part in a hair stylist's championship.

Curls yes, in loose arrangements, said Leon Alexander, director of the Charles of the Ritz School of Hair Fashions, where stylists from the United States and abroad come from training and refresher courses.
Alexander spoke of a new way of setting hair—on very small rollers instead of big ones. But he gets the effect of "open, loose" curls by putting on a "relax curl" cap about 20 seconds after the hair is dry and brushed. The cap, of course, goes on the woman's head, not her face.

It loosens the curls just enough before arranging, he says.

Said Mr. Ruel, stylist for Coiffures Americaines which operates salons in retail stores around the nation, "suddenly there are curls. You will find notice them at the back of the head, the nape of the neck and over the ears. Hair will be a put-on-third curl, two-thirds smooth for spring, ... the curl labeled ... forehead covered."

Michael Kazan of New York showed out of the head curls in his new "Frou Frou" arrangement. And from Paris was released a new "Frou Frou" arrangement.

ROLLING STONES

Sturtevant (UPI) — Portuguese pianist Sergio Varella id gave a recital here on audience of 150 before — accompaniment by the band of the rolling stones pop group. The Stones had the performance to give a performance to "Gigolo" curled coiffure on 2,000 screaming fans from several Paris dressmaking.
Said the pianist angrily, "I had known I would have ac-kled for another date."

By Peter J. Steinerich, M.D., F.A.C.P.

EVEN MINNOWS FRIGHTEN HER

At variable intervals I discuss here those unfortunate individuals who suffer from that most people call cats (fear). I do so with the hope that there will be more understanding and sympathy for those who suffer helplessly while others look on without the least conception of how much they go through. Here, for example, is another such letter.

Dear Dr. Steinerich: I am a girl 15 years old that has suffered from my fear of fish as long as I can remember. I read in your column the letter from the woman who was scared of cats. I can only say that I know how she feels. I am scared of anything from a small minnow to any kind of size of fish.

Even when I was small I used to look myself in the car when our family went fishing. I dread the day we work with fish in our biology class. My classmates think I'm crazy. I only wish people would understand that this silly fear is really something more. I can remember when my older sister would chase me with old fish heads and truthfully I would nearly break every bone in my body just to get somewhere safe. I can hardly bear to swim in a lake or a river. I feel as if a fish will be near me. Once while at a pond friend started to put a minnow on me and I turned pale and almost faint. They just laughed at me but it is a terrible feeling. People have a lot to be thankful for if they're not afraid of something like this.

Please put my letter in your column without my name to show my so-called friends there is such a thing as being afraid of fish-Miss X.

NO LAUGHING MATTER

Comment: Here is it, Miss X, for all your friends to read I hope they understand you are a laughing matter, as this young girl's letter certainly indicates. Besides, it is well to know that not one of us (no matter how fearless as present) is sure he may not also be fearful of some silly thing in the future. So be kind. Be patient. Be understanding with my fearful ones. Else, you'll feel mighty lonely, misunderstood and let down if you ever become fearful of being in an elevator, or crawl under the bed during a lightning and thunder.

Meanwhile, Miss X, why not talk this out with your family "doctor"? He may make some suggestions which will help you bear up under these stubborn fears.

Dear Dr. Steinerich: I have a large wart, the size of a pea on my shiny nose. I don't like the feel of it. It bothers me. Please tell me how I can get it off. I am told by some old-fashioned people to rub a penny on it, rub a piece of raw potato on it, bury the potato in the ground, and when it rots the wart will be gone. I tried all of this and it didn't work. Now another fellow tells me to rub glycerine on it and cover it with k! What do you advise?—Mr. K.

Comment: It's time to try the advice of some old-fashioned doctor. How about giving him equal time?

By Peter J. Steinhorn, M.D., F.A.C.P.

YES-YOU MAY BE KILLING YOURSELF
Dear Dr. Steinhorn: I'm a relatively new and interested reader of your column. What are on a weekly TV program intrigues me is the heading of your column "Stop Killing Yourself!" Is there anything really behind it other than being an attention-getter? Mr. B.

Comment: Nothing is more hard-hitting than stark, undoried truth. That title is truth. There is no doubt in my mind that each one of us goes about killing himself in one way or another—fast or slow. You might also call it slow suicide.

I have shown this truth by every conceivable mode of communication: books, magazine articles, nationally syndicated column, recordings, radio, TV, lecture, platform and person-to-person harangue.

The title itself originated in a book I wrote about 15 years ago. It was a best seller in its day and has been published in a dozen countries and translated into many languages. About two years ago, its original publisher, Wilfred Funk, Inc., of New York City) relished a larger, revised edition, also called "How To Stop Killing Yourself!" For the past two years I have been a moderator of your column.

Now, as for what is really behind it. In my own practice I have seen, day after day, many manifestations of behavior which indicate that Freud was right when he said that human beings have the urge to destroy themselves.

DANGER IN EXCESS
Here are just a few ways people go about killing themselves.

Excess fat: You tell a patient, "better reduce." Especially if he already suffers from diabetes, gall bladder disease, arteriosclerosis, high blood pressure, high cholesterol, coronary disease or arthritis. He swears he will, but he returns visit after visit, making excuses for his weight gain rather than expected weight-loss. I don't want to go on a pedestal and point down at such patients with derision and call them names. I deal with such a patient to "stop killing yourself." (Revised by — Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Excess alcohol: Chronic alcoholism is at last recognized for its seriousness. Whether you're behind the wheel or sitting in a rocking chair, alcohol can kill it taken in large, repeated amounts.

Excess smoking: Tell a patient, "Smoke and your liver won't hear" another "Smoke and you invite lung amputation" (in Burger's disease-trouble in the arteries); another, "Tobacco is one of the greatest enemies of emphysema, chronic bronchitis coronary disease" another, "Smoke and you invite cancer of the lung." Suppose these patients give up the last? What shall we call it? Slow suicide.

Excess resentment: You tell a patient to "Relax and philosophize." But the patient continues to get upset and bores an ulcer into his own stomach by resentment, or raises his blood pressure; or strains his coronary; or worsens his diabetes. I am not talking about a patient who is playing with such a patient to "stop killing yourself." (Revised by — Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Woman to Woman

By Patricia McCormack

New York (UPI) — The newest life-insurance tactic: park your car in driveway or garage so the front end faces the street.

Do it to cut down the chances of running over small children. Because they're too short to be seen in a rear-view mirror, the toddlers figure significantly in driveway fatalities.

A survey by the national safety council in 1963 showed that 300 children lost their lives in this manner — many killed by their own mothers and fathers. Drs. Harvey Kravitz and Alvin, reporting in the "Illinois Medical Journal," maintain that the number of driveway tragedies led them to one study 12 northwest suburban communities in Chicago. They found that the driveway accidents tend to occur more frequently in the newer subdivisions, and that the victims most often are under the age of four.

What increases the potentiality for the occurrence of this type of accident, according to the doctors: the large number of bicycles and tricycles struck by motorists backing out of driveways.

They maintain that parking cars so the front end faces the street will make it easier to see a small child in the way.

The safest neighborhoods, obviously, are those in which all residents practice this kind of accident prevention.

Other recommendations to prevent driveway accidents: — A national campaign to alert parents to the danger of driveway accidents and to the hazard of leaving small children to play behind parked cars.

— Circular or angled driveways should be considered in building homes, allowing the master to observe any child behind his car as he walks to it.

— Making a practice of circling the before entering it.

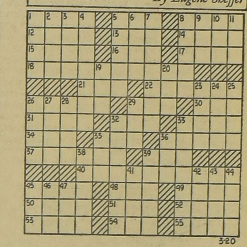

— Keeping doors of car closed so children cannot enter it.

— Instructing those who make deliveries in trucks or cars to watch out for children, fore and aft, when they use driveway.

FEMALE HORMONES IN CORONARY DISEASE

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: My husband had an attack of coronary thrombosis about a year ago. I am always living in fear that he may have another attack. Is it true that taking female hormones will prevent such a complication? I'm not concerned about myself because I understand that women rarely get coronary attacks like I do.

Comment: At a meeting in Chicago of the American College of Physicians about a dozen years ago I first heard an optimistic report of the use of female hormones to prevent atherosclerosis and coronary disease. Experiments with chickens revealed that female hormones actually prevented clogged arteries, fed a high cholesterol diet, from developing as much coronary atherosclerosis as untreated groups. There was much hope that we at last had a specific weapon against the ravages of coronary disease.

However, Mrs. T, I'm sorry to say that the data available to date value the use of female hormones in preventing and treating coronary disease has not been unchanged. Physicians don't think them commonly, because we have no definite proof that these hormones are effective. For example, writing in a recent paper on the subject in "Geriatrics" journal, Roger W. Robinson, M.D., of Worcester, Mass., says in part: "There is no positive evidence that atherosclerosis will be prevented in men by prophyllactic estrogen administration."

Nevertheless, there may be an indication for estrogens female hormones in women after menopause. It goes on: "If estrogen is to be given as a preventative form of therapy, it should be used primarily in females. The greatest usefulness of estrogen hormones in women after menopause, in the field of atherosclerosis in the future may be to delay the progress of the disease in women."

OLDER WOMEN SUBJECT TO ATTACKS

As for women being free of coronary disease, you have been misinformed. Although it's true that attacks on coronary arteries are rare in women before they have reached the menopause, as they grow older attacks become more frequent, and approximate the frequency found in males. Some day it may be routine treatment to give women female hormones to prevent such attacks. As of now, all the proof, test in. Nevertheless, studies continue, to determine just where female hormones are ultimately going to fit into prevention and treatment.

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: If possible, could you let the common symptoms which a person might have if subjected to low grade carbon monoxide poisoning from escaping fumes? Mr. X.

Comment: Many such cases go undiagnosed because they are unsuspected. Other conditions like epilepsy, brain syndromes, hyperthyroidism, and scores of other maladies are unjustly accused. You can see why, with this list of possible symptoms: nausea, headache, loss of appetite, dizziness, loss of sleep, personality disturbances, tremor, weakness, twitches, fainting, palpitations and inability to walk straight.

STOP!... killing yourself, F.A.C.P.

SUFFERS SUDDEN FAINTING SPELLS

Dear Dr. Steinerhorn: What is the cause of fainting? My son who has been apparently healthy all his life, has fainted a half dozen times during the past few weeks—Mrs. T.

Comment: Your question would be more inclusive if you asked: "What are the causes?" For it is true that there are many reasons. Everyone knows about the so-called simple faint. Due to psychological or painful stimuli (see example, fear or pain induced in an accident) fainting is not uncommon. The patient is usually standing at the time. He feels frightened and weak. May become nauseated, pale, light-headed. During his temporary unconsciousness his pulse is weak, he breathes in shallow excursions, and his skin is cold and moist. A few moments after he's placed in the recumbent position he regains consciousness.

Some people never faint others do so only one or two times in a lifetime. However, as in your case, Mrs. T., frequent unpleasant fainting spells in an otherwise healthy person, deserve closer investigation. I don't know your son's age, but even if I did, I would not attempt to make the diagnosis. That is his doctor's job. He will probably want to rule out the possibility of some trouble in the heart. (For example, heart block or some rapid heart irregularities sometimes cause fainting.)

Does he have an irritable cardiac sinus? Tight neck pressure in some kind of hypertension is there trouble in the brain's circulation? Does he suffer from hyperventilation produced by abnormal rapid or deep breathing? Is he especially nervous and suffering from some kind of hysterics? These, and many others, are the conditions his doctor will have to rule out. Let's hope it doesn't turn out to be anything serious. But I think it's time you brought him in for study, rather than wait around for the next fainting spell.

GALL BLADDER OPERATION

dar-age itself is no contradiction to operation; that the patient's physiological age should be the determining factor. In other words, that many in their 70s and over may be better operative candidates than others in their 40s. Here is an easy way to determine a person's physiological age. It is a simple test that can be done at home. It is a simple test that can be done at home. It is a simple test that can be done at home.

For 14 1/2 years I have been taking medicine regularly, but on a strict diet and had much discomfort. Lost 30 pounds. X rays showed gallstones but my doctor said he would like me to avoid operation if possible. Finally, after a severe attack of colic, I had no choice but to have the operation. It was the wisest thing I could have done. My gall bladder (which was filled with many stones) and my appendix were removed. I got along fine and came out of the hospital on my 72nd birthday. I feel wonderful. I can eat anything and haven't taken a bit of medicine since I left the hospital months ago. Mrs. H. don't be afraid to have your gall bladder operation if you need it. You're only a youngster—Mrs. R.

HOUSEHOLD SCRAPBOOK

Renewed Walls
When your painted kitchen or walls become soiled and dull-looking, and a new paint job isn't forthcoming, wash the walls with soap and water, rinse with clear water, and wipe them dry with a soft cloth. Then you can rent a new look to the paint by going over it with the white, cranny-type of furniture polish.

Lacquer On Burnt
When the lacquer is worn off brass, rub off the remaining lacquer with lacquer thinner, clean the brass thoroughly with a brass polish, rinse in water and dry, then apply one or two thin coats of spray lacquer.

Yellowed Handles
The bone handles of cutlery can be whitened considerably if they are rubbed with a cloth wet with peroxide of hydrogen, then rinsed in clear water, and dried with a soft cloth.

HOW CAN I ? ?
Q How can I remove oil on stains from fabrics?
A. Sponge out the stained area with carbon tetrachloride, flushing the stain out to a towel placed under it. If necessary to lubricate, use stain, use petroleum jelly or white mineral oil. Then flush the area again. In washables, if the traces of the stain still remain, try removing with soap and ammonia, color permitting.

Q How can I clean old stained concrete garage floors?
A. Sprinkle alkali soda concentrate liberally on the floor, dampen this lightly with water, allow to stand overnight, then scrub with water, and hose it off.

Q What can I do if I've gotten too much bluing in some of my laundry?
A. Rinse out the "blues" in clear water to which a little vinegar has been added.

Main Street Comments

Thomas Nicot of Victoria, B.C. formerly of Danford and Lindsay was an interested member of the audience at the annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society. He was five years ago interested in the Labour movement in Lindsay. He has since been completely absorbed in the Provincial welfare work and for the past few years has been associated with work among emotionally disturbed children.

He has made good in the field and he is quite enthusiastic in regard to the work already accomplished.

Recently Mr. Nicot transferred his work to a school in Newmarket which offers greater opportunities for the care and training of emotionally disturbed children.

Nineteen Attend March Meeting of Knox WMS-WA

The March meeting of Knox Church W.M.S. and W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Russell MacLeod with nineteen members present and the wife of the President of the W.A. Mrs. Clarence Veale in the chair.

Mrs. Veale opened with a reading, "Let's Cautious" followed by a hymn and prayer by Mrs. Veale.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Correspondence was read, treasurer's report given and the roll called.

Business arising from the minutes including the announcement of the purchase of new dishes, sugars and creams, salts and peppers and cutlery by the buying committee (see Mrs. Veale) announced that the committee appointed to see about new chairs had been working but had not reached a decision as yet, but would do so in the near future.

Mrs. Ralph Veale, convener of the Maise Committee reported on plans painting to be done at the Maise and received the endorsement of the meeting to see about new chairs had been working but had not reached a decision as yet, but would do so in the near future.

A letter was read from Mrs. Gerrie Veale asking the W.A. to accept her resignation as president at that organization.

After some discussion this was regretfully done. A new president is to be found by the Nominating Committee of Mrs. Ross Veale and Mrs. Wyn. Bayes before the next meeting of the W.A. which will be in May as due this April.

After the "Thanksgiving" of the W.M.S. the W.A. agreed to withdraw their meeting "Life".

Offering was received and dedicated with prayer by Mrs. Veale.

Mrs. Neil McMillan, President of the W.M.S. took the chair for a meeting of that group, and opened with prayer.

After expressing sympathy to the family of the late Miss Rachel MacEachern who had so recently passed away, Mrs. McMillan paid tribute to her for her very fine qualities of love, friendship and help and asked for two minutes silence in her memory.

Minutes of the February meeting were read and approved and the roll was called and answered by a verse of scripture containing the word "Time". Offering was received and the allocation of $38.50 must be in the hands of the Presbyterial Treasurer by the end of May.

The Easter Thanksgiving is to be held Easter week in the afternoon with the C.G.T. girls and their mothers present for their Affiliation Service. South Edmon and Cantonian Auxiliaries are to be invited along with the C.G.T. girls from Cannington. Mrs. Blatten, Presbyterial Girl's Secretary is to be asked to speak.

Mrs. Hugh Imrie and her committee then took charge of the programme which was based on a part of the Mary Stewart Collect, "Let us take time for all things". Mrs. Imrie gave a reading, "challenge of the Moment". A hymn was sung and Mrs. Ralph Veale led in prayer. A reading by Mrs. Ralph Veale, a piano solo, "Beyond the Sunlight" by Mrs. Cecil Simpson, reading "Life" by Mrs. Ross Veale and a hymn followed by a closing prayer by Mrs. Ross Veale.

JUNIOR "C" QUARTER FINALS AT KIWANIS ARENA TONIGHT

Lindsay Merchants may have to dig up some muscles they haven't used since last year when they meet Gannaque at the Kwanis Arena tonight.

Gannaque's players have been reported all season to be in the class of Ray of Quite league and could give the Merchants some trouble.

Reports indicate a full house tonight which will be a necessary from here in as the increased audiences and men on route make return games a more expensive item.

The Merchants appeared very healthy at their practise Wednesday evening, and are expected to get back on the play-off trail both Randy Reid and Doug Brown were kicking out.

WOMAN TO WOMAN

PATRICIA MCCORMACK

New York (UPI) — If you have a streak of aeronautical cowardice down your back, take heart.

You're understood in high places — namely in the cockpit and by the captain who steers the very things you fear.

Nine recently retired commercial airline pilots, honored for their more than 250,000 hours on the wing, said in interviews that they are the last to laugh at anyone who is afraid of flying.

Together, the captains have spent more than 29 years above the earth — in all kinds of weather.

They met at the Wings Club in New York and were presented with Swiss watches designed for pilots. Each has an altimeter and barometer in addition to the regular clock works.

Basically, they indicated, everyone is afraid to fly. But experience has shown them that one good flight is enough to erase the fear.

The trick: Trust the pilot, trust the equipment.

Capt. Marjui Lodesen, with Pan American World Airways for 21 years, said it ought to help to realize that flying is 20 times safer than driving an auto.

Capt. Henry T. Olden, of Northeast Airlines, said aeronautical cowards ought to think of him when flying.

"After 44-years of flying," he said, "I'm a living example of how safe it is. Those who fear look at the negative instead of the positive."

Capt. Alexa Klett, of Trans World Airlines, has been winging it since 1921. His licensed pilot in that year, was signed by Orville Wright.

His career, including flying the mail and for the military, just marked by so much as a flat tire.

"I never even scratched a plane," he said. "The passengers are as safe as the pilot and as good as the plane."

"What frightens people is the element of the unknown; they don't understand it. The door is locked and they are a captive audience."

That flying often is misunderstood, even by the younger generation, was evident when a guest at the ceremony told of replies on a high school quiz about aviation.

One student asked how long it was in the air on the first flight, replied — "Five feet."

Another said latitude is where you are and longitude tells you "how long you can stay there."

Isabella Haines

Isabella Irene Hanes of Lindsay, Ontario, entered into rest at the Rever's Nursing Home, Little Britain, on Friday March 5th, 1965, in her 84th year.

Born at Port Perry, Ontario, Isabella Hanes was the daughter of the late George Steele and Ida Graham, and was predeceased by her husband, the late Wesley Mansel Hanes. She is survived by two daughters, Verna (Mrs. Short) of Peterborough and Betty (Mrs. Nokes) of Manila, Ontario. She is also survived by one brother, C. B. Steele, of Beaverton, and three sisters, Mrs. Ivis Cox, Mrs. Lillian Brownridge, and Mrs. Ollie Keeler, all of Toronto, and four grandchildren.

The funeral was held from the Mackey Funeral Home, Lindsay, on Monday, March 8th, at 3:30 p.m. Rev. Lane of Oakwood conducted the service with interment at Pine Grove Cemetery, Prince Albert.

Pal-bearers were Mansel MacDonald, Emerson MacDonald, Arthur Sinclair, Robert Fitzpatrick, Ralph Butler and Mary Short.

HOLLYWOOD

(By United Press International)

Hollywood (UPI) — Guess who the French film critics called as the best director of 1964.

(A) George Bourguignon (Sundays and Cbyale)

(B) George Cukor

(C) Jerry Lewis

(D) Michael Cagocyanis (Zorba The Greek)

Answer—(C) Jerry Lewis. Don't laugh.

The French are extremely pernickety about directors. From a Gallic point of view, direction is the name of the movie game. They bestow the honor with the solemnity of a coronation.

They chose Lewis as director of the year for the artistry and imagination with which he put together "The Nutty Professor."

The fact that the star of the picture was comedian Jerry Lewis had no bearing on the award. There is, in fact, a tremendous difference between director Lewis and the funny man on the screen.

Watching Lewis direct is a revelation.

He appears to be everywhere at once, guiding, advising, demonstrating. He rides the camera boom, his eye fastened to the view finder. More importantly, Lewis doesn't clown around. He is all business.

His innovations and experiments may revolutionize directing.

Lewis is the first to use closed circuit television and video tape in a soundstage for movies.

He directs a scene, then watches the same scene as the film in the movie camera. Instead of shooting the scene over and over again, gambling that he will get one good "take" from the rushes, director Lewis is known as the answer "right away."

The process saves hours and hours of work, frustration, and the need for expensive retakes. And he knows the picture is completed.

It's a fantastic asset to performers' Lewis said on the set of his new epic, "The Family Jewels." "It works almost like a mirror. Actors can apply themselves after they see their mistakes. It eliminates the guesswork."

"Sometimes I shoot ten takes or more before I get what I want. And when I'm acting in a scene as well as directing, it covers my own blind spots."

Margaret Wright

Margaret Amelia Wright entered into rest at the Rever's Nursing Home at Little Britain on Friday, February 19th, 1965 in her 80th year.

Born at Penik, Mariposa Township, she was the daughter of the late Thomas Smith and Mary Jane McDonald, and beloved wife of the late Thomas Edward Wright.

She was married in 1903, and lived on a farm on the 1st. concession of Ope Township until ten years ago. She was a member of Cambury Free Church and took an active part in the church choir for many years.

Margaret Wright is survived by two sons, Ross of Richmond Hill, and Clave of Oakwood, as well as five grandchildren and five great grandchildren. She is also survived by one sister, Miss Bertie Smith, Weston. Three brothers, Clarke, John and Alfred and three sisters, Martha (Mrs. Nokes), Mary (Strickland) and Lizzie are predeceased.

The funeral was held from the Stoddard Funeral Home at 2:30 p.m. February 22nd. Rev. Fred Lane conducted the service with interment at Riverside vault.

Palbearers were Orville Wright, Benjamin Wright, Hugh Dundas, Cecil S. Grant, Terrill and Archie Fox.

Imaginative camera techniques and elaborate preparation also stamp Lewis-directed pictures. When the picture is completed, Jerry doesn't turn his movie over to a cutter or film editor. He takes the film home or to his yacht and cuts and edits the final version himself.

Gratified because he recognized his own worth and gained behind the camera, but no one else appeared to notice.

Now the toughest critics in the world have given him his due. "It means a great deal to me," he said. "It's a tremendous honour."

Bilingual Twaddle

Canadian newspapers should introduce a policy of bilingualism, Leonard Gindoff, chairman of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission said Saturday. Addressing the Progressive Conservative Association of Eastern Ontario, Mr. Gindoff, who represents Stormont riding in the Ontario Legislature, said, "The greatest vehicle for communicating is none other than newspapers themselves."

"We can and should insist that all French-language daily newspapers publishing 20 or more pages carry one full page in English. And we can insist that all English newspapers publish one page in French."

He went on to suggest dailies publishing less than 20 pages should publish a half page in the opposite language while weeklies should publish 500 to 1,000 words in the opposite language in each edition.

"What foolish bilingual twaddle is being spoken now?" Who would write the material in the other language Mr. Gindoff? Who would proofread it? Who would pay for the typesetting to get the accented characters for the English language papers? More to the point, who would read it? A French-Canadian isn't going to bother with a page in an English paper, nor is an English Canadian going to bother with a page in a French Canadian paper. It is like trying to teach a language by the use of bilingual jam and cereal box labels!

"By daily exposing a second language to millions of Canadians through the press of Canada, we can tear down the language and cultural curtain which hangs heavy on the road to final unity between a united country," Mr. Gindoff said.

What a feeble, nonsensical, pettifogging attempt to extend the French language and cultural curtain which hangs heavy on the road to final unity between a united country, Mr. Gindoff said. It is not however a second official language of Canada, never has been, and we hope never will be. We have enough problems already in this country without trying to make a vast domain bilingual when less than a half are effectively concentrated in one province speak French.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

Foreign news commentary

By Phil Newson

(U.P.)—Along the side of the road south of Seoul on that bitterly cold day in January, 1951, the bodies of Korean civilians dead in what seemed now an endless row.

Never to be forgotten by this correspondent was the body of a child, beautiful even in death. She lay still against her mother's back in her costume of soft blues, pink and red silk. The report her expression suggested she never felt the bullets when they hit.

This was part of the sickness of that war—the thousands of refugees swept helplessly along on a death-dealing tide, frequently the unwitting allies of Communist infiltrators awaiting only the proper moment to whip a submarine gun from beneath their quilted jackets to ambush an unwary Turk, Greek, British or American or another Korean.

A bullet has no selectivity and no the innocent fell along with the guilty, the transgressor and the transgressed. In South Viet Nam also, the innocent fell along with the guilty, and, to quote a news conference conducted by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

"On one occasion the Viet Cong had seized a village, was holding the villagers in hostage and was firing through these villagers at mixed crowds outside the village."

"The decision was made to employ tear gas, in order to avoid the problem of whether to use artillery or aerial bombs that would inflict great damage upon innocent people."

Tear gas is not designed to spread cheer among its victims. Nonetheless, even they must say that a few moments of discomfort is preferable to the eternity that comes with a bullet.

So between the two there can be no argument about which is the most humane.

But there were other unfortunate aspects.

Among a large section of the American people and among allies of the United States there was dismay that gas in any form should be used in the escalating war in Viet Nam.

There was dismay that the tear gas had been used without prior knowledge in Washington.

And there was a fear that the use of gas in any form also could escalate. In Washington, the disclosure caused visiting Foreign Minister Michael Stewart by surprise. From London came a strong chorus of demands from Laborite members of parliament that he condemn the U.S. action. Stewart was either that he stated and charged—either that he supported a U.S. policy of which he was ignorant or that he opposed members of his own party.

In Rome, Italian Foreign Secretary Amintore Fanfani said that even the use of non-lethal gas could raise doubts among the "free informed" about the validity of the U.S. cause in South Viet Nam.

In the headquarters of United Press International in New York is a teletypewriter which receives dispatches from the Russian News Agency Tass. It has been having a field day.

Hour after hour, day after day it has been grinding out Soviet propaganda accusing the United States of using anti-U.S. demonstration anywhere in the world.

Communists have given an invaluable propaganda weapon.

Income Tax Anyone?

by Professor Tax

"My husband is self-employed, and files a business income tax form, but for the last 18 months in the winter was employed by another person. Is it permissible to add a business income and give full particulars of it on his business income tax form or must there be something different about it? If so, how does one get a deduction on his income tax return and will include a statement of his own business operations. The profit resulting from his business will be shown on page 2 of the tax return. In addition, the wages earned by him in the 2 month period, will also be shown on page 2 of the return. How will be shown opposite "wages, salaries, etc." If a T-4 earnings slip is issued by his employer, one copy should be attached to the return.

"I wish to know if I can get a deduction on my income tax for 1984 as I have five boarders. All of them are old age pensioners and three of them are diabetics. I receive from each of them $35 per month. —L.M.J.

No deduction for these 5 boarders may be claimed on your income tax return. You do not support them because they are boarders and pay you $35 each per month. However, it would appear that this board of $275 will be taxable in your hands. You can, of course, deduct a portion of house expenses and food expenses to feed these people. The net profit from this latter (expenses) is taxable and must be included on your own personal tax return.

READERS are invited to send their questions concerning their income tax to "INCOME TAX ANYONE?" c/o Lindsay Daily Post, Lindsay.

World news today

Tangier, Morocco (UPI) — A Spanish theria airliner carrying tourists on a charter flight, plunged into the Atlantic Ocean in a thick fog 10 days after the entrance to the Strait of Gibraltar. Fifty-four persons were aboard.

First reports said there were only three survivors.

The plane, a twin-engine Convair, carried 49 passengers and a crew of five. The survivors were identified as passengers. Most of those aboard were Danish and Swedish tourists.

American, British and Moroccan rescue crews launched an air-sea search for survivors. Planes from the U.S. Navy base at Rota on the Spanish coast participated.

Six hours after the crash, no sign of the wreckage was reported.

A spokesman for Iberia, Spain's national airlines, said the plane was en route to Tangier from Malaga, a city on the Spanish coast 160 air miles away.

The plane plunged into the Atlantic about three miles off Cape Spartel near Tangier.

The crash occurred about 8:55 a.m. (2:55 a.m. EST) about an hour after the plane left Malaga.

Saigon, Viet Nam — U.S. and South Vietnamese war planes bombed and destroyed an airbase in North Viet Nam just hours after the terrorist bombing of the U.S. embassy in Saigon in the bloodiest attack against Americans in the Viet Nam war, the Communist terrorist bomb killed 17 persons and wounded more than 150. There were indications the United States was planning some form of massive retaliation.

Savannah, Ga. — Lagoon army troops ended a five-day battle with rebels by forcing young premier Phoumi Noyan. Reports reaching here said many of the 500 rebel troops who had occupied the village Thabkuk surrendered without resistance.

Refugees fled north to join another rebel unit at Pakse.

One sampan was captured while the other fled in the direction of the Indonesian island of Rho, south of Singapore.

Are you unhappy because you didn't receive your income tax form?
Are you unhappy because you lost it?

Cheer up.
You can get one at the Post Office.

If you've changed your address, or did not receive a return last year, you may not receive an income tax form in the mail. It isn't that we forgot you. It's just that we don't know where you are — yet. So we've made sure that there are lots of extra forms at all local Post Offices (or if it's handier, your District Taxation Office). They aren't the new Personalized income tax forms. But you'll have that to look forward to next year.

Maybe you did receive an Income Tax Form in the mail and now you can't find it. Seems a pity to lose it. That's why your Personalized form and had your own identification code number on it. Why don't you have one last look before you go to get another plain old everyday tax form from the Post Office.

MAILED TO YOU.
COMPLETED BY YOU.
RETURNED BY YOU.

KNOWING MAKES THE DIFFERENCE

The difference when you build a cattle breeding program around Artificial Insemination proven sires rather than other sire is knowing.

Knowing your dairy heifers will milk
Knowing your beef steers will grow

There's no need to gamble with your herd's future. Sires are available whose offspring have already been tested by hundreds of Ontario breeders and proven superior in all conditions. These sires are co-operatively owned to give you, at lowest cost, calves that will earn more and calves you'll be proud of.

Bethany

Miss Mabel Horn has returned to her home in the village after spending the winter months at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hill, One-true.

Rev. Howard Staples, of Peterborough, was the guest speaker in the Reabro Baptist Church, on Sunday. He chose as his text, "Recluse as I verse." The theme of his inspirational talk was to use one's talents for humanity and live today-as yesterday never comes again, and one should always take time to say a kind word or do a good deed.

The choir under the direction of Mrs. Gordon Morton and Mrs. Douglas Burke sang an anthem.

The speaker next Sunday will be the general secretary of the Ontario and Quebec Baptist Association.

UNDER THE PEACE TOWER

By Jack Van Dusen

Ottawa, (UPI) — A doctor member of parliament has come up with a way to lose weight by eating all you want — of the right kinds of food.

"The 'painless' diet is the creation of Dr. William D. Howe, New Democratic member for Hamilton South, and the 'right food' isn't crackers and water.

His menus include steaks, milk and cream and even liquor — but with no-calorie mixes, such as tonic, soda or water.

It's a man's diet, too, one that doesn't leave you with that hollow, worn-out feeling. Does it work?

Conservative Whip Eric Winkler dropped from 226 pounds to 193 in 6 weeks. Dr. Howe trimmed down from 220 pounds to 172 and cut his waistline by 11 inches in two months.

Hefly Murdo Martin, the NDP member for Timmins, slimmed down from 268 to 247 in 10 weeks "with seven inches and seven notches off my belt line."

This is what you can eat.

Any kind of meat; milk and cream, fish and eggs, butter and margarine. Leafy vegetables—lettuce, cabbage and spinach. Stem vegetables—aspargus, celery and broccoli.

In your coffee or tea, use saccharine and no sugar—but there's no limit on the cream.

This is balanced by vitamin C—ascorbic acid—and you can buy a whole year's supply of tablets at a drug store for about $2 much cheaper than the cost of oranges. Another "balancer" is vegetable oil, a half-teaspoon a day on salad or "straight."

This is what you can eat. Any dessert, bread, fruit or fruit juices or seed vegetables, such as peas and beans. Stay away from root vegetables—potatoes, turnips, potatoes. And don't touch anything else containing sugar, starch or flour.

Of the foods you can eat, you can consume all you want at any sitting. You don't have to fight that empty feeling. Murdo Martin, for example, has a breakfast of six bacon slices, four sausages and three eggs.

Winkler settles for a steak. Dr. Howe says the secret of his diet is that it eliminates almost all carbohydrate—sugar, starch and flour.

"Our bodies are unable to use carbohydrates," he says, "and therefore they are converted to fat and stored, usually around the waist."

In his diet "we lost that fat and the fat only, while building up muscle, blood and other tissue, with no loss of energy, no fatigue or drive or tennising or zest for life."

And once the fat is gone "you stop losing weight and remain constant at your natural and correct level."

Winkler found only one fault.

"I went down around the waist so fast, I couldn't get my suits taken in quickly enough to match the belt-line shrinkage."

A blood transfusion can save a life. The Red Cross Transfusion Service is free to Canadians at home or in the United States.

WILL YOU DONATE THE RIGHT TO LIVE?

Many times the only thing that can save a life is the right to live. It is expected that the Red Cross Memorial Hospital will need 1,000 bottles of blood during the 1965. In the past years the hospital has received 799 bottles of blood. As a matter of fact not many more than 300 different donors contributed the 799 bottles. All of those were summer tourists.

Will you donate the right to live? Remember the date. Plan to attend the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic at Cambridge Hall, April 7 during the afternoon or evening from 2 to 9 p.m.

Any healthy person between the age of 18 and 65 may contribute. It is estimated that at least 35% of our population is of donor age. Road signs claim 5.30 and 7 to 9 p.m.

By contributing to the Easter Seal Campaign you join with volunteers such as this to help crippled children. There are more than 16,000 crippled children in Ontario who are relying on the Easter Seal Campaign to provide the funds needed for the many services that they must have to help them achieve a goal of self reliance. Volunteers by the thousands help every day. Easter Seal donors are asked just this once, to give a little, to help a lot for the sake of crippled children.

A good picture of an adult is one which captures the personality by which friends know and identify that person. To take good pictures of adults, shoot while they are engaged in some personal activity, such as sewing.

Adults, whose personality starting directly into the camera and interests are well developed, offer great promise as photogenic subjects. What's the secret behind successful photographs of grown-ups?

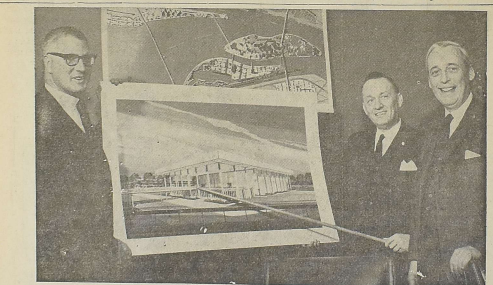

First, try to take unposed pictures, shoot when your subject is engrossed in some personal activity, such as sewing, reading, walking or just plain thinking. Try to take pictures unposed, try to be persuasive and get your subject relaxing through casual conversation. Tell him to resume his activity and keep him from reading, walking or just thinking. Here, even conversation can help you. Use it to keep your subject's mind off the camera.

It's difficult to be sneaky, so that the light falls just across his nose to illuminate the side of the face away from the eyes, but once again, a good conversation can take the subject's mind off the camera.

Thirdly, pay attention to the lighting. Adults are best photographed in soft lighting without the presence of harsh shadows. Overcast cloudy bright days are good for close-ups because they eliminate shadows and subject squinting.

Side lighting is good for posing the subject — before you take the picture!

Women's Mission

Circle meet at

Fenelon Falls

Fenelon Falls (PNS) — Mrs. R. Webster presided at the March meeting of the Women's Mission Circle of Fenelon Falls Fellowship Baptist Church, which was held at the home of Mrs. M. Dewell with fifteen present.

Following the singing of a hymn, with Mrs. Glen Webster at the piano, Mrs. Webster led in prayer. Mrs. Wilbert Dewell conducted an interesting Bible quiz which was followed by a piano solo by Mrs. Webster.

During the business period, minutes of the April meeting were read by Mrs. Dalky. These contained a short but interesting account of the talk given by Mrs. John Bell on the 23rd psalm. Mrs. Dalky reported on the shower for the nursery and there was a discussion regarding this. Letters from Miss Mary Sauer, Miss Della May Watson and Miss Margaret Mikulsky, missionaries, were read by Mrs. Sneddon. Mrs. Ivan Dewell and Mrs. Dalky.

As well as recounting items of interest, these letters contained prayer requests, and in response to those requests and for all missionaries, prayers were offered by Mrs. Dalky and Mrs. Webster.

Mrs. A. McEwen gave an interesting reading from Home Life magazine. This dealt with the problem of bad language and offered suggestions for parents.

Mrs. Dalky and Mrs. J. Dewell brought a delightful message in song after which Mrs. W. Dewell conducted a second Bible Quiz.

FINANCIAL HELP
Much financial help has been given over the years to the Cambray Library, Community hall, Arena and the park. The hall kitchen was furnished, curtains and tables supplied and in later years the hall has been painted inside and outside and a new heating system installed. Financial assistance was given to the building of the new arena and catering to the booth giving half the proceeds to the Arena Board each year. Donations are given to the Red Cross, Cancer fund, Sick Children's hospital and also to the Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay when the new maternity wing was built and again in 1955 when the last addition was built. During the two world wars the members worked hard in sending comfort to the boys overseas, through the Red Cross.

During the last four years the Institute has sponsored the 411 "Homemaking Club", two each year. Help has always been given when needed to first victims, bereaved families and the sick and shut-ins remembered with cards and sunshine boxes. For a number of years delegates have attended the convention in Toronto or sponsored a bus for one day, also bus trips to places of interest for the members and have been joined by neighbouring branches on those trips.

In 1930 the 25th anniversary was celebrated in the community hall with 200 in attendance, including visitors from other W.I. branches. Nine of the first year charter members were present. In 1955 the 50th anniversary was celebrated and five of the charter members were present.

CAMPING IS A WAY OF LIFE- FOR HUNDREDS OF CRIPPLED CHILDREN

For hundreds of crippled children in Ontario — camping is a way of life — and the annual Easter Seal campaign has made these camping experiences possible.

For a short period, a child with a physical disability attending one of the five camps operated by the Ontario Society for Crippled Children, lives in a relaxed atmosphere away from the restrictions of the classroom or hospital routine. He learns something of democracy through the camp experience, where his representative helps to plan the programme or, as captain of his cabin, he learns to accept responsibility and feels very proud when his cabin wins the pennant.

The physically handicapped child finds himself doing things at camp which he had not thought possible since the emphasis is on participation. At camp the crippled child finds the motivation to try a little harder, he becomes more independent himself and even learns to give a hand to those more handicapped than he.

Through his camping experience the handicapped child finds a new way of life. Easter Seal funds have given crippled children a camping holiday for twentyfive years.

A gift to the Easter Seal campaign could contribute to this exceptional holiday. This is just one of the ways in which Easter Seal funds help crippled children.

April Bride Feted Prior to Marriage

Woodville (PNS) — A bridal shower in honour of Miss Doris Kett took place on Friday evening in the Woodville United Church basement. The basement was tastefully decorated with green and yellow streamers. Upon arrival the bride, bride's mother Mrs. Charles Kett and the groom's mother Mrs. James Salmon all received a yellow corsage.

Mrs. Ruth Murray acted as chairman for the evening and the programme opened with a song song led by Mrs. Ethel Murray and accompanied by Mrs. Walter Russell. Mrs. Howard Metherell gave a reading which Miss Anne Wallace rendered two lovely solo songs. Donna Steele then conducted a game in which the ladies present supplied Doris with advice for a happy marriage. Mrs. Helen Torry gave a humorous version of the wedding write-up during which the audience supplied descriptive adjectives. Mrs. Hazel McInnis read the address and Mrs. Russell played the wedding march while Mrs. Gill Slaggett escorted the bride to her place of honour. Girl friends of the bride helped her open the many bows and ribbons off her gifts. Doris thanked everyone most graciously. "For She Is A Jolly Good Fellow" was sung and a dainty lunch served by the hostesses.

A British firm of fine bone china manufacturers, which is making the limited edition "Churchill Vase", has received an order for 3,000 pieces worth some $20,000 from the Arcadia Importing Company, Montreal. In the London, England showrooms of Thomas Goode and Company (London) Ltd., an example of the vase is examined by Alex Mendel, President, Arcadia Importing Company. Mrs. Mendel and Philip Hayner, Managing Director of Thomas Goode and Company, who commissioned the vase. The idea of the Churchill Vase was to mark the late Sir Winston's 90th birthday and the design was approved by him personally. The vase records his links with the United States as well as the highlights of his long career.

New York, (UPI) — Sounds tapping the ear drums denude the horror of darkness for nearly 3,000 blind persons nationwide.

About 1,000 of these are students in colleges and 1,400 are sightless adults engaged in adult education or vocational training.

Now they are helped to learn-through-the-ears in classes ranging from nuclear physics to law is a story of man's humanity to man.

The ear-books are produced by the National Federation of the Blind (NFB), a national non-profit organization which records books and other educational material, free of charge, for any blind student or adult in vocational or professional training.

It co-operates with, but does not duplicate, the talking book programme of the Library of Congress — which does not include educational texts.

RFB recently is recording more than 1,800 titles a year. Its library now has some 49,000 text book titles on disc-making for a collection of recorded education books with out equal.

About 2,400 volunteers read the books into the speaker of a tape recorder. They include housewives, lawyers, doctors, teachers, scientists, businessmen.

A book on atomic energy, for example, wouldn't be recorded by a non-specialist. It calls for an expert. The organization has such experts on deck. Most of the volunteers have a college education or equivalent. About 1,600 volunteers are tested a year — and half are accepted.

All readers are monitored. That is, another volunteer with a 2nd copy of the book follows the reading, operates the tape recorder. The monitor's position is as vital as that of the reader, the RFB reports.

In addition to the New York Headquarters, RFB operates recording units at 15 locations nationwide.

The tapes are sent to New York and transcribed onto disc-playable on the phonograph or talking book machine which Uncle Sam provides free to the blind. The books are recorded at the request of the students. About one hour's reading is put on each seven-inch disc. An average textbook of 500 pages takes about 15 discs and is about the same size as an ordinary book and just as easily handled.

Serving a typical college course costs about $200 a year — about eight new talking books. The money comes from donations and grants from foundations.

Janice Kay Hattenford, an attorney for a life insurance firm in Fort Wayne, Ind., had some help from RFB. She was blinded in 1949 at the age of 10.

In the basis of her distinguished record in law school, she received the RFB's H. Scholastic Achievement Award.

Speaking of another student who has been helped by RFB, a counsellor in a New York City High School said:

"These recordings have been absolute life savers for Shirley. You might be interested to know that Shirley maintained the following grades—English, 92 per cent; math, 97 per cent; social studies, 95 per cent; general science, 97 per cent; math, 91 per cent."

Many using the RFB distinguish themselves academically.

There are some 17,000 blind children in schools across the nation.

RFB is in the process of expanding its facilities to serve a larger number of them.

DOG'S LIFE BEFORE

ANTIVETERINARIANS

You get into the middle of a hassle between violently disagreeing groups and you are likely to get shot at with poisoned arrows. For example, being a physician, I took a stand here on a number of occasions in favour of the life of a child as against that of an experimental animal. Although I agreed that the care of laboratory animals should be kind and as comforting as possible under the circumstances, I did not go along with antivegetarianism. I was against any experiment on animals at all. They did not like my stand. Others did.

These interested one way or another, will please take note of the following letter, recently received from the secretary of a national research organization.

Dear Dr. Steiner: I have read your column you said: "I cannot conceive any parent putting his child through the rigors of a survey. The why of them before that of their child."

On July 10, 1949, a well-known newspaper, published the results of a survey. The astounding thing was that put it simply. Cholecystitis four out of five antivegetarians means inflammation of the gall bladder. If this is chronic, the chances are that the function of the gall bladder is low. So it is not uncommon, in such instances, when the patient suffers discomfort, to remove a gall bladder even if there are no stones.

The replies from the antivegetarians in this case seem to be typical of the members of the cult who write letters to editors and legislators urging that life-saving research be stopped or curtailed. Their letters do not radiate compassion, but rather rage. Any fondness they might feel for animals seems incidental to their raging hatred of scientists or, perhaps, mankind in general. Mr. R.

GALL BLADDER

Dear Dr. Steiner: Will you explain chronic cholecystitis and cholelithiasis? I recently underwent surgery for removal of my gall bladder and I saw this on the chart.

Comment: Tell your doctor you are greatly concerned and would like another opinion in consultation. Lumps in the breast deserve considerable respect. A probable diagnosis is not sufficient.

On the other hand, cholelithiasis means stones in the gall bladder. As these are rarely present in a gall bladder which is free from chronic inflammation, you underwent surgery for the combination of the two. You had both chronic cholecystitis and cholelithiasis. I'd better stop before I confuse you completely.

Dear Dr. Steiner: I went to my family doctor for a lump in my breast. He said not to worry that it was probably nothing at all. The lump seems to be getting larger. I am worried. What shall I do?

Mrs. D. Comment: Tell your doctor you are greatly concerned and would like another opinion in consultation. Lumps in the breast deserve considerable respect. A probable diagnosis is not sufficient.

DRY-FLY FISHING IN SWIFT CURRENTS

When stream fish are feeding on a swift, water, or below a rocky waterfall, they must grab their food quickly before they escape with the current. This fish flies quickly and they must reach the water with the hard stroke. Use a sink fly and so fish can spot it quickly. A sink fly is a fly that sinks to the bottom of the stream to the head of the stretch to its head by swift currents.

STOP!... killing yourself

CAT STORY THAT IS NO OLD VIVES TALE

From a conventional reader comes this story about a cat and a baby. It is the tale of a nightmare. Is it real? I leave it up to you. Cat-haters will say, "Of course it's real! Cat-lovers will put the box on me for even printing it. Well, here it is, word for word, as received."

Dear Dr. Steinhorn: In a recent column you mentioned that cats jumping into baby's crib and sucking their breath, thereby taking it away and causing many mysterious baby deaths, was an old wives tale. Sure about that. Well, please allow me to tell you of a true incident which happened to my 2-year-old daughter some time ago.

We had moved into a new house and I had a new upstairs bedroom. Sure about that. Well, please allow me to tell you of a true incident which happened to my 2-year-old daughter some time ago.

One day the lady (owner) appeared and had a grown, clean, pretty cat in her arms and asked me if we would like it as they were unable to keep it in the city. Seeing that it was full-grown, clean, etc., we accepted the cat. Everything seemed all right until one afternoon when I put the child to sleep in their cribs up stairs for their afternoon nap, leaving the bedroom door slightly ajar so I could hear. Well, all of a sudden I was frightened almost to death, as I heard the weirdest screaming coming from the upstairs bedroom where the children were sleeping.

FRIGHTENING SCENE
I ran upstairs and opened the bedroom door, to my horror there was my 2-year-old daughter lying flat on her back and this full-grown cat, feet spread apart, two on her chest and the back legs firmly planted on her stomach, its tail straight out, stiff as a board and eyes bulging and the cat's face into my daughter's, sucking her breath in and out, paying absolutely no attention to my presence. My daughter was so frightened she lay limp.

Fortunately, my younger brother had just dropped in, I suggest it's possible she saw it called downstairs for him to hurry, something terrible was happening upstairs here. He came in seconds and couldn't believe what he saw.

He opened the bedroom window wide, after removing the screen, and picked up that cat which was clinging like a mad animal to my daughter, and with great force flung that cat out of the upstairs window. We have never had it since. I would never have believed this story, but when it happens in your own home to your own child, it isn't an old wives tale any more. It's real. I've often wondered what I would have done if I were alone. God must have told my brother to stop in that day. Mrs. L.

all on the scene. Horror movies, you will admit are ghoul-ish and nightmares. So is reality, sometimes.

Comment: In printing this, perhaps I'm being unfair to tens of thousands of gutless cats which are fine pets and comforting companions. No, my daughter, sucking her breath in and out, paying absolutely no attention to my presence. My daughter was so frightened she lay limp.

CHECKUP
About thirty months ago a lot of good resolutions were made — and broken. If those resolutions concerned your health, having a medical or dental checkup, renew that resolution and carry it out.

Simply, distinction, beauty and good taste are all present in a Stoddart conducted dental service. They have always been noted for the simple beauty of their services. These features, plus moderate charges, make Stoddart the choice of leading families for over 70 years.
